FALL GOODS

Are arriving almost every day. We do not need to tell you that the qualities are good and prices right. Every one who ever visited the store on the hill knows that we cannot be undersold. We do not deny the fact that any quantity of cheap trash is offered at lower figures than we can offer pure goods, but we hold that for quality offered, no man can sell you cheaper than we do. All we ask is a call, and we are certain to convince you.

◆ Dress Goods Department ◆

We have a good assortment in all leading lines, from the roc. goods to the best all wool Henriettas—linings, buttons and trimmings to match.

◆ Flannels and Staple Department ◆

You can get anything you ask for in these lines. In Flannels we defy competition—all wool greys, striped fancy shirting Flannels, and sheeting. Also full lines of Flannels, Shakers, Cantons and Unions; Cottonades, Cottons, Shirtings, Linens, Towels, Towellings, Etc.

◆ Tweed and Worsted Department ◆

We can't tell you much about these, but an inspection will convince that the patterns are the latest, and qualities and prices right, also full lines of Gents' fine furnishings.

◆ HABERDASHERY DEPARTMENT ◆

Gloves, Hosiery, Rushings, Handkerchiefs, Corsets, Ribbons, Collarettes, Bibs, and ninety-nine other things.

Space will not allow us to mention the other departments, but if these few will remind you of something you are needing we have done well; if they will convince you to try the Store on the Hill, we have done better; and if they will strike you favorably after inspection so you buy, we have done best. All are welcome whether to purchase or simply to have a chat about the weather.

Remember the Store on the Hill.

B. G. EVANS.

Mount Zion.

From our own Correspondent.

A painful accident occurred near Wareham last week by which James Marshall and his sister, who were driving from their home in Proton to visit friends in Osprey, received severe injuries, although it is thought both will recover. The homes of William Inkster, W. J. Henderson and Chas. McMillan have each been brightened by the presence of a baby girl lately.

Mr. S. Sheardown, James Love and Mr. Dean were absent in Walkerton last week attending the "Bolton case." We understand a settlement has been arrived at.

Mrs. Ross who has been indisposed for some time is now getting around again.

Mr. Alexander, of the Patron of Industry Associations, lectured in the school house here on Saturday evening last. Judging from the well filled house and attention received the farmers are awaking to their interests.

Threshing is now the order of the day.

The potato crop here is much damaged by rot. In the majority of cases farmers have scarcely enough potatoes left unharmed to seed them again in the spring.

Mrs. Henderson, Sr., of Wareham, is at present very ill. Two doctors have been attending her. We hope to hear of her recovery soon.

Rob Roy.

From our own Correspondent.

We have had very pleasant weather lately, which has been taken advantage of by the farmers in getting their potatoes stored. The rot has taken the largest half and still they are going after being stored away.

Threshing is the main topic of the day around here. You cannot hear anything but the hum of the threshing machine. The grain is in better condition than was expected and is turning out very well after such a wet harvest, which makes the farmers look a little more jolly.

I understand that they have purchased a new ten-horsepower threshing machine in the Bristow settlement, for the purpose of doing their own threshing. This will be better known hereafter as the Messrs. Bristow Threshing Company.

We have to congratulate Mr. James Bannerman on another increase in his family.

Mr. Alfred Leckie, from Chicago, is visiting friends and acquaintances around here at present.

Mr. Archibald Doner is building a fine residence in Rob Roy, which adds to the number as well as to the grandeur of our flourishing little town.

Mr. Alexander Fletcher, who got badly shook up by a team running away, is now able to go around again. We are all pleased to see him around so soon.

We had another visit from our worthy Inspector Mr. Campbell lately, who found everything satisfactory inside and out, which speaks strongly for our teacher, Mr. C. Cameron, who, we understand, has been engaged for another year.

Kimberley.

From our own Correspondent.

Business has been booming around town the past two weeks. Rev. Mr. Waddell has been fitting up Squire Stewart's house for a parsonage, which he will move his family to this week. Since new improvements have been added to the Squire's house and grounds he thinks perhaps it would be advisable for him to get married instead of going to Muskoka as he thought of doing.

A new picket fence is being made in front of Mrs. Magee's lot.

Our enterprising store keeper, Mr. Bell, has bought the grist mill from Mr. Plewes and will put rollers in. This will be a great benefit to the town and surrounding country. We know Mr. Bell will succeed in this as he is an upright and obliging person to trade with.

Mrs. W. Ellis returned from Muskoka last week, where she had been visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. Stewart.

Mrs. Thomas Wickens has been visiting her daughter in Ohio. She returned home Saturday.

Mrs. Gaudin is the guest of Mrs. J. M. Thurston. Mr. Fiddis has rented Mrs. Gaudin's farm.

Priceville.

From our own Correspondent.

In answer to that little item headed "To our correspondents" which appeared last week, we present the following budget: The topic of discussion this week, is the proposed railroad from Holstein via Priceville and Markdale to Meaford.

The Durhamites thought to steal a march on our burg last Wednesday at the railroad confab held in Markdale, but imagine their consternation to see ten sturdy representatives of the little hillside village walk into the meeting, notwithstanding that they were left out in the cold as far as a formal invitation was concerned. The scheme, whether visionary or not, has already resulted in raising the price of land along or near the supposed route. One farmer has added $700 to the price of his homestead in anticipation of the advent of the "Iron Horse".

The following gentlemen composed the Priceville delegation to deliberate on the "Bubble" project, viz.: Messrs. Jno. McArthur, D. McCormick, Neil McKinnon, John Brown, M. Bolger, Wm. Watson, Sr., M. Reiley, C. C. James, Rev. D. McLeod and Dr. Hutton.

Last Friday the genial proprietor of the Royal Mail and passenger service took with him to Flesherton Station Mr. Malcolm McDonald, the village politician, who is en route to Michigan. Malcolm, who is an all round, thoroughly informed grit of Grits, will be much missed in the social circles of our professional politicians whose profound discourses will be at discount now. We wish Malcolm abundant success in Uncle Sam's domains.

It has transpired that one of the visitors at our Fair, becoming too heavily loaded in the upper story, wandered by mistake into a blacksmith shop and laid down to rest. Subsequently the door of the shop was locked and in the morning the brave bacchanalian found himself securely incarcerated within stone walls and barred windows. However, he was soon liberated from his impromptu prison and went on his way rejoicing, minus his hat, and no doubt thanking his stars that he hadn't got in a "rale coop."

Mr. Jno. McArthur intends purchasing a stock of goods for his store this week.

The foreman of Mr. J. D. Brown's mercantile establishment has invested in a brand new (!) white nag which can knock the bicycle into a cocked hat as far as speed is concerned, only the former requires a little more "wind" even if the latter has a pneumatic tire. "Say, but she's a flyer," eh L?

Mr. John McGowan, our enterprising miller, is strengthening his mill-dam by the addition of another pier.

The partial eclipse of the sun last week was duly observed by the juvenile astronomers of our P. S. with their "smoked glass."

Miss Grace Johnston is clerking in Mr. J. Brown's store.

Miss Gertie McLeod, who is attending Owen Sound Collegiate Institute, spent a few days at home last week.

Mrs. and Miss Hutton, of Huttonville, Peel county, are the guests of Mrs. Dr. Hutton.

Miss Tillie Best, teacher in the junior dept. of our P. S., has resigned her position in order to attend the Toronto Normal school the first term of next year.

Mr. W. J. Blakeston has been re-engaged as principal of senior dept. for 1893.

Messrs. J. Simpson and R. Reiley are putting new shingles on the roof of Butter's Hall. The different societies will now have solid comfort overhead.

Editor Rutledge and wife of the Markdale Standard paid a brief visit to friends in the village last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson are in Manitowaning with their son, Mr. Ed. Ferguson, who is very low with consumption.

Mrs. Mortimer, of Shelburne, spent a few days lately visiting friends in the village.

Mr. Simpson and family have moved their brick house on Kincardine street.

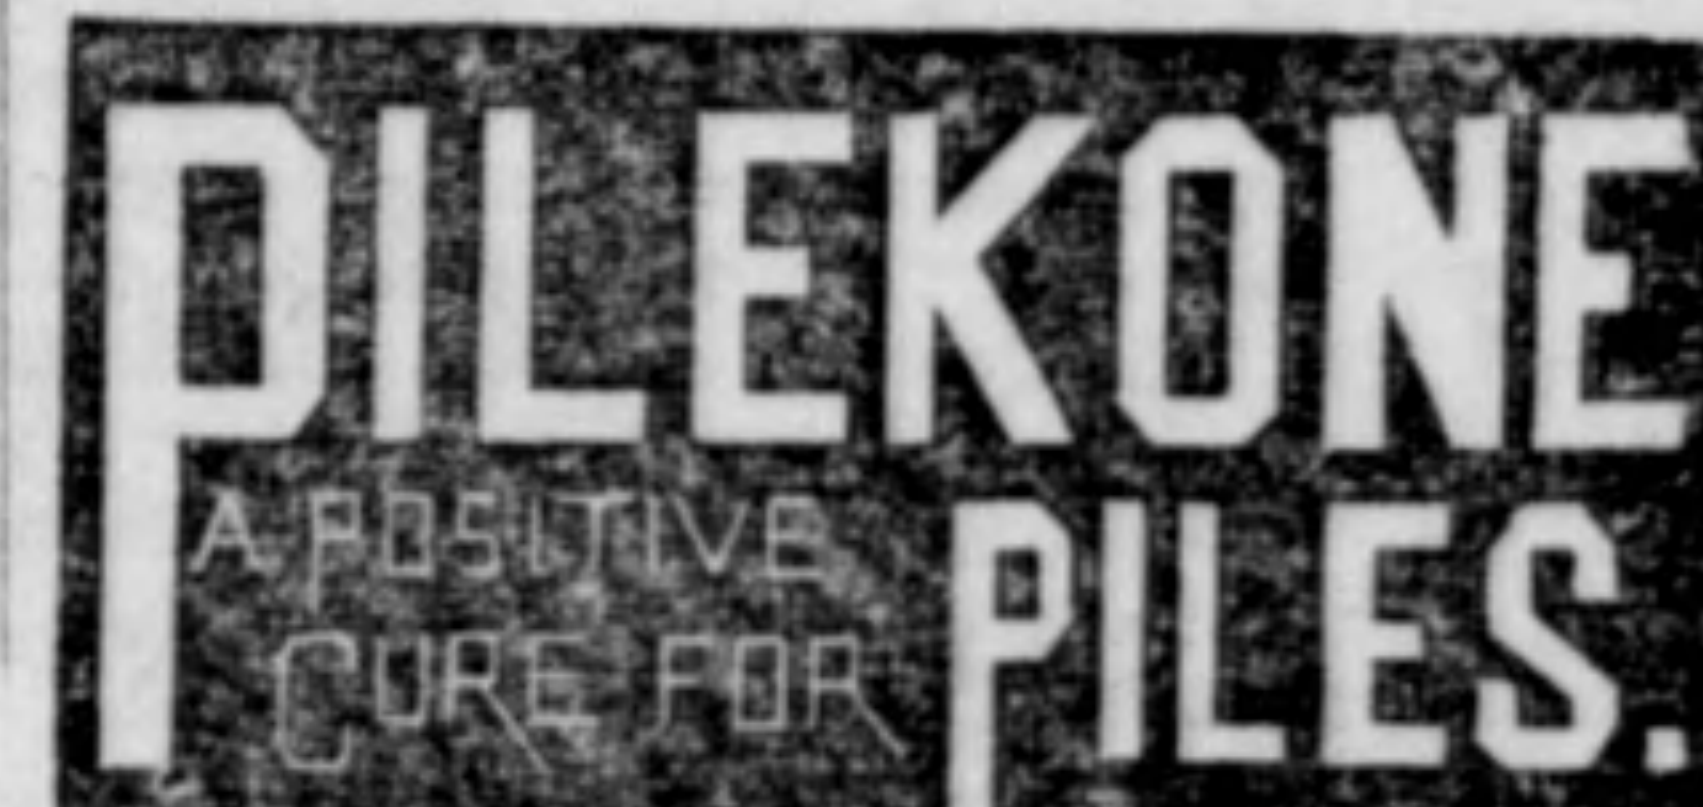

Miss Ella Husband, of Flesherton, paid a brief visit to her parental domicile last week.

Mr. Alex. McAuley, of Olean, N. Y., is visiting with his parents at present.
