Epping.

From our own Correspondent.

A gloom was cast over this neighborhood on Saturday last, when it became generally known that Miss Jennie Gilray had died quite suddenly the day before, at Thistleton. Miss Gilray, who taught the public school at the aforementioned place, retired in her usual health on Thursday night, but on Friday morning she did not arise at the usual hour and some member of the family where she was boarding went to learn the cause, and found her unconscious. A doctor was immediately sent for, but his skill was of no avail, and the unfortunate lady died about 1 o'clock the same day. Cause of death—apoplexy. Her friends were telegraphed for, and her body was brought home Saturday, and on Sunday a good number followed her remains to Thornbury cemetery, where they were laid away to await the final resurrection. The parents and friends have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad and sudden bereavement.

Mr. Chas. Devit left on Saturday for Cartwright to attend the funeral of his mother.

Mrs. Shore, who has been quite ill, is recovering.

Rev. Alex. Gilray attended the funeral of his sister on Sunday.

Flesherton Station.

By Our Reporter.

Miss Frank Stewart, of Dundalk, spent Sunday visiting her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Snowden, of Guelph, spent a few days' visiting Mr. Alex. Stewart on the hills.

Messrs. McGill and Brooks took an airing on Sunday last, and drove westward, we don't know how far.

Mr. R. P. Legate is to be found for ten hours each day at his post at the mill, which he has fitted up in fine style. We had the pleasure of being shown through the mill one day lately and found everything neat and in order.

A light skiff of snow fell last week, which was very well used. It was worn away by so much driving.

Duncan Muir got on the hurricane deck of a pair of bobsleighs and started to draw sawlogs. Say, it must be coming shortly when he got such a rattle on for his lumber. If so, we will be on hand to help him through "if he asks us."

There was an attempt made to stay the progress of the Patrons of Industry in this town by forbidding them the use of the school or Orange Hall. Anyone—"a child"—can lock a door and put the key in their pocket, knowing it is against the law to break a lock or rattle a pocket, hence the success of this party. The Patrons ain't to be beaten so easily, but have made arrangements with Miss McPhail for the use of her house, and will meet there weekly from this forward. Patrons are built of persevering material and don't intend to be balked by a shadow. This question will receive due consideration in the near future.

We have been informed by Sandy that in the still, silent watches of about the sixth hour Saturday night last, a travelling saloon was seen to wend its way westward, and upon reaching a place where provisions were sold, canned salmon, etc., was added to the larder. Picnic's and camping parties are rather out of season and judging from the weary looks of the "big four" on their return they must have found it so. The next time they go they might ask a few more along to have some fun with them.

Itch on human and all animals cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. Warranted by Richardson & Co.

Lady Bank.

From our own Correspondent.

Threshing is pretty well over at Lady Bank. Inkster, Osborne and Heron have not achieved anything like the phenomenal speed referred to in your last issue, but have given general satisfaction. The turn out is also over an average in oats, peas are not so good as usual, fall wheat is a pretty fair yield, potatoes are not so plentiful as last year and some are rotting considerably.

You have two references in your paper to the Patrons of Industry, one seems to think them dead or dying, the other that they will make the storekeepers pull long faces. I think from all I have been able to find out about them that both these objects are wide of their purpose. Not far from here four lodges are organized. The "platform" as expounded by Mr. Alexander, of Strathroy, seems to take with his audiences. The increasing numbers of the patrons in this and other parts of Grey and the province seems to point to the future growth of better politics and less partyisms.

The sneers of some and indifference and even opposition of others will not stay its growth. It is to begin where the grange ended and learn wisdom from its shortcomings. The desire to be organized is quite manifest and the platform of the patrons can be widened as the need may arise. It is intensely political no doubt, but neither grit nor tory, but is intended to vindicate the rights of labor in and out of parliament and band together the farmer and the laborer.

Rheumatism Cured in a day.—South American Rheumatic Cure for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. 75 cents. Warranted by Richardson & Co.

Farewell Corner.

From our own Correspondent.

The weather indicates that winter is approaching. Although the snow is not very deep everybody has been trying to have the first sleigh ride.

Miss Kate Calder is now visiting her sister and brothers of this place.

Mrs. Joseph Stephenson has returned home after spending a long visit with her daughters, Mrs. Himer and Mrs. Hooper.

Mr. Wm. Watson celebrated his daughter's, Downie Whitmore's, birthday with a large party. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

Mrs. Laurence was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harrison, last week. Miss Maggie Witmore and Miss Emma Bell are preparing to go to Toronto for the winter.

Mr. Wm. Bothfal was visiting at the corner. He looks as young and spry as ever.

Mr. Peter Watson had a barn raising and everyone seemed to take an interest in the work, for it went together in first class style. They had a party in the evening with dancing and music.

Quite a number of people think that we are not going to have winter for a while, for they saw a blue bird.

Miss Eliza Whitmore, of Durham, has been visiting her sister Ada, and Miss Susie McKinnon.

Mr. Hector Lamont has returned home again and is looking as healthy and bright as ever.

We expect Mr. Dan McKinnon home from the Northwest some time soon.

Born.

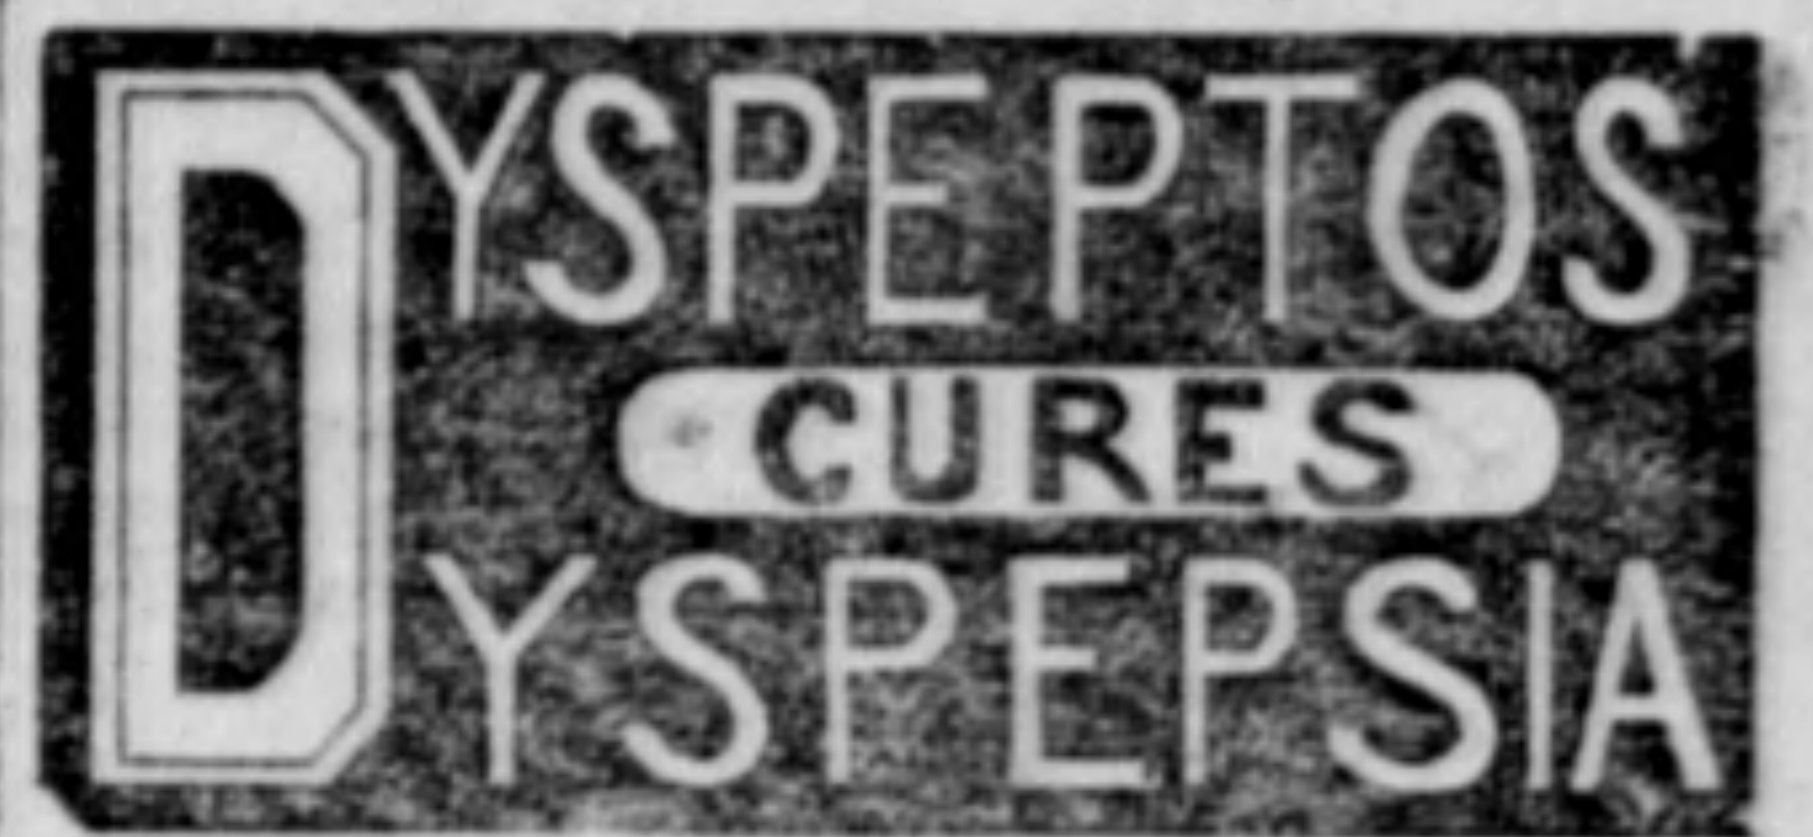

BELLAMY.—On Nov. 9, 1892, Mrs. W. J. Bellamy of a son.

Mr. James Henderson met with a very painful accident at Mr. William Brees's threshing last Monday. He was standing with his chin resting upon the lower half of the barn door while some fixing was being done to the machine, and while in that position the heavy straw carriers fell upon his head, the blow knocked his chin off the door top and brought his nose down upon it with such force as to split it from its face. The cartilage of the nose is destroyed and the wound will disfigure him for life. His head was otherwise cut and severely bruised and it will be some time before he can resume work.—[Chatsworth News.
