If one set out to dream up an exciting finish to a club activity, one would be hard pressed to come up with the real life finishes that took place in this year's Thamesford Optimist Tri-Star Hockey Competition. Placings in three of the age categories had to be determined by shoot-outs.

Randy Evans faced Jeremy Tomlinson and Brent Pike went against Jeff Martin but it took five separate shoot-outs between Trevor Novle and Greg Knox before Trevor could be declared the winner.

Tri-Star Hockey tests the shooting, skating and puck handling abilities of youngsters in various age groups. The competitions are open to both boys and girls.

Convenor Butch Foster and his assistants Ed Moran, youth activities chairman, Scott Henderson, Bob House, Bill Kamps, John Gerrits and Hartley Robinson, are to be congratulated for an excellent effort.

The number of entrants was down this year, but the skill levels were better and closer as shown by the number of ties in the point scores that caused the shoot-outs.

Results were: five and under - first, Kristy Clemens; second, Kyle Noble; third, Ben Huigenbos; six and seven years - first, Mike Knox; second, Shawn Huigenbos; eight to nine years - first, Vern Frampton; second, Trevor Novle; third, Greg Knox; 10 to 11 years - first, Brent Pike; second, Jeff Martin; third, Steve Ryall; 12 to 13 years - first, Mike Noble; second Brian Ward; third, Randy Evans; 14 and over - first, Todd Golding; second, Brand Robilliard; third, Ian Roberts.

The Optimists presented the first, second and third place finishers with medallions.
