Meaford's Appeal.

The hearing of Meaford's appeal against the equalized assessment began at 2 p.m. yesterday before his Honor Judge Creasor, each municipality of the county being represented at the court by the reeve or some duly authorized substitute.

In the opening proceedings his honor ruled that according to section 79 of the act the judge in the case of an appeal was required to revise the whole equalization of the county, and stated that when the case of Meaford was disposed of he would hear any further appeals which might be presented.

Mr. W. J. Hattor appeared as solicitor for the town of Meaford and called on Mr. John Rutherford as first witness to produce a copy of the by-law fixing the equallized assessments for 1892, wherin that of Meaford appears as $721,050, and also the local rolls for 1891.

Mr. Watt, town assessor of Meaford, then testified regarding the values of properties in that town. Meaford property was assessed at its full value, yet the total last year was but 612,265. Mr. Watt deposed regarding several lots in Meaford which to his knowledge had been sold for less than, and in one or two instances at only half their assessed value. These were all in good business or residential localities.

In reply to the judge he said he knew of no recent sales in the town at more than assessed value. In the townships adjoining so far as his knowledge went, they assessed considerably lower than in Meaford.

Mr. Bowes asked leave to put a question or two to the witness and asked him to estimate the assessed value of a certain farm in St. Vincent with a view to show that he was not posted on the methods of assessment in the townships. Mr. Watt's answer, however, came exceedingly near the mark.

Mr. Gilray, who represented the County as cross-examiner, asked the witness a number of pertinent questions, the answers to most of which we are unable to give, as they were entirely inaudible at the press table. A question regarding the carpet factory elicited the information that but two men were at work in that establishment when last visited by the Assesssor, the agreement between the town and the proprietor having been allowed to lapse.

The County Council being desirous of a little time for consultation before cross-examining further witnesses the judge adjourned the hearing till Tuesday morning. On the opening of the court at 9 a. m. on Tuesday Mr. Hatton announced to His Honor that an agreement had had been arrived at, and Warden Cochrane read the following:

May it please your Honor. We, the reeves of the several municipalities of the county of Grey since the adjournment of the court yesterday met in committee to consider the matter of the Meaford appeal. After two hours spent in committee a subcommittee was appointed to confer with the gentlemen from Meaford. The committee of the whole again met, which resulted in the following agreement: In view of the great depreciation in the value of lands which has taken place since the last nine years, the committee are unanimously of the opinion that the equalized assessment of the county is too high, and that nearly every municipality appealing therefrom would secure a reduction. That to proceed with the appeals would be likely to cause ill feeling to arise between the representatives of the various municipalities which would be inimical to the best interests of the country, without any basis being arrived at that would be satisfactory. Therefore the committee and Meaford have agreed to request your Honor to reduce the equalized assessment of Meaford by $50,000, and as the total amount which the county funds will be reduced thereby is so small we would further ask your Honor to make no change in the rate; also each municipality to pay their own personal costs, and the county, the judge, clerk and crier. Signed in behalf of the county by Jas. Cochrane, Warden, and for Meaford by G. A. Brown, Reeve.

His honor agreed to the proposed settlement stating that he would have a calculation made to see whether it was worth while altering the rate to cover the reduction. He remarked that the county should take means to verify its figures. From evidence placed before him while holding Court of Revision in Meaford lately he was quite persuaded that the local assessment was too high, and he doubted very much if property there would bring its assessed value. As to the townships he could not speak having no evidence before him.

The matter is thus settled at small expense to the county, though the cost to some of the municipalities will be large. Normanby alone had seven witnesses here including the reeve and clerk.

The settlement however, while submitted to by all as perhaps the easiest way out of the difficulty, does not appear to be very popular in the council. A new valuation seems the only prospective way to get things running evenly again.—[O. S. Advertiser.
