

Upper Canada Village, near Morrisburg, Ontario, is a living picture of life in Canada a century ago. It is flanked by a restored 25-acre Loyalist farm.

Flowered wallpaper, a canopied, cast iron bed and a much-used rocking horse are shown in the 100-year-old farmhouse nursery.