

She had six children, ^{of which only one is} now living. Two are living in Toronto and one son has returned to this area in the Missionary work of the Anglican Church of Canada. He is the youngest son, the Reverend John Neil Lothian.

Mrs Lothian as far as the writer knows was always active and interested in the work of the Women's Institute. She was first president of the Branch at Kirkwall, Ont (near Galt); where she returned as guest of honour in 1957 for their fiftieth Anniversary.

She was active in the Institute life in the early years at Cochrane, but the writer does not know what offices (if any) she might have held there.

After moving to Monticith in 1916 she was most active in this work and held many offices during the twenty-three years she lived in that Community. While living there she was made a life member and was one of a group who sought to organize groups in other rural areas of the northland.

For many years ~~she~~ after moving to Toronto, she affiliated herself with the Scarborough Branch of the Institute until
