Stag Gag

A country doctor in northern Ontario left his ancient Model-T Ford in front of the village drugstore and on his return found several of the loitering youths making jokes at the old car's expense. As he climbed up into the well-worn driver's seat the doctor inspected the group carefully, then leaned out and said, "The car's all right, boys -- it's paid for. You" -- and the doctor looked deliberately from one boy to another -- "are not."
