THE RIDING GRANT.

The prospect for obtaining additional aid to the riding agricultural societies is, Mr. Damude informs us, positively bright.

LOTTERIES.

Ontario is practically free from the lottery pest, thanks to wise and stringent legislation, but the same cannot be said of our sister province, Quebec.

people, (for it is the poor on which they prey) and by a legalized theft divert it from its proper channel to fill the coffers of a lazy, non-producing gang of rogues.

It would be interesting to know exactly what difference would have been made in the election in South Grey had it been held on Friday, March 13, instead of March 5.

The Durham Chronicle more than hints that a protest is likely to be entered in the South Grey election case. This paper thinks it would be a piece of folly, unless the case is very clear, and even then in our mind such a procedure would be of doubtful merit.

If ever mob law was justifiable it was in the case of three thousand citizens of New Orleans who turned out on Saturday and broke open the jail and summarily disposed of eleven Italian criminals that the law had failed to condemn.

The Globe of Tuesday says: "As Dr. Sproule had a majority of 555 in 1888, it was suggested that East Grey was safe for the Government; the battle was fought with something like fairness, and the result was that the majority was cut down from 555 to 19.

A Tale of Horror.

A few weeks ago some of the good people of Collingwood undertook to raise money sufficient to remove part of the Wench family from the den of filth and iniquity in which they lived out in the township of Collingwood, a few miles from the town.

crouched too near the fire. Her rage caught the flames and before they were extinguished her body was dreadfully burned.

The rest of the story about the frequenters of this dreadful den, about the conduct of the woman Jenny, and the treatment to which she subjected the deceased girl, are too horribly disgusting to be told.

"As independent as a pig on ice." I used to hear that quotation about the time I became old enough to hear anything, and often wondered exactly what amount of independence a pig would possess in such a predicament.

I read the other day in an American newspaper the following advertisement: "If there are in Boston or vicinity persons who thoroughly understand, and can treat diseased cats, we should be glad to have them send their cards to..."
