(by Mrs. James Hyatt) W.I. MEET

The Women's Institute met at Mrs. Harry Hase's home for their February meeting with a good attendance.

Mrs. George Trafelet presided. Mrs. Kemp, secretary, read the minutes and correspondence. Mrs. Wes Clemens gave the financial report for Mrs. Ken Clemens. Business was dealt with. It was decided to buy material for members for making articles for bazaars to come up during the summer. Mrs. Wm. Moore, convener for Education and Cultural Activities had an interesting program with a motto, "Nothing is so contagious as a good example" given by Mrs. Hyatt. Mrs. Clayton Davidson then showed a very beautiful quilt. Mrs. Thelma Trafelet showed craft articles, Mrs. Kemp a knitted article and Barbara Buchanan other pieces which made a lovely display of handmade things.

The hostess, Thelma and Georgia Trafelet served tasty refreshments. The March meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Armour Buchanan. Ladies welcome.

Wes's great Aunt

The Redmen Juniors held Senior Citizen Night last Friday. Above one of the Redmen's supporters, Oscar

Day, drops the puck on the opening face off. Wiarton lost the game to Grand Valley.
