Kimberley.

From our own Correspondent.

A WILD GOOSE CHASE—Mr. J. M. Thurston, while paddling down the Beaver in his little board canoe, startled a flock of wild geese. He had his gun along, but alas! it was at the other end of the canoe, and ere he could get a "bead" on them they had flown.

Judging from the way some of our carpenters have been working in the rain of late, (when, as Paddy said, it would wet a fellow to the very entrails) we would not be surprised to know of a pair of the Kimberley young people being made one.

Kimberley can boast of a Sabbath school second to none in Grey. They purchased books the past summer to the amount of about $40.

Opposition is said to be the life of trade. If so the blacksmithing trade will soon be healthy here, as we are to have another smith in the person of Mr. Wilson, who intends to rent a shop opposite the grist mill. Mr. Hammond will move his shop down from where it stands in front of the Mansion House.

Gossip has it that we are to have another store. Our hamlet is growing. Come on boys, a tailor is badly needed here, also a good harness maker.

The people of this vicinity were very sorry to hear of the demise of Miss Eva Gaudin, who was well and favorably known here.

Death is still hovering around. Last week Mrs. Simpson, beloved wife of Wm. Simpson, was called away. She died on Wednesday morning and was buried at Maxwell on Thursday. The funeral was very small owing to the bad state of the roads. The friends have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire neighborhood in this their sad bereavement. She leaves six children, the youngest about six years old, to mourn their loss. One of the young men who left the house along with the rest stopped at Eugenia. Wonder what the attraction was there.

Mr. John Flewes has got a large kitchen erected, which adds greatly to the appearance of his domicile.

Foxes are plentiful in this locality. A few boys were out lately and the dogs chased five, but they failed to bring home a brush. What was the reason boys? Too much "tangle leg," eh.

Mount Zion.

From our own Correspondent.

We cannot lie beneath such a rigorous burden, hence we will arise and be more punctual in our business.

The roads are at present very rough. A little more snow would be very acceptable to smoothen the surface.

Mrs. Joseph Watson, sr., has been ill lately. We hope she may soon recover. Mr. William Reid has his new house almost completed.

Will Morton has again left for the city where he is employed for the winter.

Mr. Jas. Little and Jerry Taylor are preparing to build new dwelling houses. Surely that speaks for the future event.

The threshing is about completed around here. Mr. E. Ross had the job. Mr. Ross made a large season this fall.

We believe Mr. W. Brown has sold his farm here and purchased another in the vicinity of Sunndale. We wish him success on his new farm.

We hope the third line rebellion is now settled.

The topic of the day here is the debating about a roast goose, who it was roasted for, and whether they partook of it or not.

Mr. Joseph Strem is home again from the N. W. His smiling face is welcome back.

Miss Ester McNally, who has been attending Owen Sound high school is home again for a vacation. Also her brother Geo. McNally is home.

Swinton Park.

From our own Correspondent.

Early on Wednesday morning of last week a number of young men wended their way to Mr. Samuel Greyson's bush armed with axes, saws &c. In a short time soun's of crashing trees and whizzing saws filled the air. Trees were cut up almost as soon as they reached the ground, which before night was covered with 25 or 26 cords of wood.

Mr. Robert Moorehead, of Priceville, is visiting friends in this vicinity. Until lately Rob has been working in Cleveland U. S.

We are sorry to learn of the illness of Mrs. D. McMillan, Mrs. A. Leeke and Mr. John Kinnell. We trust all of them will soon recover their wonted health.

Some of the young people enjoyed themselves last Friday evening tripping the "fantastic too," at the residence of Mrs. Hargrave.

Miss M. C. Hardy is visiting friends near Owen So. and.

The new bell for the "College" was put in its proper position last week and now hurries up the collegians every morning. It has a very clear and musical tone, altogether unlike the blunt, dull thud, thud that characterises the most of school bells in rural districts.

The trustees of the Academy have accepted the application of Mr. McCutcheon, of Honeywood.

A fellow's cranium was in constant danger of being stove in by snow balls last week.

Mr. Jas. Pattison paid a visit to Osprey last week for business purposes.

Miss Jenny Kinnell returned home last week. Miss Jenny has been sojourning in Dundalk for the last three months learning dressmaking.

The last of the cheese from Boothville factory was shipped last week, for which something over $1600 was realised. Price 9½c.

Instioge.

From our own Correspondent.

The president of the Victoria cheese factory has sold and shipped the balance of this season's make of cheese at 9½ cts per pound. Mr. E. S. Hames, who made the cheese, is to be commended, as this is only his second year at the cheese manufacture, and the Victoria cheese took first price in the market throughout the season.

The authorities of our Sunday sch ol here are preparing for the usual anniversary which will shortly take place.

Mr. Wm. Maxwell, of this place, has purchased the farm of Mr. Samuel Russell, of Zion. We are sorry at losing Mr. Maxwell, as he was one of those persons who would live and let live, and may prosperity follow him to his new home.

Miss Martha Norvell is going to Dundalk to learn the dress making business.

Municipal matters are again drawing on us, and there will shortly be an upheaval amongst the would-be aspirants after office. For our part we are always satisfied to abide the results of a fairly contested election.

In our opinion the last two elections savored too much of despotism. No man with the public deep in his debt should be allowed to canvass or stand around the door of a polling booth on an election day, and electors should not be buttonholed along "party or sectarian" lines. It is no wonder today that the profession of farming in Canada is on the down grade. If a farmer puts up his head for any honors in the township he is told that he is not capable of performing the duties in connection with the honors, and that too by the very scourgings of society. We would just say to the farmers, honor yourselves, make your own laws and that independent of all sects and parties, etc., and the minor professions will learn to respect you.

For Over Fifty Years
