Dr. Sinclair Coming.

Dr. Sinclair, the well known and popular and clever specialist, of Toronto, will be at the Munshaw hotel, Flesherton, on Wednesday, Oct. 1st. The Doctor stands at the head of his profession, and has had a long, practical experience. He treats only cases which he considers curable, but can tell what may be the matter in all cases. Consultation free.

East Grey prize list will appear next week.

Thursday, Nov. 6, will be Thanksgiving Day. Johnny get your gun.

For a Cheap Tweed Suit try C. J. Leitch's $10.50 and upwards, guaranteed all wool.

Those who are needing boots and shoes for fall and winter wear will find it pay to try Clayton.

I. B. Lucas, barrister, of the firm Bishop & Lucas, Owen Sound, is at the office of Wm. Lucas & Co., in Markdale, every Friday, and in Dundalk every Saturday.

Fresh arrivals of boots and shoes fresh from two of the best manufactories. Your attention is invited to a choice and carefully selected assortment at Clayton's, Flesherton.

A very fine two colored poster, printed at the Flesherton Advance office, has been received. The engraving by Mr. Thurston is a very creditable piece of work, and the printing is good.—[Streetsville Review.]

A communication from Mr. J. R. Anderson gives the gratifying information that the family arrived safely at Moosomin. Mr. A. says the weather has been very wet, and very little grain has been stacked. He promises us a letter when he gets settled. This will be anxiously looked for by his many friends here.

The old familiar Farmers' Advocate comes regularly to hand. The September number contains two lithographed plates. Our space will not admit of a lengthened review, but we will say that no farm house should be without this excellent publication. Remember this when you are ordering your literature for next year. Address Wm. Weld, London, Ont.

The station agents along this line of railway have all decided to reform and are marrying as a preliminary step. Last week the agent at Berkeley was married to Miss Hannah Ryan, of Orangeville. Our agent here has not yet fallen into line, but this last affair will no doubt give him something to think about and make him wonder if he don't feel lonesome.

Solid comfort and durability in boots made by Clayton, either sewed or pegged. First class leather only used and good workmanship done.

The family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal, has its enormous circulation because it does not encroach upon the local country paper's work. People everywhere find they need the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal, in addition to their own local weekly. The Family Herald and Weekly Star has an enormous staff of high-salaried editors, and spends large sums in gathering general news of the world at large, besides employing money freely in adding to its literary miscellany.

Merchant Tailoring. For the latest novelties in worsted goods see C. J. Leitch's stock.

Wanted.

A tailoress who is a good pants maker, apply to F. A. BAKER, tailor.

Lost a Hand.

Mr. Jas. Inkster, who lives near Maxwell, had his hand so badly crushed in a threshing machine on Saturday afternoon that it had to be amputated.

Bear Killed.

A large she bear was killed on the farm of Mr. Jas. McMullen, two miles west of Proton Station on Thursday last. Two cubs which were with her escaped.

Grain Buyer.

Farmers will do well to remember that Flesherton will have a second grain buyer. Mr. McCullough, of Dundalk, will buy grain here so soon as it begins to move. We learn he will be on hand next week.

New subscribers to The Advance will get the balance of this year free. Roll in your dollars now before we repent of this great offer.

The Owen Sound Advertiser is waking up and will publish a semi-weekly henceforward. We received the first number Wednesday.

Harvest Home.

We are requested to state that the annual harvest home festival of the Methodist church will take place on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 6.

Envelopes.

We have a job stock of envelopes on hand at present which we can print and furnish at $2 and $2.25 per thousand. Five hundred furnished and printed for $1.25 and $1.50. First class envelopes and dirt cheap. Order some at The Advance office before they are all gone.

Another Prize.

There were fifty school prizes given by the Witness of Montreal, for the best showing of stories sent in, these prizes being distributed over the whole Dominion. Mr. Wm. Irwin has received intimation that the Flesherton school has won one of these prizes, a nicely framed picture of her majesty, Queen Victoria. Tally one again for Flesherton.

For Friendship.

The girls have a new fad. They gather coppers from all their friends, and when sufficient have been collected a gold "friendship" ring is purchased. The idea is a bad one, for if a fellow hasn't a copper about him he must hand out five, ten, or twenty-five cents, as his generosity prompts him, or be considered too mean to marry. But after all, perhaps it is just as well for a fellow to spend his money that way as to give it for the benefit of the heathen in foreign lands. Let the home heathens have it.

WANTED! 500 men, women and children, to buy boots and shoes. All ready on hand and waiting for you to call for them at Clayton's.

More Good Cooks.

Mr. Wm. Fawcett, of Heathcote, was a visitor to the fair on Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Wm. Fawcett is one of the best known farmers in the county of Grey. He is also an epicure of no mean order—knows a good piece of beefsteak when he samples it—and is a general all round judge of cookery. He desires us to say that Mrs. Braniff, of Eugenia, and the Misses Dodson, of Rocklyn, can down all corners at cooking steak, possibly barring the two ladies we mentioned last week. He claims, however that nothing can beat the ladies he brings forward.

Wedding Bells.

On Tuesday last Mr. Robt. McNae was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Holley, both of this township. The wedding party was a large one, several friends from a distance being present. After the ceremony the contracting couple with all their friends in attendance drove to Flesherton station, from whence the bride and groom took train for Toronto. We have only one old pair of slippers and they are broken-backed, lop-sided and moth-eaten, but such as they are, here goes.

A New Paper.

We are in receipt of two copies of the new "tri-weekly Sun," printed in Owen Sound. The paper is something which Owen Sounders should be proud of. We predict for the Sun an almost cloudless sky. It is what was wanted, and we much mistake the people of Owen Sound if they do not give it as hearty a reception as was ever received by any newspaper. It is printed as a weekly and tri-weekly. Its editor and proprietor, Mr. Joseph Lang, is an old printer by trade and a writer by instinct. As editor of the Kincardine Review he made a name which is widely known. We welcome him most heartily to our midst, knowing that Grey county journalism will be much advanced by his advent.

A Pig-Headed Pig.

One of the funniest things we have seen since our last tooth was pulled took place on the evening of show day. Mr. Wm. Richardson owns a pig. This pig escaped from its pen and strolled into Mr. Richardson's drug store just after dark, probably to see if its master was short handed. Mr. R. told it to get out, but it wouldn't get. The several employees of the establishment, by all the known and unknown methods, endeavored to persuade it to leave, but, that pig had decided to take up quarters where the delicate perfumes of eau de cologne, seltzer water and jockey club could tickle his aesthetic nostrils with their aroma. His grunts of satisfaction as he poked his nose around among sweet scented candy pails and smelled the nice clean floor were grunts of too utter enjoyment. Finally Mr. Richardson brought him of the swill pail. This was procured and held enticingly before the door. The temptation was such that Mr. Pig exalted his nose and marched out on the quick march. Good sour swill is something no pig, no matter how aesthetic he may be in his tastes, will ever be able to forego.

General News.

The Birchall trial opened in Woodstock on Monday.

Joseph Irwin, of Leamington, Ont., had been missing oats from his barn, and set an old fashioned bear trap to catch the culprit. Next morning on going out he found an old man named Knight fast in the trap, his leg badly lacerated. On being liberated the old man fainted, and when he recovered was sent to jail. Knight's son in revenge attempted to fire Irwin's barn, being caught in the act of pouring coal oil on the hay. Irwin says Knight has threatened him repeatedly and he will push the case through.

Notice.

"TO WHOME IT MAY CONCERN."
We the undersigned (at the request of Pliny Loucks, Esq., owner of the flour mill near Flesherton, better known as "Plewe's little mill,") having visited said mill and examined the flour, sweepings, etc., in all parts, corners, and receptacles of said mill (where flour would be likely to accumulate and remain undisturbed for some length of time) do certify that in no case have we found the slightest trace or sign of any parasites or flour moths reported to have been in some flour sold in this vicinity and manufactured in other mills; and we firmly believe and are perfectly satisfied there are none whatever of said parasites or flour moths in or about said mill.

Signed
THOS. CARTER, M. D.
R. J. SPROULE.
Flesherton, Sept. 22, 1890.

In connection with the above I would say that those bringing bags to my mill must thoroughly cleanse them before bringing, otherwise they will not be taken in. I am free of the pest above referred to and am bound to keep free of it. See that your bags are thoroughly scalded before bringing them to me.
