

This is the carriage shop owned by Arron Groce later owned by James and Dick Talbot who also built the building in the other picture. Manasseh Ferns bought this house then Mrs. Joyce Lovell Wagstaff.

Across the road from above building, Russell Little built a new house.

To the south of Little's house and on main street a house was built by Mrs. Cecil Burke and then bought by George Warnock.

This building was our bank, it was a branch of the Imperial Bank from Grand Valley. It was owned by Joseph Gingall and in 19 was bought by Richard Foster.
