A happy New Year to all the readers of the Advance.

Mr. John McConnell came to the conclusion that two was better than one and took unto himself a partner for life, in the person of Miss Johnson, from near Meaford. May happiness follow them all through the journey of life is the wish of your correspondent.

One evening lately some of the scholars were sliding on the crust on the snow. When little Sherdie Colquett slid over the rock behind the oatmeal mill and fell a distance of about twenty-five feet and lit in the middle of the river, but he scrambled out and up the other bank, very little the worse for his winter bath.

The wedding bells have been kept ringing here lately. Mr. Geo. Julien was joined in wedlock's bonds to Miss E. Hudson, and Mr. Will Hudson to Miss Louie Kernighan, and Mr. John Griffin to Miss Maggie Roberts. The latter couple started for a week's visit to friends in Listowel. The annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church was held on Jan. 2nd. The finances were found to be in a very satisfactory state owing to the characteristic energy of managers. The building of a manse was broached but nothing definite was accomplished. We trust the congregation will see their way clear for the speedy erection of a suitable residence for their minister.

The Rev. Mr. Ottewell occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church in the morning and Mr. Wm. Henderson of N. York in the evening. The Rev. Mr. Hartley is quite ill at present.

Died—Wn Thursday Jan. 4th, Mr. Malcolm McKay. The deceased has been a resident of our village for a number of years.

The extremely cold weather in Europe continues. In England many roads have been made impassable by snow drifts. Many shipwrecks are reported.

"I would rather vote for a long-eared donkey than for you," said an independent voter to a candidate for the Council the other day. "Oh, come now, you ought not to allow yourself to be influenced by family ties," responded the candidate. The voter has been puzzling his head ever since to find out why the crowd laughed. Shelburne Ecologist.

A remarkable and valuable bridle and riding whip have been on exhibition at the store of Mr. T. W. Douglass during the past couple of weeks, woven entirely of horse hair by one McMillan, a convict in the state prison at Butte, Montana, last summer. The articles are of a very fine design and workmanship and have been greatly admired by all who have examined them. They were brought from Chicago by Mr. Ed. Woolrich a couple of weeks ago.—O. S. Times.

There is not much "holiday" for country newspaper publishers for a little time before and after the Christmas holidays. There are so many entertainments of one kind and another to be looked after—municipal elections to be attended to—and municipal printing wanted in a hurry in addition to many equally pressing business, seasonal announcements, that there is not much fun for the "bosses" or the employees—especially when La Grippe is busy trying to get in some of its work, and extra "hands" are wanted but are not procurable.—Acton Free Press.
