Mount Zion.

From our own Correspondent.

Election and the Indian craze is the talk of the day here.

Wood haulers very busy, they say a little more snow would be very acceptable.

Mr. Henderson, of the 3rd line, has sold his farm to Mr. John Winters. Is John going to keep batch? No. He means to appeal to the Junction.

Mrs. Jas. Handy is at present very ill, we hope she may soon recover.

Death has again visited us by laying its cold hand upon John James Reid, aged 3 yrs., son of William Reid, who has suffered under a lingering illness. The interment took place at Mount Zion cemetery. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the entire vicinity. JIM.

Priceville.

From our own Correspondent.

The beautiful snow has been falling freely during the past few days.

The Salvation Army was introduced to our village on the 16th by Mr. A. McDonald, of Proton Station, a late convert from the church of Rome. Allan seems to be earnestly trying to lead a better life.

Mass was celebrated in the church of St. Jerome at 5 o'clock Christmas morning.

The Methodist S. S. entertainment on the 24th was a success, notwithstanding the storm, program good, eatables ditto. The pieces rendered by the scholars showed that great pains were taken in their training. Frankie Aussum may yet become a great vocalist if he receives a proper course of training.

A number of our citizens, after transforming divers plump fowls into meat skeletons, assembled on the ice and spent Christmas afternoon "with the stanes."

Riel II, (being well fortified with- in), was mustering his forces for war on the 25th.

J. D. Brown spent Christmas in the Queen City.

Mrs. C. C. James is spending the holidays with friends near London.

Miss Brander is home for the holidays.

It is "bach" all over the house with Al., our baker, at present, his better half is spending a few weeks with friends at Guelph.

Jim was "bound to have a wife before the winter o'," and he got her. Mr. Jas. Wilson, Glenelg, and Miss Maggie McDougal, Durham Road, Artemesia, were tied up for life on the 17th by Rev. D. McLeod.

The above clergyman also united in marriage Mr. Neil W. McConnel, of South Line Glenelg, and Miss M. McLean, of Egremont, on Christmas day.

Mr. Colin McArthur, of the firm of McKinnon & Co., has been ill for some time. We hope to see him around again soon.

Riverside.

From our own Correspondent.

We have good sleighing now and tea-meetings are the order of the day and night. The tea-meeting which was held in the Methodist church in Proton on the 22nd was in aid of the Sabbath school, and it was a grand success. The sum of money taken at the door was $46.45. The Proton choir did splendidly. They also attended a tea-meeting held in Mr. Morrison's church, which was a grand success, the proceeds amounting to something over $50. We are looking forward for a good time at a tea-meeting in St. Andrew's church after a while.

Some of the farmers are loosing quite a lot on their potatoes, as they sold them in the fall for 30c. and now they are getting $1.00 a bag.

Another one from our midst has been called away on the 23rd inst., a 2-year-old child of Mrs. Chas. Haw. He took sick on Sunday and died on Tuesday. Scarlet fever was the cause. We sympathize with parents and family; may they be able to say "not my will but Thine be done."

We hear that Miss Frances McLean is intending going to Toronto. All our best wishes go with her.

Mr. James McLean is talking of building a cheese factory at Booth's corner.

We hope he will, for we are almost sure he would do well.

Listen! for I think I hear wedding bells.

Kimberley.

From our own Correspondent.

The entertainment under the auspices of the public school here was a decided success, and much credit is due to our teachers for the able manner in which they conducted the entertainment. The chair was taken at seven-thirty by Mr. Hammond, who filled that position with much credit to himself as well as to the teachers. The recitations and dialogues by the children were very well rendered, and our teacher must have taken great pains to have the children trained so well. The older people did their part remarkably well, considering the inconvenience in which they were placed in dialogues. "The train to Mauro" was the special feature. Miss Burritt acted her part with much tact and ability. In music each and every one did well. B. A. Carruthers gave a few mouth organ solos, accompanied by Miss V. P. Myles on the organ that were loudly applauded. But the song called "The Farmer's Song" brought the house down; each one coming out in their turn with hoe, sewing, saw, churn, rake, etc., and singing their different parts. The presents on the tree were numerous and valuable. In all the concert was a decided success, and we congratulate the teachers on their success.

Hopeville.

From our own Correspondent.

Once more has the unwelcome messenger, death, visited our neighborhood and borne away in his bosom the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haw. They have our sympathy in their loss, but we remember that One of old said: "Of such is the Kingdom of heaven."

Scarlet fever is around among children again.

Two of Mr. J. Batchelor's children, visiting at Mr. J. Ferris's, are sick.

A daughter has come to cheer the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Alcorn.

The wife of Mr. Henry, of con. 12, has presented her husband with two little girls, which is the second pair of twins in the family.

Mr. A. H. Burnett is sick.

Mr. Gardner, the Hopeville tailor, has procured the assistance of a tailorless.

Some of the villagers took a Xmas sleigh ride out to Mr. Allen's, near Durham, where they spent the night in merry-making in harmony with the fiddle. Others went to the concert in Dundalk.

The social in the Methodist church came off on the 22nd ult., the proceeds being over $46. Also the Presbyterian tea-meeting passed off pleasantly on Xmas eve. Over $50 were received which is to be used for the erection of a new church.

Mr. Jas. McDonald got the tongue of his sleigh broken on his way home and had to turn and borrow a sleigh from his father.

Little boys who are in the habit of swearing when ma and pa are absent should take warning by the experience of some one I know, who was sleeping with his pa, and not realizing the situation, began to swear in his sleep.

Lou Kimmel has gone home to Warton after a visit of several months duration at Mr. McMurdo's.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McLean have moved into their new house.

Mr. Firth has bidden adieu to Hillside academy. He purposes going to school again. We wish him success.

We hope to have a wedding in our items next time.

Mr. Wm. J. McLean, while taking out barn timber, fell on his axe, cutting his knee. Fortunately the wound is not large and will, we hope, soon be healed.

There is some election excitement and lots of feasting on fowl.

Wodehouse Items.

From our own Correspondent.

Things in general are booming here. There is a store started this winter on the village corner. The proprietor, Mr. W.H. Carruthers, is also to keep the post office, which will be a great improvement on our present accommodation.

Wedding and Xmas bells are chiming together in harmony in our midst. On Wednesday, Dec. 24, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Mattie Ellis and Mr. Watt Richeson were united in matrimonial bonds. We wish the happy couple long life and happiness. We are sorry to have Miss Ellis go from among us, she will be much missed in the community.

Mr. Best has ordered a shingle machine, to put up on the corner at Wiley's. He intends running it with his new traction threshing engine. Go ahead Billy; let's shake on that.

Mr. and Mrs. Hisey and little son, of Nobletown, King township, are visiting at their uncle's and cousins, the Wiley's, of this place, and Mr. C. Knott and family, of Kimberley, accompanied Mr. W. Best and family, of this place, to spend Xmas at the home of his father, Mr. W. Best, of St. Vincent.
