Durham will celebrate Dominion Day.

Durham creamery has manufactured over 6,000 lbs. of butter since the opening of the season.

The Warton Echo wants a cattle fair in Warton and marvels that one has not been instituted before this.

The Warton Echo, speaks of a family lately arrived there from Newfoundland who "tell a sad tale of their native land," and predict a famine there. This is a new kind of tail, which our natural history does not mention. Perhaps it is some kind of a Cross between cod fish and chamois.

On Monday Mr. R. Wall, of South Dumfries, saw a strange animal running across a field on his farm. He pursued and killed it. It proved to be an Otter, a fine large fellow. Where it came from is a mystery, as it was a considerable distance from any body of water. Mr. Wall feels quite proud of his capture, and will have it stuffed.—[Woodstock Times

At the raising of Mr. Donald Beaton's barn in Glenelg on Wednesday last, Mr. Dan McDonald, (Little Dan) had the misfortune to get shoved off the top of the building, and fell a distance of nearly thirty feet, although he had no bones broken, he was badly bruised on the face and side. We understand he is getting all right again and will not likely suffer any permanent injury.—[Review.

On election day, as Mr. Dennis Galvin, who resides on the town line, between St. Vincent and Sydenham, was returning from the polls, he called at McConnell's Hotel, Bay View. During a conversation with a friend he leaned against a door leading to the cellar. As this was not latched it flew open and Galvin fell to the bottom of the stairs, receiving injuries which resulted in his death in a short time. His fall rendered him unconscious and he never uttered a word after the accident occurred. The deceased was about 70 years old.—[O. S. Times.

Alexander Cline has been arrested at Collingwood for complicity in the "green goods" game. Cline offered to sell $1,000 counterfeit notes on the banks of Toronto and Commerce for $200. Cline received the $200 from one Thos. Roper. He would not deliver the money, but promised to send it to Roper by express to Thornbury. On Roper's going to express office at Thornbury he got a box, and on opening it found it was empty. Cline was committed for trial for giving information where counterfeit money could be had, and for offering counterfeit money for sale.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Durham Chronicle talks out loud in meetin' as follows: Some of our subscribers are of the opinion that we have given them enough politics during the last five weeks to last a month or two. We are pretty much of the same opinion ourselves, so it's district and local news we're after now. At the same time it might not be inappropriate to remark that when we go into politics, or anything else for that matter, we take off our coat and are prepared to stand anything from criminal libel suits, which don't cost the other fellow anything, down to the back-bitings of every soft-headed fool in the riding.

On Saturday last some farmers doing statute labor on Jos. Galloway's side-road turned up a number of Indian relics. Among them was a skull in a good state of preservation. There was also a large number of pipes, tomahawks, pieces of urns, fishing spears, as well as a totem. It is probable these things were buried with some defunct red man, as that was the custom of most Indian tribes. There is no doubt but the hills of Nottawasaga were at one time the camping grounds of large numbers of Indians, as numerous relics have been found. The curiosities were procured from the discoverers by Mr. John McEachern, of Creemore, and have been on exhibition at M. McEachern's shop here for the last few days. Jack purposes sending them to Toronto, presumably to be placed in the Archaeological section of the Canadian Institute.—[Stayner Sun.

The funeral of the late Mr. John Collie, editor of the Galt Reformer, took place at Seaforth on Saturday and was largely attended.
