Colt Lost.

Strayed from the premises of the undersigned, lot 11, 8th con., Oaprey, about three weeks ago, a year old black filly, white strip on nose, mane cropped.

Mrs. W. Lloyd, of Mount Albert, and Miss Cleland, teacher of the same place, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn here and relatives in this vicinity last week.

The result of the recent Departmental and Matriculation examination announces the following through from Flesherton:—Primary—Hannah Stafford, M. Wright.

At the Oaprey council meeting on Monday, Councillor Taylor reported having travelled 409 rods of road in ward 5 at a cost of $158.24, or an average of 38 1/2 cents per rod.

Mr. C. J. Leitch made the run from Flesherton to Woodville, via Barrie, Orillia and Beaverton, on Monday of last week, on his bicycle, in exactly twelve hours and a half.

The overturning of an omnibus at Flesherton, filled with passengers on their way to the station, resulted in four persons being injured.

hilitated by the new method of locomotion. It must be noted, too, that the rider breakfasted in Stayner, took dinner in Orillia, and spent an hour in Beaverton, which, at the outside, would give about 19 1/2 hours of actual riding.

The following sensible item from the Bolton Enterprise is worthy of reproduction. Does it apply in Flesherton, or does it not? "The usual number of young men still held down the street corners on Sunday evenings, and in front of the churches they line up three deep when service is over each Sunday evening.

A Seem to Heresemen.—One bottle of English Spain Liniment completely removed a curb from my horse. I take pleasure in recommending the remedy, as it acts with mysterious promptness in the removal from horses of hard, soft or calloused lumps, blood spavins, splints, curbs, swellings, stifles and sprains.

On the 28th of April a cow belonging to Mr. Robert Richardson, of Grant, had a calf. There was nothing remarkable in that. The cow went on giving milk, just as other cows do, and as is right and proper that a cow should do. That was all right.

The overturning of an omnibus at Flesherton, filled with passengers on their way to the station, resulted in four persons being injured. Two of them very seriously. It was a closed rig and rolled down an embankment several feet high.

Two of them very seriously. It was a closed rig and rolled down an embankment several feet high. Aaron Wenger, a creamery owner of long standing here, was hurt so badly as to necessitate amputation of one of the feet below the ankle, and Mr. A. Henderson, of Egremont, will probably be handicapped for life by breaking his leg badly.
