GEO. MITCHELL,
FLESHERTON.

A general banking business transacted. Drafts issued and cheques cashed at usual rates. Money always available for legitimate business enterprise.
OFFICE two doors north of Richardson & Co's.

Vicinity Chips.

Characteristics of the Past Week Carefully Culled for the Curious.

Flesherton will shortly have a lodge of the Y. M. P. B. A.

Raspberries are ripe. They are quite numerous. So are the pickers.

The heat of Monday and Tuesday was greater than at any time this summer.

Mr. Jos. Lang, late of the Kincardine Review, is starting a third paper in Owen Sound.

The Treasurer's sale of lands for taxes in the County of Grey takes place in Owen Sound on Nov. 6.

Be sure and remember the meeting in the Town Hall on Friday evening for the purpose of forming a "Board of Trade."

Clearing out lots of summer goods at half price at M. Richardson & Co's.

In addition to the campers named last week as being away, Miss Mary Strain is at Bell's Lake, and the Misses Lizzie and Sarah Strain are with the people at Kimberley.

I. B. Lucas, barrister, of the firm Bishop & Lucas, Owen Sound, is at the office of Wm. Lucas, & Co., in Markdale, every Friday, and in Dundalk every Saturday.

The Durham Chronicle published the following kind words last week: "The Toronto Week of a recent issue contained an article from the pen of W. H. Thurston, Editor of the Flesherton Advance, which is a guarantee of its excellence. Mr. Thurston is a bright and breezy writer." Thanks.

The arrangements entered into for last Sunday in connection with the Presbyterian church at Maxwell and Flesherton were not carried out. A substitute was sent to Flesherton who was very unacceptable. A member of the church here said he never listened to so "pitiful an attempt at a sermon." We have not learned Rev. Mr. Emes' reason for disappointing the people of Maxwell and this place.

Cows broke into the garden of Mr. S. Damude the other night and destroyed nearly every green thing except the pump. It seems really too bad that villagers have to raise garden truck to feed their neighbors' cows on. If the brutes were even shut up at night there would be comparatively little destruction, and not so much of this painting the sidewalks green. Our sidewalks don't need it. Could not the owners be made to shut the cattle up at nights?

Mr. Wm. Strain desires to inform his many old friends in this section that he intends to resume his old business about the middle of September with a full line of stoves and tinware, either under his own management alone or in connection with a partner. In addition to stoves and tinware he will still continue selling the favorite Speight wagon, Fleury, Wilkerson, and Pulfer & Fisher's plows, together with all repairs for these implements. Parties wanting stoves should wait until they see his stock.

Not so Pretty as Manilla but gets there just the same—Common Sense Binding Twine, ten cents per pound, for sale at M. Richardson & Co's.

Pickering News—The editor of the Flesherton Advance journeyed to the remote mouth of the Nottawasaga River to investigate some famous Indian graves, and found them to be ordinary ant-hills.

The editor of the Pickering News went all the way to the town of Goderich to investigate some famous fishing ground which was said to be there. He found the ground, but it is now forty years since the last fish was caught off it, and to get revenge he wrote up the place. The only hoary-headed relic of that fishing excursion which Clark returned home with was his lyin'. It is a good one and will stand any amount of stretching.

We would like to draw the attention of Artemesia councillors to the following: The Ontario Statutes of 1890, chap. 62, page 152, enacts as follows:—"Subject to the provision in the following section, there shall be levied annually in every municipality in Ontario, upon the owner, possessor or harbinger of each dog therein an annual tax of $1 for a dog and $2 for a bitch. Upon the petition of 25 rate-payers it shall be lawful for the council of any city, town, township or incorporated village, to provide by by-law that the said tax or any part of it shall not be levied in said municipality." Have the people in this township expressed a desire to do away with the tax?

Weaving.
All kinds of custom weaving. Tweeds, flannels, full cloth and blankets. Rag carpet a specialty. Next house to the Presbyterian church Flesherton, Ont. J. BARCLAY, weaver.

Novelties in men's boots—fine hand made on the new perfected lasts. See them at M. Richardson & Co's.

Picnic.
The annual union Sunday School picnic came off as announced on Thursday last, but owing to heavy rain in the morning the beaver meadow was too damp and the gathering was therefore held on the school grounds. This, of course, was not half so pleasant a place to picnic as at the beaver meadow, yet every one apparently appeared to enjoy themselves fairly well. Two swings were erected in the grove back of the school grounds, but these were not very well patronized, owing to their distance away.

He is in Love, Sure.

A certain young man living not more than three miles from here draws milk to the cheese factory. On Monday morning, after delivering his milk, he started to return home as usual, but fell asleep before proceeding very far, and when passing The Advance office his horses were travelling at a funeral pace and the young man's chin was pounding a gentle solo on his manly breast bone. When the horses arrived at Richardson's corner they ran the wagon wheel into some shade trees, but the collision did not waken him. Somebody had to yell like a hyena into his ear to arouse the dozer. When he saw the position of affairs he turned very vermilion around the gills, put on the gad and buzzed around Munsnow's corner in lively style, the poor horses travelling at a gait that seemed to considerably surprise the milk cans. Now it is pretty safe to bet, on this evidence, that the young man sat up very late on Sunday night. In fact we expect to chronicle a wedding on the East Back Line shortly.

Personals.
Mr. Frank Sullivan is visiting friends near Durham.

Mrs. Crombie, of Toronto, is visiting at Mr. J. H. Heard's.

Miss Hanbury, of Dundalk, visited miss Ada Sproule on Thursday last.

Major Rorke, M.P.P., gave The Advance a pleasant call on Friday morning last.

Miss Fox, of Owen Sound, has been visiting at Mr. R. Trimble's during the past week.

Mr. Brad. Powell is home from Toronto on an enforced holiday. The measles struck him.

Mrs. W. H. Thurston and family returned home on Tuesday from a week's visit to relatives in Kimberley.

Dr. Sproule, M. P., attended our Sunday School picnic on Thursday afternoon of last week, and also spent a pleasant half hour with The Advance.

Miss Lilian Powell returned from Toronto on Saturday, where she has been visiting friends for a few weeks, having the measles and enjoying herself very much.

The Dead Beat Editor.

We clip the following from the Mt. Forest Representative: One of the beauties and charms of an editor's life is his deadheading it on all occasions. No one who has never feasted on the sweets of that bliss can begin to take in the glory of its happiness. He does $100 worth of advertising for a railroad, gets a pass for a year, rides $25 worth, and then he is looked upon as a deadhead, or a half-blown head. He puffs a concert troop $10 worth and gets $1 in complimentaries, and is thus passed free. If the hall is crowded he is begrudged the room he occupies, for if his complimentaries were paying tickets the troop would be so much in pocket. He blows and puffs a church festival to any desired extent, and does the poster printing at half rates, and rarely gets a "thank you" for it. It goes as part of his duty as an editor. He does more work gratuitously for the town and community than all the rest of the population put together, and gets cursed for it all; while in many instances where a man who devotes a few dollars to a First of July celebration, baseball club or church, is gratefully remembered. Oh, it is a sweet thing to be an editor! He passes "free," you know.

A Misunderstanding.

We are glad to publish Mr. Morrow's denial, in another column, of the act which was accredited in The Advance to the Young Britons, of Dundalk, who favored Flesherton with their presence on July 12. When we published the item two weeks ago we felt that there must surely have been some misunderstanding, and that the young men were not really guilty of the act of which they were accused. Mrs. Kester's explanation of the matter is that one of the party, and we presume by her description that it was Mr. Morrow himself, came to her and enquired if it were possible to have supper ready for their lodge inside half an hour. She replied that she could, and the gentleman went away without saying anything further. While the said individual did not actually order a supper, having, we suppose, gone to lay the matter before his companions, still we hold that Mrs. Kester was justified in supposing the conversation paramount to an order. It appears to have simply been a misunderstanding upon both sides, resulting in the lady getting the worst of it. Mr. Morrow's letter should have appeared last week, but came too late to be inserted.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The hole in the boy's trousers outlasts any other part of them.

One great trouble in doing a mean action is that you are compelled to associate with yourself afterwards. If you could only have "nothing to do with a man who was guilty of such meanness" it would be a relief.

The following from the Whitby Chronicle does not and never did apply to Flesherton. "By way of surprising the natives, the streets committee set some men at work to slay burdocks along the streets on Tuesday. It would be a good idea to leave them now, since they had reached a height almost sufficient to shade the sidewalk." We would suggest, however, that a man go through the village with an axe and "blaze" the stalks of the burdock trees in order that the road may not be lost sight of.—[Beeton World.]

Mr. John Price of Strathavon, writes that he has been 58 years an Orangeman, during which time he only, since 7 years old, missed walking in the annual procession on two occasions, one year when he was on shipboard and another when he was in the bush in Holland township. He is in his 81st year and "can read without glasses any good Conservative paper." He is father of Mr. Carson Price, postmaster Holland Centre, and William Price, postmaster of Manitowaning, formerly a resident of Owen Sound.—[Empire.]

A despatch from Tara, dated July 26 says:—A severe storm of hail passed north of here across the Bruce and Grey peninsula on Thursday afternoon, leveling all and ruining some fields of grain, potatoes and turnips. Apple trees also suffered severely, and many houses facing the west had all the glass in the windows broken.

ADVICE TO MOTHER.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Syrup," and take no other kind.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between William Petch and George McKinley Mitchell, both of the village of Flesherton, butchers, under the firm of Petch and Mitchell, was dissolved on the twenty-third day of July, A. D., 1890, by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be paid to the said William Petch, and all demands on the said partnership are to be settled by the said William Petch. Dated at Flesherton, this 23rd day of July, A. D., 1890.
