

Heather Brooks, Rob Wrigley, Ingrid Vanderschot, Brian Arthur, Darcy Cole

R.N.A. graduate

Joanne Distler

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Distler of RR#4 St. Marys, are pleased to announce the graduation of their oldest daughter, Joanne from the R.N.A. Nursing Diploma program St. Clair College, Windsor, Ont. Presently, she is attaining her Pharmacology diploma at Northern College, Kirkland Lake, Ont.

Love and congratulations, Mom, Dad, Pauline, Marianne and Carol Ann.

Browns WI learn about folk art

The Nov. meeting of Browns Womens Institute was held at Browns school with large number of members and several guests attending.

President Nancy West opened with a poem on Indian Summer.

The Roll call, What is your Winter Project, drew many comments from starting new quilts and afghans to completing some of last years projects.

Some comments were just to make it through the winter. The motto, God gave us two ends. With one we sit, with one we muse. Success depends on which one we use. Heads you win, tails you lose was very capably commented on by Edythe Howe.

A very interesting talk and demonstration was given by Carol Dawson of St. Marys on folk art. After explaining and showing several articles which she had painted, each lady was given an opportunity to try her hand at painting a rose.

Donna Wakem, convenor of the education and cultural activities group, read a humorous reading entitled life begins at 80.

A delicious lunch of fruit bread and cheese was served by the group in charge.

The second euchre party of the season was held at Browns school with nine tables playing. High scores were Anna Armstrong and Bill Robinson; low scores were Lexie Harris and Robert Burgess; lone hands were Mel Monteith and Edna Facey. Lucky cup was won by Grant Johnson. The next euchre will be Dec. 3rd at 8:30.

GLADYS MOSSEY, left, and Clara Taylor hold up one of the violets on sale at the Friendship Centre bazaar Sunday afternoon. The plants offered for sale were contributed by Leonard Bragg.