

By Don James of The Free Press
Catherine McClintock, Culloden historian, has been asked to take on still another project in the history of the United Church where she has been a Sunday school teacher for years. The church will close its doors for the last time at the end of December.