

Oxford District Women's Institute holds 99th

annual meeting

Saturday, July 5, 2002, The Oxford Review

SUBMITTED PHOTO

Slate of officers for 2002-2003 are, back row from left to right, assistant secretary Sharryn Sharples, public relations Anya Donaldson, lobbying convenor Louise Baird, past president Margaret Lee. Front row, left to right, 2nd VP Ilene chesterman, Secretary-Treasurer Evelyn Arthur, president Sheila Greason, 3rd VP Carol Innes. Absent, 1st VP Janet Uren.

Oxford District's Women's Institute met recently at Brown's School in North Oxford. President Sheila Greason chaired the meeting with the theme on Nutrition Today.

Guest speaker Faye Telfer, a registered dietitian at St. Marys hospital, gave an informative talk on what we should be eating today. She stressed variety, fibre and reduction of salt in our diets.

Printed as well as oral reports were given with 8,362 volunteer hours being noted. Fourteen new members have joined this year across the county.

Many plans for the 100th anniversary are being made. A cook-book with recipes from present, former and deceased members is being planned. A banquet with special guests and entertainment is also being planned for June 2003 at the Elm Hurst in Ingersoll. The meeting concluded with election and installation of officers conducted by Fran Hyatt London Area President.

Graduation

Janet Uren

John, Jason and Jeffrey are pleased to announce the graduation of Janet Uren from Emmanuel College University of Toronto. Convocation was held May 14, 2009 at which time she received a Master of Divinity Degree. Janet has accepted a position at Corunna Pastoral Charge.

Good job Mom, all the best!