B. G. EVANS,

THE STORE ON THE HILL

Flesherton Station.

By Our Reporter.

Miss Mary McPhail is home after spending the winter in Owen Sound. Mr. Donald McFadyen, of Detroit, Mich., has been visiting Jno. A. Black and other friends in this part.

Mark Stewart has moved into his house, on the farm lately purchased by him. Well, we won't say anything; just watch his smoke.

Mr. Peter Muir, sr., is on the sick list this week past. He has been suffering from asthma for some years, but has been taken worse lately and is confined to his room.

Mr. John Warling has opened out a boarding house in the Ontario hotel. This, in connection with the livery, adds to boom the station, and shows the enterprise of our citizens.

Grain is rather slow in coming in to the station market, but there is a lot of baled hay, square timber, cordwood, telegraph poles, fence posts, paving timber, etc.

Mr. W. F. H. Thompson, Court Deputy, High Chief Ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters, has been doing this town to work up the order, and establish a court of this order in Flesherton. We think this is a very good society, and all young men should consider the matter carefully, yes, you may say, prayerfully, and join the same.

There is considerable sickness in this locality. Among the afflicted are Mr. John Bentham, Mrs. Alex Stuart, (cousin) and Mrs. Doupe.

Kimberley.

From our own Correspondent.

The teaming and concert held in the public hall last Friday evening was a success considering the condition of the roads, the stormy day and the very cold evening. The great attraction of the evening was the splendid music furnished by Miss Thurston, organist, Messrs. Donnelly, violinists, Miss Cooper, school teacher, singing and playing, and Myles' chording on the big organ, with the gentlemen renowned as month organ performers. Altho' the speakers announced to be present were unable to attend, yet our local talent came to the rescue and did well, such as Mr. Thurston, Mr. Abercrombie, Mr. J. R. Fawcett and others. We were highly pleased to see our friend Mr. Thurston around again, and his many friends were pleased to see his genial countenance and hear his kind words from the platform. Proceeds about $32. The special services in the Methodist church closed early last week, and seemed to be attended with very good results.

Many of those who have been sick are recovered, and the rest are improving. Mr. Graham's patrons are busy stocking the mill yard with logs. There is some grumbling about "hard to get around on account of the deep snow."

Our Priceville Budget.

From our own Correspondent.

The news around this burg is a scarce commodity—as scarce as money.

The fair last Monday was poorly attended, owing to the bad state of the roads. There were about as many buyers present as cattle.

Mr. Wm. Watson is at Ottawa this week as a delegate from Priceville lodge A. O. U. W.

A son of Mr. Malcolm McLean, who has been absent in the States for a number of years, is visiting friends in this vicinity at present.

Misses Husband and James made a flying visit to their friends in Priceville last week.

Mr. R. Parslow, of Swinton Park, is visiting with his son-in-law, Mr. J. Blakeston.

Service in connection with the sacrament of the Lord's supper was conducted in Gaelic last Sunday in the Presbyterian church. Next Sunday the services will be in English.

Grip is claiming its share of victims around our hamlet. The dreaded monster even essayed to attack our popular doctor, who, however, came out victorious.

Mr. Robt. Moorehead has gone back to Cleveland to work at his trade. We extend a cordial welcome to our new-comers—Mr. Hector McDonald, Mr. Dan McLean and Mr. W. J. Blakeston—who have lately taken up their abode among us. Mr. McLean sold out his business in Markdale for a good round sum and is now looking for other fields to conquer.

Inistioe.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The snow in this vicinity is very deep; the roads running north and south are pretty well filled up.

Mr. Samuel Waikley will have a public auction sale of his farm implements and stock on Wednesday next, 17th inst.

Mrs. Thos. Hutchinson and Mr. Jos. Strain, sr., who have been under the doctors care for some time, are much better.

On Thursday last Messrs. Thos. and William Hutchinson were informed by telegram of the death of their aunt, Mrs. John Hilliard, of Bolton.

Mr. Editor, don't you think that it would be advisable for the county of Grey to adopt the Torrens system of land transfer? Could you give us an idea of its working and advantages.

There is quite an interest taken in the Canadian Northwest here. There are a good many going north soon. There is nothing like Canada for the Canadians. If Uncle Sam closes his doors against us there is a home for every person of industry in the great Northwest.

General News.

Rev. Canon Davidson, of Colborne, died suddenly in Toronto Sunday from heart failure. He had been attending the convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

Bartram and Lottridge, in jail at Hamilton charged with the Heslop murder, are not allowed to shave. They are forced to grow beards for the purpose of identification.

The oil ship which was buried in mid-ocean last month is found to have been the Loodiana, a Nova Scotia clipper, which left New York December 31 with refined petroleum. She was commanded by Capt. Boyd, and had a crew of 38 men, all of whom were lost. Beffett, Smith & Sons, of Windsor, N. S., were the owners, and the vessel was insured for $40,000.

Rev. Dr. Pirritte, an ex-president of Toronto Conference of the Methodist church, died in Toronto Monday evening.

Miss Amy Harris, the daughter of Mr. W. C. Harris, of Toronto, who in 1889 went to Central India as a missionary under the auspices of the Presbyterian church, has just died in London, Eng., on her way home. The sad occurrence was announced by cable Monday.

Married.

WICE-CLARK—At the residence of the bride's mother, Toronto line Artemesia, on the 8th February, by the Rev. John Wells, M. A., Charles Edward Wice to Clarissa Mary Clark.

McMULLEN-JEFFREY—At the residence of Mr. William Chard, 4th line, Artemesia, on the 1th Feb., by the Rev. John Wells, M. A., David McMullen to Mary Jeffrey.
