OUR TOWNSHIP ROADS

P. S. Inspector Campbell, than whom there is no better authority, asserts that the public roads in this township are a disgrace to it, and desires to know why The Advance does not take the Council to task for the condition of affairs. He asserts emphatically that the township of Artemesia is peerless in South Grey in the matter of poor roads, and as for the gravel roads they are misnomers. Three years ago The Advance drew attention to the state of our highways, and made practically the same statements that Inspector Campbell does now, but these were pooh-poohed by men who knew all about it, and would do as they liked, anyway. In the interview Mr. Campbell expressed the opinion that this township should without delay raise a sum of money to place the roads in a proper state of repair. This, too, was advocated editorially and by communications three years ago, yet nothing was ever done, and the old system of patching was continued. The time will come when the structure will have to be rebuilt and at a greater cost than it could be done at now. If the farmers of our township thoroughly understood the benefit of good roads they would insist that this improvement should be made. It has been proved where tried that the enhanced value of property fronting on good roads, and the decrease in wear and tear of vehicles, much more than compensates for any extra taxation imposed.

The Chicago World's fair is, of course, attracting much attention these days. The American people are convinced that it is the biggest thing that has ever appeared on this or any other planet, and are booming it accordingly. Perhaps it is, but the man who visits it will need to take along a bigger purse than that which he took to any other world's fair on this or any other planet; he will also need a month of holidays, an iron-clad constitution, a disregard for his stomach, a thousand pounds of energy to the square inch, and a big reserve bank account in order to thoroughly enjoy himself. The ordinary country editor is not endowed with all of these requisites and will consequently have to remain at home and let the millionaire and dead beat have all the fun and misery.

The Ontario Legislature has passed a bill providing for the setting apart of eighteen townships in the district of Nipissing for the purpose of a natural park, to be known as the Algonquin National Park. The Advance advocated such a scheme nearly five years ago, and now hastens to congratulate the government upon the provision of such a preserve. It is only just in time, too, for under the the annihilation that was going on it would be but a matter of a few short years until the original game of these forests would be annihilated. There is still a chance that our children's children may know what a bear or a deer looks like.

The Empire has interviewed a number of leading medical men in Toronto upon the question of bicycriding as a healthgiving exercise. Almost without exception they claim it to be beneficial. One physician would rather give up his horse than his wheel.

The Toronto Globe's plebiscite shows that the Grits are ten to one in favor of prohibition. Yet to keep the Christian statesman in office they go to the polls shoulder to shoulder with the saloon keeper and the whiskey-maker.—Hamilton Spectator.

The Earl of Aberdeen has received his official appointment to the governor-generalship of this fair dominion. At present he and his fair lady are running a side show at the Chicago fair which may now be said to be fairly booming.

An amusing little episode is reported by the teacher of Greenwood's public school. A few days ago two little fellows, twins, started to school for the first time. Upon presenting themselves the teacher asked the first little fellow his name, to which the child answered Tom. His instructor informed him that he should say Thomas, as Tom was not a proper name. The second boy was paying strict attention to this conversation, and when asked for his name promptly replied Jack. He was generally called Jack, but in this instance was anxious to make no mistakes. This story is vouched for by the teacher.—Pickering News.

THE EVER CHANGING character of our stock is our only reason for having something to say every week. Constantly on the outlook for the best values that cash can buy, and ever on the alert to take advantage of any special offerings, we keep a live trade, necessitating a constant influx of new goods.

We endeavor to keep in stock while seasonable, every article our customers may require.

Judging by the number of boots and hats that go from our warehouse, we are tempted to think the census statistics are not correct, but that the country must be more populous than is generally supposed.

In both Boots and Shoes and Hats and Caps we have some special values which are meeting with appreciation and ready sales.

We have some new fabrics this week in dress goods suitable for the warm weather which is coming shortly. Delainettes are very pretty and servicable, a specially nice quality at 14 cents. Japanese muslins are new and much admired.

A fine line of colored silks for dresses just opened, and a parcel of shot trimming silks.

In men's wear we have some of the choicest new panings, just opened. They go admirably with our $2.50 black worsted coating, making an elegant and durable suit.

In our Hardware and China store we have just received new Dinner and Tea sets (direct import) in new patterns.

Our Wall Papers still take the lead for style, beauty of design and cheapness.
