

Browns UCW hold potluck

Browns Institute and U.C.W. members and visitors met at Browns school for their Christmas potluck dinner on Dec. 1.

Mrs. George Towle welcomed everyone followed by Rev. Jean Baker leading in prayer. Joyce Burgess, convener of church in society and her group served the delicious pot luck dinner.

The president read a history of the laying of Browns corner stone written by Maude Brown.

Mrs. Ray Brockelbank, convener of institute social group, read a poem Christmas Greetings. Mrs. John Conway, accompanied by Annie Uren, led in sing song.

Santa Claus arrived to help distribute Christmas gifts from the Christmas tree. Mrs. Ray Brockelbank introduced Rev. D.L. Howlett of the Canadian Bible Society. He showed a film entitled Winter is Past representing China, the most populated country of the world.

The Bible Society aims to distribute 24 million scripture items this year, ranging from Bibles to scripture selections. The institute convener thanked Rev. Howlett with a gift. The dinner closed with a poem entitled Christmas Wish.

Brown's Corners

Residents attend retirement party

Brown's Women's Institute held their regular euchre on Dec. 3.

High prize - Marguerite Jensen, Frank Levy; lone hands - Laura Webb, Harold McDonald; low score - Connie Monteith, Mel Monteith; lucky draw - Jean Robinson, Terry Barber.

Our last euchre of the year will be held on Dec. 17.

Many people from this area attended a retirement party for Verne Harvey on Dec. 6 at A.J. Baker School, Kintore.

Mr. Harvey is retiring as principal of A.J. Baker and Wildwood school on Dec. 18, the last day of school for this year.

Wishes are extended to Mr. Harvey for many years of good health in his retirement.

CAPTURE LEGION TOURNAMENT. St. Marys Firefighter Peewees went undefeated on Nov. 28 to win the annual Legion tournament in Mitchell. From left, front row: Jason Cassidy, Gregg Blackler, Kevin Tate, Bentley Murray and John Teahen. Middle row: Jason Moffat, Ryan Oakes, Dean Sorensen, David

Torbet, Jamie Osborne, Jeremy Slater and Billy Riordan. Back row: Damien McCotter, Jason Martin, Josh Lambourn and Mike McDonald. Absent are coach Bill Riordan, and assistants Ted Black and Dennis Martin.