

leading and faulty, but it is our hope that this book will assist you to appreciate the efforts of those who have gone before, who have strived to make your community a better place. May you appreciate the developments achieved in agriculture over the years, as well as the attempts by numerous individuals to improve the life style and livelihood of their neighbours, through their volunteer efforts in community organizations, as individuals, not to forget the dedication of our citizens in the field of local politics.

The final research, writing and editing has been accomplished with the assistance of the members and others of the community. It would not have been accomplished without the gracious response from many people willing to provide historical information and locate pictures with which to make the history more meaningful. We extend a special thanks to all of you for your kindness and cooperation. We are grateful to each and everyone, from Lady Tweedsmuir to curators/writers, the Norwich and District Archives, Tracy Hazen for the maps, and the many proof readers.

The Springford Women's Institute is deeply indebted to the Ontario Trillium Foundation for a grant to publish this history, without which the task would have been impossible and the circulation of the history of the area extremely limited.
