The Globe is running a prohibition vote on its own hook. Up to Saturday the vote stood as follows : For prohibition, 645; against, 112; for the Marter Bill, 172; against the Marter Bill, 188; for a more stringent license system, 59; for the present license system, 95.

Public School Inspector Campbell, of South Grey, has just published a Course of Study for the public schools of the County of Grey, the same having been prepared by himself and approved by the inspectors of East and West Grey. The book also contains the regulations governing the uniform promotion examinations, together with a couple of pages of valuable notes. Each school in the county will be supplied with a copy, the idea being to make public school exercises uniform throughout the whole county. If carefully followed the course will be of inestimable value in our educational advancement, and Inspector Campbell must be credited with one more good "mark" for the care and pains he has devoted to its compilation.

Alfred Frost, county crown attorney for this county, died at his home in Owen Sound, on Monday, after an illness of about two months. Mr. Frost was a son of one of the pioneers of this county, a clever lawyer, and a much esteemed citizen. His social qualities were of a sterling character and of such a nature as to endear him to those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. As a member of the bar he was very highly esteemed by his brother lawyers. The funeral took place on Wednesday, (yesterday) and was one of the largest ever seen in Owen Sound, many attending from all parts of the county. Deceased was a quiet, unassuming, yet conscientious member of the Methodist church for many years, and held the recording-stewardship of the first Methodist church.

The following obituary notice is from The Advertiser :

Mr. Alfred Frost, of this town, third son of the late John Frost, Esq., and brother of the present Mayor, was born in what is now the city of Ottawa, on the 15th of August, 1842, and came with his parents to Owen Sound while a mere child. Having availed himself of the advantages of a common school he spent some time at Victoria College, after which he commenced the study of law in the office of J. C. Rykert, of St. Catharines. Subsequently he was articled with the late S. J. Lane, Esq., (afterwards Judge) and in 1861 passed as Solicitor. In 1863 he passed as Barrister, and succeeded the late C. McFayden as County Attorney in 1875. He was appointed Master in Chancery in 1884, and for several years past has had the criminal work of the Assizes as Queen's Counsel by appointment of the Attorney-General of the Province of Ontario. From the first he has practised in Owen Sound, and for a few years past in partnership with Mr. A. G. McKay. This firm has had a large practice. For several years Mr. Frost has held the office of Town Solicitor and that of School Trustee for ten years. More than once his name was spoken of by the Reform party as a probable candidate for the Legislature of Ontario. In very early life he united with the Methodist church, of which he continued to be an active member to the end of his life, holding the office of trustee, class leader and recording steward. His death leaves a vacancy in these various departments which may not be easily filled. Yet it is the home where the loss will be most keenly felt. Mr. Frost was an ardent lover of home and family, and he spared no pains to render his home comfortable and happy. A wife and three children (one of whom is Mr. A. J. Frost, Jeweller, &c.) are left without an affectionate husband and father; yet we doubt not that their loss is his infinite gain. When the summons came he was fully ready; and while his sympathetic nature at first shrank from the idea of leaving his family, he not only calmly but cheerfully acquiesced in the Divine will. His room on Saturday evening last presented a scene not soon to be forgotten. As he took leave of each member of his family and others who were present, the place seemed to be filled with the glory of heaven. He rallied somewhat on Sunday, and made good use of the opportunities afforded him to administer counsel and advice to several who had the privilege of listening to him. He continued to retain a clear consciousness until about 9 o'clock Monday morning, and passed peacefully away to join the ransomed host above.

Editor's Table.

The World's Fair Number of The Youth's Companion, just received, is in every way a magnificent issue, a worthy contribution to the Columbian year and the greatest fair the world has ever seen. It gives a full description of the different departments of the fair, also important directions showing how to see the fair and what to see each day. Its illustrations are superb, no less than thirteen full pages devoted to photographic views of those unequalled buildings which make up the "White City." It has a strikingly beautiful cover lithographed in ten colors, with a frontispiece showing the Administration Building, the Lagoon, its gondolas and one of its numerous bridges, and the Electrical Fountain. The whole issue has Thirty-six pages and more than sixty illustrations, and is highly artistic. It is certainly without a rival among the World's Fair issues. All the old subscribers to The Youth's Companion will receive it free, and any new subscribers received, with $1.75 for a year's subscription, will also obtain a copy while the edition lasts. Seven hundred thousand copies have been printed, but are not likely to be sufficient for the demand. Single numbers may be obtained by sending ten cents to The Youth's Companion, Boston, Mass., or of any newsdealer.

A New York daily paper, taking up the idea conveyed in Flammarion's exciting novel, "Omega: The Last Days of the World," has interviewed a number of the leading men in all professions as to what they would do if science were to predict tomorrow that the end of the world would arrive within the next thirty days. The answers are various and curious, and heighten the interest which is felt in the second part of Flammarion's great novel, which appears in the May COSMOPOLITAN. It is a question which everyone will find interesting to ask of himself: What would you do if within six weeks the end of the world were certain? Probably no novel which has ever appeared in an American magazine has been more elaborately illustrated by more distinguished artists. Laurens, Saunier, Vogel, Meulle, Rochegrosse, Geradin and Chovin all contribute to the explanation of the text. A clever story of another kind is that of the new English novelist, Gilbert Parker, in the same number. "American Society in Paris" is an article of another kind, but one which will interest all who have had occasion to make even a short residence in the French capital. THE COSMOPOLITAN scores a success in producing in its May number, almost simultaneously with the daily papers, an elaborate description of Professor Gray's marvellous invention, the Telautograph, which reproduces the handwriting, or the work of the artist, simultaneously, thousands of miles distant from the place where the writer or artist is sitting. Mr. Howells' purpose in "The Traveller of Altruria" is, month by month, becoming more evident, and is now receiving wide attention at the hands of the critics all over the world.

APOLOGY.

Re School Section No. 2, Osprey.
 I hereby publicly apologize to Miss E. Inkster, teacher of S. S. No. 2, Osprey, not only in her professional capacity as teacher, but against her private character, as I find after careful and full investigation, that the charges were without foundation, and made without due consideration.
