W. A. DAYMAN,
Agent for Sydenham Fire Ins. Co., Walter's Point

Meaford Road.
From our own Correspondent.
Grasshoppers are plentiful. Mrs. Richard Douglas, who has been very ill, is some better at time of writing. Miss Porter, of Nottawasaga, is visiting with her aunt, Mrs. Porter. Mr. Clark, of Meaford, visited his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Pritchard, last week. Haying is about over for this year and barley and fall wheat and some peas are being cut. While Mrs. Pritchard and her father were driving to Meaford last Thursday the buggy broke, throwing them both out. Although no bones were broken they both got a severe shaking up. A lawn party was held at the residence of J. B. Buchanan last Wednesday evening. The weather was fine and a large number gathered. Tea was served about dark, after which games and instrumental music furnished amusement for the crowd. The party broke up about 11 o'clock, everybody appearing to have enjoyed themselves immensely. Proceeds $30.65 above expenses.

Pricoville.
From our own Correspondent.
Misses Jennie James and Flora McMillan, and John McLeod of the Pricoville P. S. were successful at the primary examination. Of course W. J. B's boots will hardly hold him now; have to get a new pair, eh, D. McL! Dr. Mahaffey, who has been staying at Mr. C. C. James' for some time, returned to his home near Bolton last week. The Doctor is over four score, but notwithstanding this advanced age is as jolly and lively as—as— Words fail. Mrs. James Watson intends leaving for Uncle Sam's dominions this week. She will visit friends in Georgia and South Carolina. We trust Mrs. W's health will be improved by her trip. The other evening at Mr. C. C. James' we had the pleasure of inspecting two very ancient volumes, a common prayer book printed in 1711 and a family Bible purchased by Mr. James' ancestors over 100 years ago and containing a record of the births, deaths, etc., ever since. Mr. Patton, of London, was the guest of his brother-in-law, Dr. Hutton, for a few days lately. We were glad to see the name of Walter Nichol among the successful candidates at O. S. Congratulations, Walter. Editor Irwin and Mrs. Irwin of the Blythe Standard were in town last week, the guests of Mr. C. C. James.

Editors All Know Him.

He doesn't subscribe for your paper because:
He has more papers now than he can read.
He has no time to read except nights, and his eyes are so poor that he can't see them.
He can't afford to take all of them, so he takes none.
He doesn't think much of your paper anyhow. "It never has no news, nor nothing else much."
He can get a city weekly four times as big as yours for the same price. "It's got lots of reading in it, too."
He doesn't like the politics of the paper.
His neighbor takes it, and he takes the other one, so they "kinder change off, you know."
He got mad at the editor seven or eight years ago, and wouldn't take the paper if it was the last one on earth.
He likes to see a paper that has said enough to be one side or the other, and not on the fence all the time. "Eh! I was running a paper, by Hockey, I'd, I'd—"

Epping.
From our own correspondent.
Haying is finished and also a good deal of fall wheat is harvested. Mr. J. Boyd has his new house up. The S. S. officials have arranged to hold a garden party in the church grounds here on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, Aug. 7th, gates open at four p. m. Tea served from five to seven. Literary and musical entertainment in the church to commence at eight. Mrs. Robert Douglass, of Galt, accompanied by her two young sons, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Matthews.

Three Questions.
To the Editor of The Advance.
DEAR SIR.—Will you permit me to ask three questions through your paper, concerning our school as it opens so soon.

1. Is it right to crowd three little children into one seat to the discomfort of all?
2. Is it right to give one teacher from 70 to 80 little restless children to teach? Can she do herself or them any justice?
3. Is it right that the school rooms should only be scrubbed once a year? Can our children have good healthy lungs under such conditions? A MOTHER.

Durham Items.
From The Review.
At the last meeting of the Saugeen Presbytery Rev. Mr. McVicar, of Drumore, moved that the old custom of billeting members of Presbytery be abolished. The majority it seems prefer the old system to the independent method, for it was voted down. Mr. John Dunsmore's little seven-year-old son, Dan, climbed up a tree one day lately, and taking hold of a rotten limb he was precipitated to the ground and had the misfortune to break his leg at the thigh. Mr. Don McLean, son of Mr. Neil McLean, Aberdeen, Bentinck, met with a very peculiar and painful accident on Tuesday. He crawled under a binder to examine or fix something, when on touching a lever the weight of the machine came down on him. Although he managed to get out he was found in a helpless condition, and has been laid up with a severely injured back since.

We had the privilege of examining an eggbin of eggs in the cellars of Messrs. McLachlan & Moffat the other day. Though we knew they were eggspert business men yet we did not expect their experience in the egg business was so eggstensive as it is. We had to eggspress our surprise at seeing such an eggceeding large collection. With a little more eggsertion their business is sure to eggspand, and we hope when they eggspert their profits will eggceed their eggspertation. The death of Chas. Vollett, removes one of Durham's oldest landmarks. Mr. Vollett settled in Durham over 52 years ago, at the corner of the four Townships one mile to the south of the town. In early life he was a tailor and reported a good one. He was afterwards well known as a teamster between Durham and Hamilton, and later to Guelph, and we believe amongst the first loads of produce exported from Durham was taken by him and consisted of maple sugar. For two years he has driven the Chatsworth stage, and was one of the most punctual of roadmen. A cold taken about two weeks ago, developed into other troubles, which carried him off.
