ustralia (CP) — As a pproving the conditions Aborigines, a welfare ened recently on the 350 miles from here.

Suffering facial cuts when his head broke the windshield of a car he was riding it, Jacob Wiebe, about 42, 243 North Franklin street, Fort William, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday evening.

Wiebe's 18-year-old son, Jack, was driving the auto over the railroad tracks at Park street, Port Arthur, when the oil pan hooked onto some broken planking and bounced the car in the air.

The father's head struck the wind- shield and broke it, police said. Other passengers included Mrs. Wiebe and another woman, none of which were hurt.
