Consider Your Clothes was the theme, this year, of 4-H Achievement Day held at the Warton Propeller Club, Saturday. 4-H clubs from as far away as Elsinore and Purple Valley presented skits and displays on the subject of clothing. Skits ranged from Rejuvenate Your Wardrobe - hints on ways to update that old shirt so it's in style again to the best ways of Co-ordinating Your Clothes - and how not to mix 'n' match. Displays included Clothing Customs from 1910 to the present time; Seams and Seam Finishes; and My Basic Color - a display coordinating clothes with brown as the basic color. Ruth Axtmann, a Huron County home economist was on hand to give the girls hints for future improvements of their skits and displays. Four girls were presented with provincial and county honors for the successful completion of 12 or six projects respectively. They are left to right: Donna Arnold, Oliphant, county award winner; Jennifer Stewart, Elsinore, county award winner; and Kathy McDougald, Allenford, provincial award winner. Missing is Loretta Ruth, Hepworth, provincial award winner.
