LOCAL POLITICS.

Political questions in this riding are beginning to receive a large degree of attention, as it is altogether likely that the electorate will ere long be called to select candidates for the local house. The Conservative party in East Grey is not so well organized as it should be. There is too much disaffection evident—too much indifference and carelessness. These failings augur poorly for future contests; still, we hope the lethargy will be thrown off, the carelessness rectified before the time arrives when such could work havoc in the party.

There is, too, a spirit of unrest in the political atmosphere. A sort of feeling that the enemy is an unknown quantity. This, however, is not confined to any one of the old parties, but to both, and is quite natural in consequence of the large defection from both ranks consequent upon the Patron movement, which has assumed a position that commands respect. This association, if we understand its objects aright, will be satisfied with nothing short of an entire revolution in the civil service department and in fact in the whole system of government. (If this is wrong we wish to be put right.) It is granted that the Patrons are a powerful organization in this riding. At the late convention in Toronto it was decided to put up Patron candidates in close constituencies; in strong Conservative constituencies, a Conservative; and in Grit constituencies, a Grit. This is a good idea and denotes a clever generalship. Well, apply this to our own riding. It is a moral certainty that the Patrons intend to submit their platform to the Conservative nominee, and in the event of his rejecting it will bring out a Conservative Patron to split the vote. This is the exact position of affairs, and it must be taken into serious consideration, and that by both the old line parties.

While both parties are on the same footing, so far as the above matters are concerned, there is a danger menacing the Conservative party that does not menace the Reformers, and that is the class of men in the Conservative ranks who are disaffected on account of the government's personnel, and who desire a change in the premiership. This sentiment appears to exist to a considerable extent in this riding, and will tend more than anything else to work havoc if it is allowed to flourish. If there ever was a time in the history of the Conservative party in this riding when it should be united it is the present moment, when so many evil Eves are whispering into the receptive ears of Adams. The habit of cutting off one's nose to spite the face should be discarded in this age of reason.

We have gone thus into this subject because we believe the time is opportune to place the exact position of affairs before the electorate. Let those interested take note and trim their sails accordingly.

A REEVE UNSEATED.

It is safe to say that, for a village of 315 dimensions, Dundalk has more litigants and litigation than any other town in Canada. Party politics of the old unreasonable school, envy and personal animosity are deplorably rampant and appear to flourish like noxious weeds. The latest news to hand is that of the unseating of Reeve Hanbury on a trivial technicality, which trial took place before Judge Morrison at Owen Sound on Thursday last. A new election is therefore on the tapis. Mr. Hanbury is a Conservative and his opponent last January was Mr. McGregor, also a Conservative, who brought the present action to have the Reeve unseated upon the ground that some Hanbury supporters were not qualified voters. The judge sustained this contention and voided the election. Messrs. McGregor and Hanbury will once more be the candidates and the contest will be a sharp one, but we mistake the people of Dundalk if they do not show Mr. McGregor that designing people of his stamp are not lionized in that community. Dundalk is acquiring an unenviable notoriety for litigation of a not too honorable kind, and the better class of people there should make an effort to stem the tide which threatens to overflow the place. As in the case of all floods it would leave a deep nauseous sediment behind and breed a pestilence ineradicable.

A Denial.

To the Editor of the Advance.

DEAR SIR,—I have been informed that there is a report in circulation to the effect that my taxes are being paid to the Irish Lake separate school, thus insinuating that the support of any property I possess here would be taken away from the place. This is a palpable falsehood manufactured by some unscrupulous persons with a view to injuring my business in this locality. I could not if I wished to support the said separate school as the distance between it and Flesherton station is too great. However, I don't wish to, and any taxes I have paid have gone to the public schools and will continue to do so. J. B. EGAN.

Farmer's Interests.

To the Editor of The Advance.

DEAR SIR:—Now, that the Government of this Dominion have decided to visit every electoral district throughout the country this year with a view of hearing all classes regarding the question of tariff, and how it affects the various industries of this country, their object being to so legislate and revise the tariff in a manner that will give fair play to all and favor to none, should we not be prepared for the question?

It is my firm opinion that the farmers of this part of the country should meet at some central place where there is accommodation and intelligently discuss the matter of tariff as a matter of business, and this without prejudice to any political party, so that we may get to know what we should ask for and be ready when the time comes to present our cause without any division in our ranks. We hope to hear our local newspapers speak on this subject. THOS. KELLS.

Nineteen Boxes.

BRANTFORD, March 20th.—The EXPOSITOR last week published an article on the case of Archie Rymal, of this city, which has caused considerable excitement in Brantford and district. It appears Mr. Rymal has had more than his share of suffering during the past few years, so far as he has run down from kidney disease that he had lost the power of his limbs and back. He could only get around with the aid of two crutches, or when assisted by kind hands. His death was daily expected. On the advice of his wife he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills, and took in all nineteen boxes. His improvement was marked from the second box. He is now completely cured, and a living testimony of the curative powers of that wonderful remedy.

Millinery.

Mrs. Trimble has returned from the City and brought with her a beautiful assortment in all the latest styles and will be prepared next week to receive her lady friends at her Millinery Parlor. Next door to R. Trimble's store.
