A "PARLIAMENTARY BRIGAND"

The editor of Toronto Saturday Night, Edmund E. Sheppard, is one of the most caustic writers in Canadian journalism to-day.

Premier Abbott has excited the admiration and respect of Canada by his careful and dignified course. He has not blustered though Chapleau threatened.

The American papers are just now full of war talk and Chili is the object. A few weeks ago an American sailor was killed in the streets of Valparaiso and several others wounded.

fitted out from the Brooklyn navy yard, at least American newspapers appear to think so and are indulging in columns of speculation.

James Trow, Reform M.P. for South Perth, has been unseated for bribery by his son.

Closing the Door.

DEAR SIR,—I have seen the epistle written by John Park anent the shutting of the Presbyterian church door of Feversham against the funeral of his late father.

Maxwell, Oct. 30, 1891.

Maxwell.

Owing to the slowness of ye correspondent, our items this week are few as usual.

A parlor social was held at the home of Mr. McCullen's, two weeks ago to-night, at which we believe a pleasant time was spent and a fair sum made.

On Wednesday evening of this week a concert in connection with the English church was held in the Orange Hall.

Mrs. Wright and son returned to their home in Parry Sound last week. The Rev. Scobie left lately to take charge at Corbetton.

Mrs. Emerson's brother, from Chicago, has been visiting friends here lately.

Miss Scheniman, who had been visiting her parents here for some time, returned to Parry Sound last week.

The boys had some fun last Saturday night, but nothing serious occurred. Our teacher, Mr. J. L. Wood, left for home as usual last Friday evening.

The result of the invasion was that J. L. had to come back to the village and have some repairing done, or else go home without a seat to sit on.

Mr. Joseph Alliston is having his house moved and purposes having it over-hauled and made warm for the winter.

Mr. C. M. Field has moved to his new shop. When you are moving again, C. M., you should not forget to lock the door, give up the keys and bid adieu to the owner.

The painter is now busy at the operator's house, and soon he can move also.

Priceville.

Winter is coming. Already we feel his cold icy health around us, making great devastation in our beautiful woods and scattering the robes of beauty with which October, the queen month of the year, has decked the stately forests.

Mr. S. McDonald, principal of our public school, is engaged for next year in S. S. No. 7, Artemesia. Mr. W. J. Blakeston is his successor as principal here.

Miss Alice V. A. Ross is re-engaged at a higher salary.

Mr. A. H. Ross, of Hereward, was home last Saturday. Mr. Ross is engaged for 1892 as principal of the public school at Horning's Mills.

An entertainment was given by the members of the Temperance Lodge, last Thursday week. The programme consisted of singing, recitations, dialogues etc.
