Are you contemplating Matrimony?

Furniture

I have the necessary experience, ditto the Furniture. In the first place you'll need a kitchen table and some common chairs. For the dining room you must have a nice sideboard, oak or walnut, with chairs and table to match. An extension table it must be for your mother-in-law, your cousins and aunts will be on hand soon after the honeymoon.

Don't have horsehair furniture in the dining room; it's old-fashioned and out of date. Get a cosy lounge in a handsome brocade or rep and plush. A high-backed oaken rocker comes next. Then a couple of those exceedingly pretty oak chairs with cane seats, and a couple in oil-finished walnut with plush or rep seats, make an agreeable variety. Something in rattan, such as a ladies' chair, a music rack or work basket looks well, while every properly equipped drawing room has a fancy centre or corner table of some kind. The designs in mahogany, antique oak and walnut are very handsome.

As for Bedroom Sets the range in styles is most extensive, and it is really surprising what elegant outfits may be had for very little money. I blush deeply when I speak of Cradles, High Chairs, and Perambulators, and perhaps am a little too previous, but I might just as well say that Rattans are the favorite for all these interesting articles. If I have forgotten anything, pray don't hesitate to mention it when you call on

Yours in strictest confidence,

E. E. McNea,
Furniture Warerooms,
FLESHERTON.

P.S.—Perhaps you do not intend to take such an important step as the above just at present, but you may know of a friend who does. If so, be kind enough to say a good word for me. You would also do some married friend a favor by telling him, or her, about my extensive stock of Furniture at prices to suit all pockets. Tell them to call and see our cheap Bedroom suits, well finished, light or dark for $10.50. We have also a fine stock in Mahogany suites, Centre Tables, Plush Rockers, Beds, and Hall Stands. Picture framing done on short notice. Also a large stock of Funeral Furnishings. Good horse and prompt attention at the Variety Hall Furniture Warehouses.
