Search for body

Shuniah volunteer firefighters and divers from the Thunder Bay Water Rescue team worked under difficult water conditions Monday in their search for the body of a city man believed to have drowned at High Falls, 30 kilometres east of Thunder Bay in the MacKenzie River. Top photo: Shuniah Volunteer firefighter Paul Hrabok and Jeff Adams bring in their canoe when current kept tipping it. Centre left: David Granville, Mike Pooley and Nelson Pyatt (not shown) of the water rescue team. Lines were thrown across the river and divers used the ropes to guide them as they scoured the river bottom, but to no avail. Centre right: Granville calls it quits after three-hour search and so did those searching by canoe.
