

W.I. scholarship winner SBV3-8

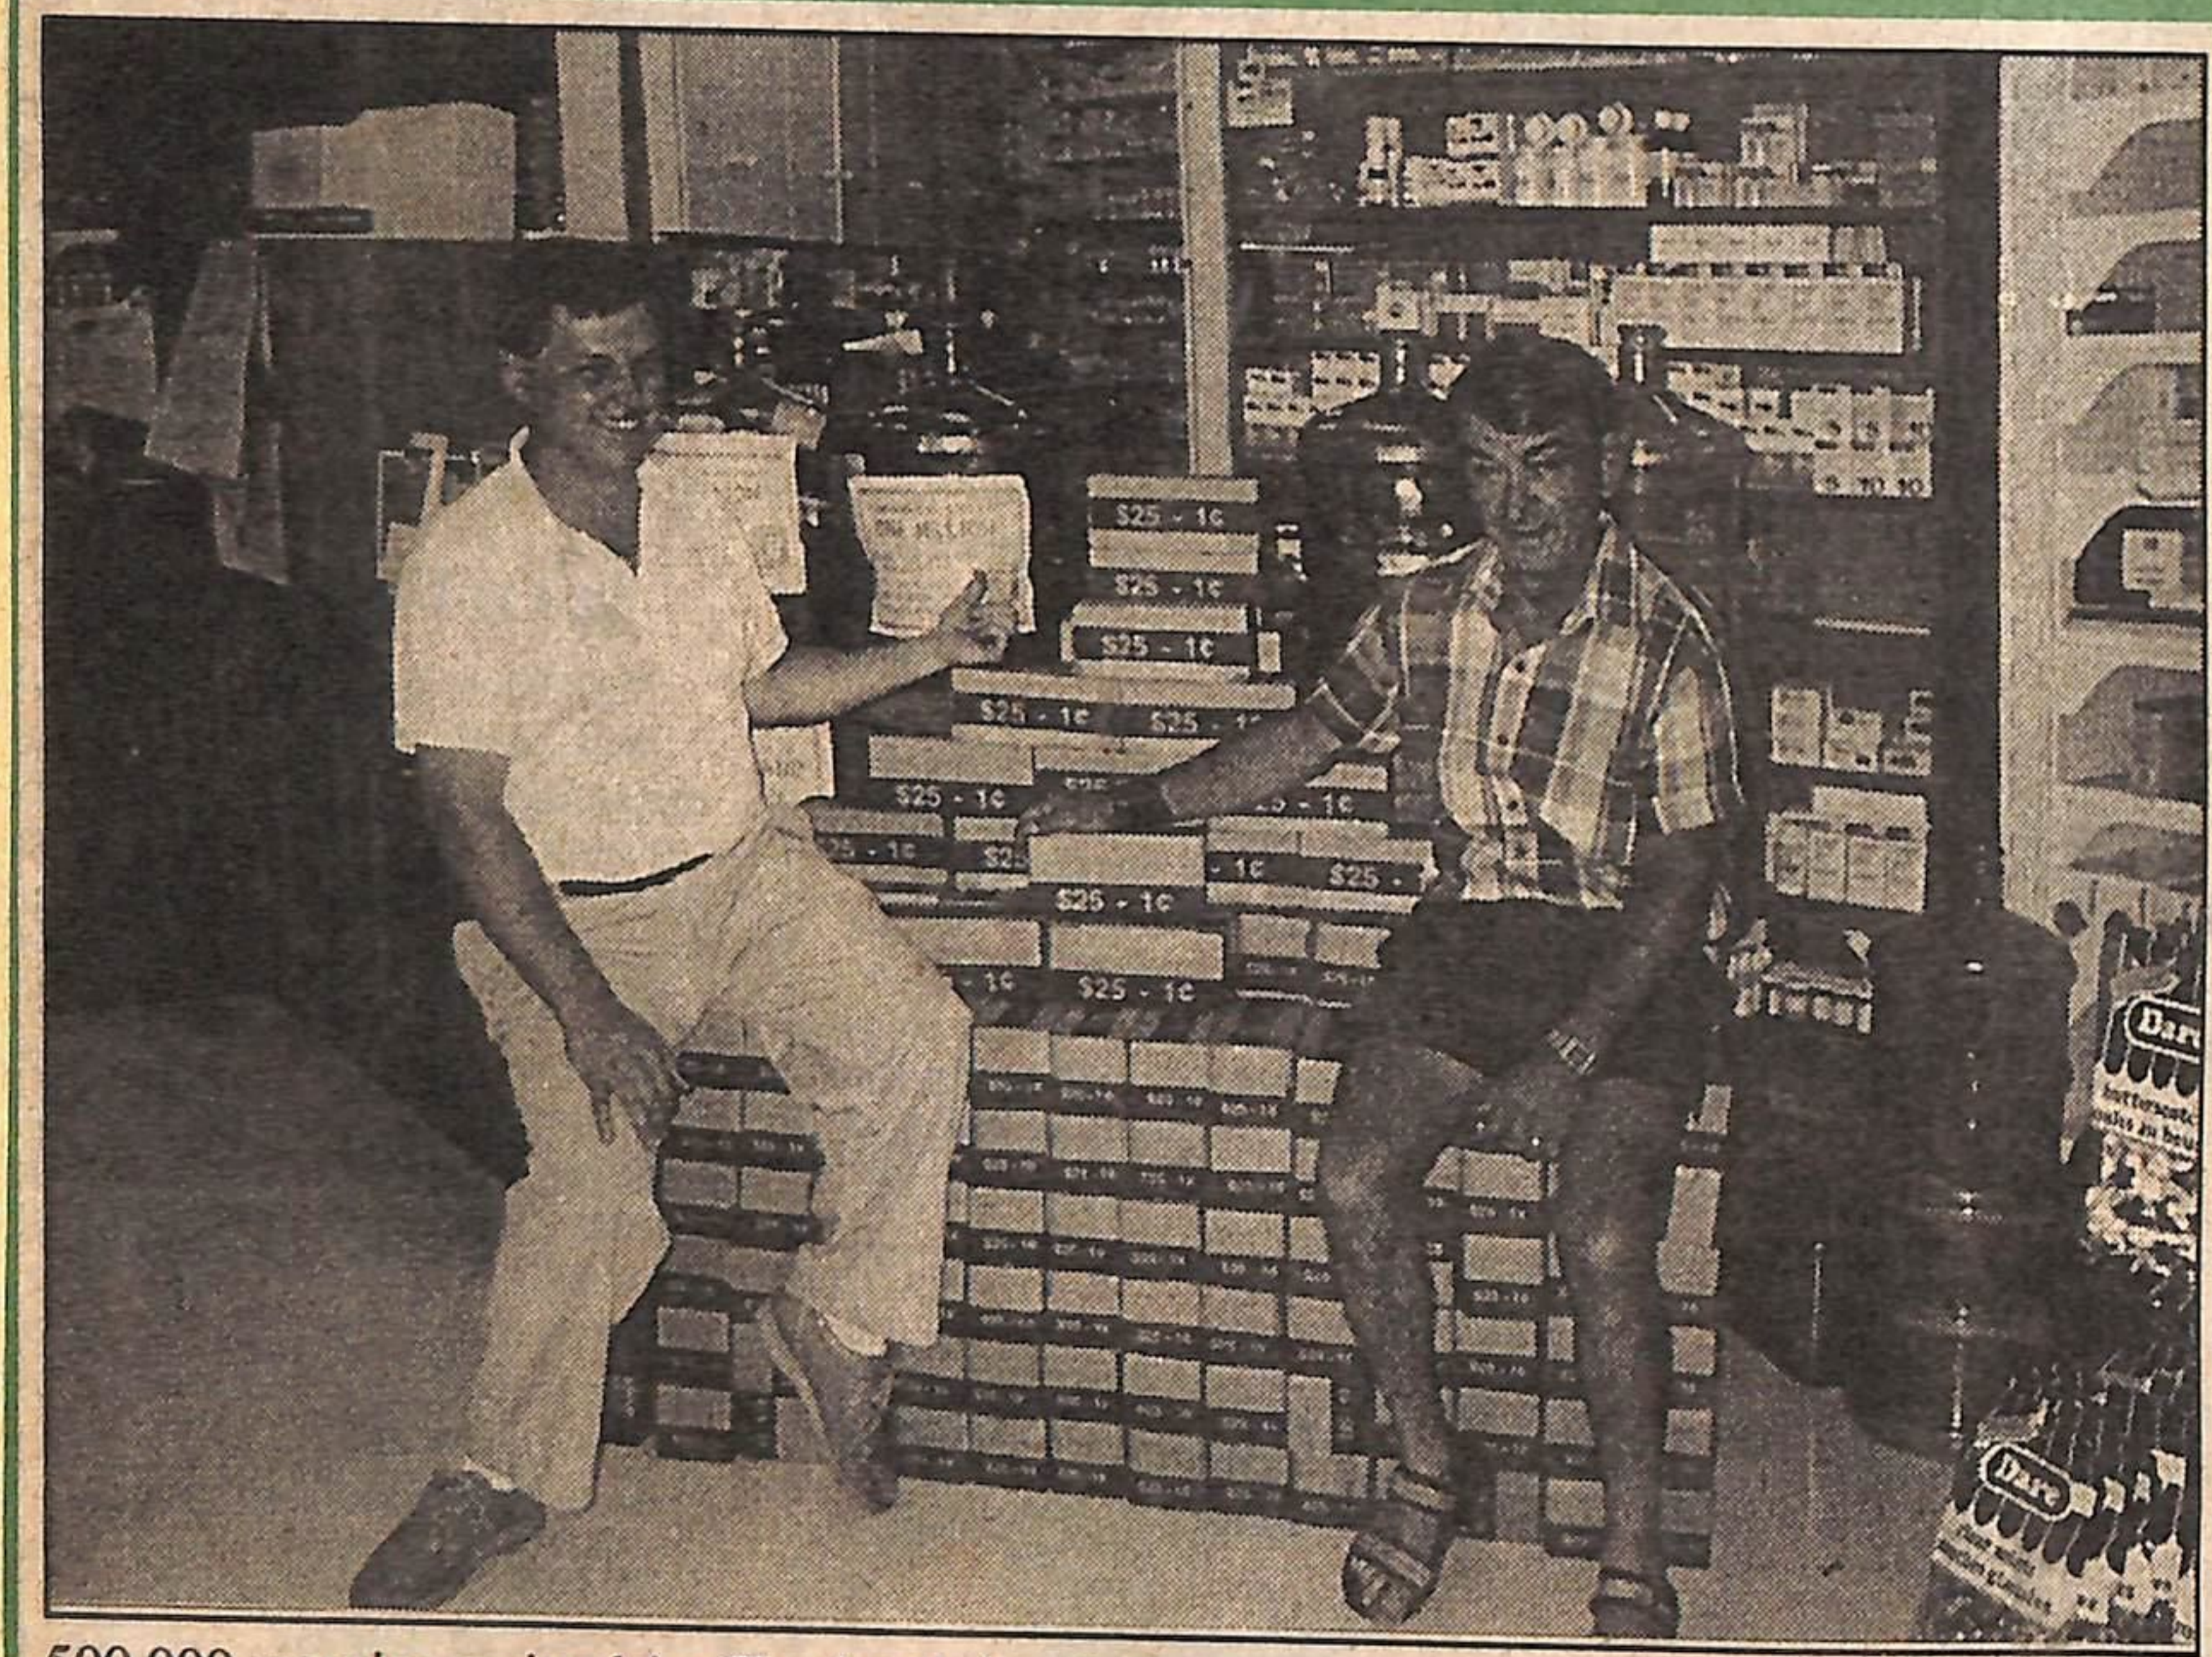

Bruce County Women's Institute Scholarship Committee member Marion Leifso (left) congratulates Sandy Keith, this year's recipient of a $225 Bruce County Women's Institute scholarship. Sandy Keith is a most deserving winner. As well as maintaining a high academic standing in her OAC studies at Chesley District High School, Sandy has represented the school at three Regional Science Fairs and two Canada-wide Science Fairs. She has been the recipient of a number of awards in past years for her science projects. She was also active in the school's yearbook, ski club, prom committee, as well as the school's baseball, soccer and table tennis house league teams. Away from school, she is active in 4-H, her church, Junior Farmers and is a member of the Agricultural Society. She plans to attend university in the fall to become an engineer.

Chesley Big Sisters' board member Margaret McDonald accepts $63 in cash from Darci Khoo, owner of DAD's restaurant in Chesley. The money to be used for Big-Little Sister activities represents the proceeds from a recent Snack Pak Nite at the restaurant, featuring Wayne and Sue. Another evening of entertainment is planned for this Friday, August 19 with proceeds to Chesley's Homecoming Committee

Lots and lots of pennies!

500,000 pennies arrived in Chesley July 19th! The pennies, neatly piled by Homecoming '95 co-chairmen Peter McElwain and Barry Woodyard are part of the $10,100 to be given away in the one million penny elimination draw which takes place at Chesley's Homecoming '95 kickoff dance at the Chesley Community Centre on August 20th! Tickets for the draw are only $10- make sure you get one today to have a chance to win! Penny raids, collection jars for pennies in downtown businesses and use of the penny collection bags are just some of the other ways the Homecoming Committee are getting one million pennies for the August 20th kickoff draw.

In 1980, she was Chesley's Centennial Queen. On Saturday evening, Beth Anne Currie, daughter of Ken and Eleanor Currie of Elderslie Township, was back in Chesley to congratulate the winners of the Homecoming Ambassador competition, Melodie Knapp and Darren Hachey. Beth Anne has travelled extensively around the world in last decade and has just arrived back in the area after living in Australia. "No matter where you find yourself, you are continually an Ambassador for Chesley," she told the audience. "I'm looking forward to Homecoming more than you can ever imagine!"
