ADVERTISE!

WE ADVERTISE BECAUSE WE CAN reach you through this medium better than any other. We pay hard cash for advertisements, and ask you as a favor to read them—not to note how badly or how well they may be worded; not to see if there are any funny points to make you smile; but to see if what we are offering will not benefit you when you next come to Flesherton. Keep the store on the hill in your mind when you come, and if there isn't any word in the advertisement for you a call will convince you that we study the interests of our customers much more than the lining of our own pockets. Don't let any smooth-tongued shoddy pedlar, tea agent or Jew talk you into something you don't want, but trade with the men who are always with you, then if the tea don't come up to what it is represented, or the goods to wear to your entire satisfaction, you can get even by cussing them to their face instead of behind the pedlar's back. No satisfaction in that.

We keep full lines in the following departments:

- DRY GOODS Consisting of Dress Goods, Gents' Furnishings, Tweeds and Worsteds, Cottonades and Shirtings, Prints and Gingham, Gloves and Hosiery, and all novelties in small wares.
- BOOTS & SHOES Men's, Women's, Misses' and Children's in large varieties.
- GROCERIES Fresh, full and complete. Bring along your Eggs and Butter.

THE STORE ON THE HILL.

B. G. EVANS.

Hopeville.

From our own Correspondent.

Another citizen left our village—Mr McKnight.

Mr. Hamilton Allen, we learn, has located near Brandon, Manitoba. He has sent for his blacksmith's kit as he is starting into business out there. We wish him success.

Mr. Ardal had the misfortune to lose a valuable ox. It was choked by a piece of turnip.

Mr. Andrew Dingwell has a yoke of oxen which weigh 3565 lbs.; also a cow weighing 1400 lbs. These we think will compare favorably with fatted cattle of any part of Ontario.

The Queen's birthday is to be celebrated here as usual by sports of various kinds. Hitherto immense crowds have come and many look forward to a like attendance this year.

Mr. Jos. Black has got a little boy from the orphans home in Dundee, Scotland. If he is a sample of the children of that institution we think it deserves the name of "Home," as is evinced by the rosy cheeks and bright intelligent countenance of the lad.

The Misses Spence are said to be doing fine work in the dress-making line, and as a result are receiving the patronage of a number of the ladies of this community.

Seeding is a thing of the past with most of the farmers for another year.

Miss Maggie McEachnie is a little better—She has been and is still seriously ill with some affliction of the heart, but hopes are entertained for her recovery.

Mrs. Arch. Ferguson who has been laid up with inflammation on the nerves is again able to be out a little.

Mr. John Campbell is also recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Black are visiting friends in Shrigley.

Mr. D. K. McArthur was made happy last week by the arrival of a little boy.

Miss Belle Ferguson is home from Toronto.

Feversham News.

From our own Correspondent.

The O. F. M. Co. held a meeting last Saturday and elected Mr. R. J. Sproule, of Flesherton, as president. We consider their choice wise and good.

A meeting was also held by the Grangers last Monday to elect a manager. We have not heard what their weighty deliberations amounted to, but it is reported that Mr. Geo. Allister was the choice. If such is the case it must be a heavy blow to James.

Mr. Thurston, of The Advance, paid a visit to Feversham, and took in a few hours fishing. No doubt he will be able to tell some very fishy stories. At present F. C. Bruce stands at the head of the class, claiming to have caught one weighing 1½ lbs.

The miller takes a weekly drive. He claims that Meaford is a very fine place.

Paul Bros. are doing a rushing business. Some days as many as four new rigs leave.

Lately I was in Feversham Presbyterian burying grounds, and saw several memorial stones of great value erected to departed friends. It occurred to the writer that if a little of the cost had been applied to securing a good fence and keeping the hungry village cows out it would have been better. Everything seems out of repair but those costly stones, some of which are fine specimens of artistic skill.

Eugenia

From our own Correspondent.

Fine weather for the past week. The country begins to look good in its covering of bright green. What a contrast to the dreary wilderness of snow that we had so long.

There are still some cases of German measles around. Mrs. J. C. Sloan has been sick with them.

We congratulate Mr. Walker Sloan on the happy event of the arrival of a fine baby boy at his residence a few days ago. Who says that our population is not increasing?

Mr. William Housie has erected a very neat house on his place. I think we will soon have one bachelor less at Eugenia.

The saw mill, grist mill and shingle mill here are all doing a good run of work. That speaks well for the prosperity of the town.

Mr. Samuel Pedlar, Esq., sold six head of fat cattle a few days ago. They were in splendid condition for so early in the season, which shows that it pays to feed well.

Mr. Daniel McMullen has purchased a steam well drill. He has drilled a well for Mr. Hiram Bowerman; also one for Mr. F. T. Carr.

Mr. Middaugh, of Toronto, formerly of Eugenia house, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Sheirholtz, at present.

Mr. Andrew Sample, jr., has gone to Collins' Inlet to work for the summer. His brothers, John and Chas., went along with him. Mrs. Sample is now residing at Eugenia.

Seeding is pretty near finished in this part.

Mrs. Henry Fenwick is visiting her sister, Mrs. McNally, near Zion, at present.

Miss Ester Hopps is residing in Flesherton at present.

Mr. Jonathan Latimer is just as happy as a big sunflower, and no one wonders at it for a beautiful little girl arrived at his house a few days ago.

Mrs. Thomas Crowe has gone on a visit to her daughter at Mallorytown, near Brockville.

Mr. Crowe has gone to visit his son in the Northwest.

Our enterprising store-keepers, Messrs. Hegg & Cairns, have put in a weigh-scales. It will be a great advantage to the farmers around this part of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pedlar were visiting at Mr. Smart's on Sabbath last.

Maxwell

From our own Correspondent.

Farmers around here are pretty nearly through seeding now; and although we had heavy frosts at night during most of seeding time, yet we believe it is or will be over as soon as any other spring for some time.

The Rev. Thompson, of Eugenia, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church here on Sunday, 8th.

The remains of the late Mrs. Graham were interred in the Presbyterian cemetery on Wednesday, the 11th.

Mr. Sam Linley left for the west on Tuesday of last week. We wish him success in whatever he may undertake.

Arbor day was duly observed by teacher and scholars, and a good deal of repairing and cleaning was done.

Mr. Madill has planted some beautiful shade trees around his lot at the corner of Main and Seam streets, and pruned his fruit trees, which adds greatly to the appearance of our village.

At every spare moment Dr. Scott is adding to the beauty of his beautiful lot.

The roadsides on Church street are plowed and are thus ready to be sowed. This plowing was all done by means of a snout plow which is very cheap. The Presbyterian cemetery shared the same fate.

We are expecting a foot-ball match here on the 24th, between our juniors and McIntyre juniors. Come and see!

Gardening and house cleaning the order during the past week.

Miss Aggie Strachan has been unwell for a time.

Mrs. Ansteth, of Buffalo, also Miss Hattie Heron, gave us a call last week. The former returned to her home on Saturday, but the latter is remaining for a time.

Ye Editor created quite a sensation in town on Friday, as we have not seen any one on a bicycle for some time.

Mr. Fred Gancy went to Owen Sound last week to attend the Business College, and Mr. Ferguson returned to his duties after spending a few days at home.

A Sunday school has been commenced in connection with the English church.
