

The Lakeside Lark

Vol. 103

Thursday, December 21, 1967

6 pages

Published Weekly

For, In and About Lakeside

Price 10¢

Editor Wears "Egg on Her Face"

I have been wrong before and I will undoubtedly be wrong again, but I sincerely hope I will never be "wronger" than when I erroneously reported that I "Had been charged $15.00 for the use of the Orange Hall."

I unfortunately, had the sum of $15.00 firmly implanted in my mind, perhaps because of the election being held in the building the day before, and without consulting anyone, I sent the money to the Lodge.

The Orange Hall has never charged anyone $15.00 for the use of the building and I alone am responsible for the mistake.

It is my hope that the Orange Lodge and any person or persons who were innocently involved because of my error will be kind enough to accept my sincerest apologies.

Seaton Barn Burned

Late Sunday afternoon fire suddenly broke out in the barn on John Seaton's farm, completely destroying the building.

The stock, with the help of friends and neighbours who quickly gathered at the scene, was saved. Besides the feed and grain and farm implements which were lost, many family keepsakes which had been stored in the barn were also lost.

The blaze, which appeared to have started in the upper part of the barn, spread too rapidly to be quenched by the St. Marys Fire Department who came.

Even the dense fog which surrounded this area on Sunday evening failed to blot out the glare of the fire, which could be seen for miles.

Weather Forecast

Would you believe a White Christmas?

Happy Birthday to -

- Mrs. Frank King - Dec. 23
- Howard Groff - Dec. 24
- Willis Ball - Dec. 24
- Barbie Kaer - Dec. 25
- Garfield Cole - Dec. 26
- Ann Dingwall - Dec. 27

Percheron Assoc. Holds Dinner

Approximately 70 members and friends of the Western Ontario Percheron Assoc. again held their annual dinner in Christ Church (Anglican) Parish Hall on Thurs. evening, Dec. 14, with the Ladies Guild catering.

Following the delicious dinner, Euchre was played and a social time was enjoyed by all. A complete list of the winners honoured will be reported in next week's Lark.

Definition

Christmas Eve - Wrap Race