

The Lakeside Lark

Thursday, March 31, 1966

Vol. XXII

6 Pages

Published Weekly

For, In and About Lakeside

Price 10¢

Feast for The Ears

From the opening prayer by Mr. Blackmore, through to "Will Ye No Come Back Agin", the musical evening held Friday evening was thrilling and scintillating listening to the large audience gathered in Lakeside United Church.

The wait for the performers to begin, seemed almost too short as Ethel Gregory played for us on the new Church organ.

Reg Hammersley and Alvin Worte were both at their brilliant best, both in their superb handling of the instrument, and in their choice of selections.

Lynn Fader sang beautifully and with feeling and her rendition of "Climb The Highest Mountain" left one gasping.

Were'nt the Gates twins, Cheryl and Lynda Gates charming? Especially their singing of "He"!

Many years ago I had the good fortune to live across from Angus McArthur and to hear him play the bagpipes nearly every evening and Friday evening's performance only proved it was possible even for one who played as well as he did to improve with practice.

Everyone - old and very young enjoyed the sprightly music of John McRobbie and Tom Mitchell - and it wasn't only the Gaelic toes that were tapping. I peeked!

All in all - it was a superlative evening and I repeat to all the performers, "Will ye no come back again?"

Chopper Chuckle

The Rev. Mr. Kerr of Embro provided a good many local husbands a chuckle and an answer to their wife's queries "I just can't seem to lose weight." with his story of the Scotchman who carries his wife's false teeth with him to "keep her from eating between meals."

Weather Forecast

Weather for the coming week - mostly a matter of "whether

Lakeside Abounds With Talent

More of our local talent was very much in evidence when a double quartet of local youngsters travelled to sing in the church in Welburn Sunday afternoon.

The youngsters, all Grade 8 students from The A.J. Beker Public School, are Margaret McCaul, Brian Pickering, Bob Johnson, Bill Pearson, Tim Ralph, David Sims, Darcy Irvine and Dany Irvine.

Swan Lake?

On Thursday evening, March 24 Crystal Lake was visited by a huge flock (?) of white SWANS.

There were about 150 of the graceful birds, which are believed to be "Whistling Swans."

They stayed only long enough to give a few of the villagers a chance to see and admire them.

Visitor

Little Miss Angela Hendriks is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Stewart, while her

Definition

Critic - One quick on the flaw.