Kimberley.

From our own correspondent.
Fine weather and every person busy in their gardens.

Geo. Walter has leased the Stuart property which is at present occupied by Mr. Waddell.

In reference to John Cornfield, of Kimberley, Mr. Editor, allow me to inform your readers that the said John Cornfield has to leave Kimberley before he can get that cursed stuff which sets men crazy. Kimberley is a temperance town, there not being a drop of liquor sold in the place.

John Wilson is building a house on his lot adjoining his blacksmith shop.

Our tailor has left us, not because he did not have work though. Because he had more orders on his book than he could have made up in three weeks.

There is a good opening here for a tailor.

We were very much pleased to have a call from Ye Editor last week. You are always welcome and so is The Advance.

Maxwell

From our own Correspondent.
The fine weather of the past week dried the road and ground up nicely.

Messrs. Bemrose and Potts left for Collingwood lately, and Mr. Alex. Strachan returned from Owen Sound.

Mr. Woodger, Sr., has come to holiday with his son, the Rev. T. Woodger.

Mrs. Bolton has moved to the house recently vacated by Mr. Bell.

Mr. Brown is putting up a stable behind his barn.

Birth—In Maxwell, on Apr. 8th, the wife of C. M. Field of a son.

The Presbyterian service was withdrawn here last Sunday owing to the sacrament. al service at Faversham.

A barn belonging to Mr. Burns, of the 8th, was burned last Sunday.

A taffy party was given at Mr. Albert Brownridge's on Monday evening. It was a grand success. One of the same was given at Mr. Burk's on Friday.

Messrs. Thurston and Hill, of Flesherton, visited town on their bikes on Monday.

Wodehouse.

From our own Correspondent.
The weather is all that could be desired, and the farmers are making good use of their time. Rain would do a great deal of good here at present. Between taffy pulls and work the young people are kept pretty busy.

Mrs. Thompson, from Port Perry, has moved into her new home, the house lately occupied by Mr. T. Carruthers.

Mr. Birch received a telegram on Sunday evening, announcing the death of a nephew, Mr. Robinson, near Brampton. The young man was hooked by a cow in the side of the neck, making a hole into the windpipe and allowing blood to run down into the lung, causing consumption. Mr. R. was a young man just married last fall, and will be very much missed. Mr. Frank Birch and John Julian went to attend the funeral on Monday.

Miss Ella Wilcox has returned to the city after a three months' stay with her sister, Mrs. Lanctree.

Born—Last week, Mrs. Jacob Allen, 9th line, of a pair of boys.

Priceville.

From our own Correspondent.
Now is the time for cleaning up the back yards.

Our storekeepers and merchants will soon have a few leisure moments at their disposal during the day.

The cattle fair last Monday was well attended but the prices offered were very unsatisfactory. However, a number of animals changed hands.

Mr. James Gardiner, our tinsmith, has fixed up a shop in his residence.

Miss Jennie Ross has passed through another season of illness. Miss Ross has had her share of sickness of late.

James Frame, R. S.; Ass't R. S., Flossie Hartley; Fin. S., D. Campbell; Treas., Sara Ector; Con., Peter McArthur; Ass't Con., Edith Hartley; Chap., Malcolm McDonald; O. S., Wesley Henderson; I. S., Dr. Brander.

Eugenia.

From our own correspondence.
All we are looking for this fine spring weather is a good warm shower.

It is reported that the Hoop & Veneer concern has passed into the hands of A. R. Williams of the Soho Foundry. There is no prospect of the creditors, who were largely wage earners, getting even a cent on the dollar. The authors in bringing about this state of affairs deserve public execration, and it is most unfortunate that the law is powerless in such a crisis. There is one consoling feature in this that Lewellyn, the hymnist, poet and active all-round religious spouter, gave his ministrations for nothing.

Miss Bradberry has been very low for some time and notwithstanding the constant attendance and care of many friends, she is not improving as fast as we could wish. We hope that the spring weather will prove a good restorative.

Mrs. Samuel Paul and Mrs. Stephen Roy are ill also and under the care of Dr. Scott, of Maxwell. We are glad to say they are slowly recovering.

Messrs. John Bowerman, Hiram Bowerman and Jas. Williams are hustling up J. Williams new blacksmith shop.

A slightly peculiar accident took place last week. A young man, who had been out to the station, landed home without a collar on the horse. After a faithful search, he was unable to find it, hence some person is the richer of a horse-collar. It to be hoped that they do not go on the principle that finding means keeping.

The foot ball team have had a couple of practices and have not lost any form since last year. We are glad to see that the Faversham team have organized and are ready for anything. The Eugenia boys would not mind playing a friendly game providing they would not beat us to badly.

The Rev. Mr. Perry will spend a week in the city of Stratford.

Recent events have revived the memory of a thrilling disaster which took place on Lake Michigan 37 years ago, furnishing what still remains a notably tragic story in the wild annals of our lake marine. The steamer Niagara, Capt. F. S. Miller, one of the best boats of the really commodious line that plied between Collingwood and Chicago in the fifties, left Collingwood on Sept. 22, 1852, with 300 passengers aboard, and when only 10 or 12 miles from Chicago fire broke out amidships, spreading rapidly. In the panic that followed 100 lives were lost, mainly through the capsizing of the overcrowded boats before they touched the water. The remainder were rescued or drifted to safety, and among the latter number was a deck hand with a baby boy of two years old, which he had found deserted on the deck and had saved at the risk of his own life. Every effort was made to find the child's parents, but without success, though its name was known to be Franc Willette, and he was adopted and brought up by a family at Port Washington. At 15 he faced the world for himself, and is now a baggage-man on the Northwestern railway. The republication of the whole story in the Minneapolis Daily Journal a few weeks ago has led to the discovery of his relatives after 37 years of separation. His parents and three brothers perished in the Niagara, but letters have come from near relatives in various states, and the grown-up waif is a waif no longer.
