The band gave some excellent music on the square Saturday evening. We understand that they received the "widow's mite" on this occasion—25 cents. The band boys announce this as a sort of encouragement for others to come up with their mites. Of course widowers' mites are quite as acceptable.

Anniversary sermons will be preached in the Eugenia Methodist church by the Rev. Mr. A. T. Wilgress sold the Clarksburg Reflector some time ago and has now entirely severed his connection with it. We do not know what Mr. Wilgress purposes doing or where he is, but the Reflector contained last week a long "obituary" notice of his severance. We scarcely know whether the notice referred to was sarcasm or the ebullition of a genuinely sorrowing heart. At all events we feel lonesome ourselves, and it is with regret that we announce Mr. Wilgress' departure from the journalistic field of this county. Although we had an occasional "spat" with him we always entertained the kindest feelings towards the gentleman. May he prosper, wherever he is.

Horse Wanted.

Horse wanted in exchange for village property. Must be quite good driver and worker and sound. A buggy and harness may be taken also. Apply to J. Whitten, Flesherton.

The Twenty-Fourth.

Her Majesty's birthday on Friday last was characterized by weather of the most satisfactory kind. There were, of course, no sports of any kind in town, and the young people were obliged to go away from home to spend their money. A dozen or so visited Shellburne and enjoyed some good horse racing there. Numbers also drove over to Eugenia to view the rustic beauties of that place—something of which people never seem to tire—it is so romantic, you know, somewhat of a lover's paradise. One trio met with an accident by the breaking down of an axle of their buggy, but arrived home in good shape in another rig. This was the only accident of the day that we have to chronicle.

The Presbyterian garden party at the residence of Mr. Stewart, west back line, was well attended and netted some twenty-five dollars.

PERSONALS.

If you are visiting away from home let us know it. If you have visitors from a distance at your place tell us of it. It is a mistake to be shy about doing this because friends are always anxious to know of such movements, and the personal corner is now one of the recognized departments of every well regulated newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reid, who moved from Flesherton to Chicago a couple of years ago, have returned and intend taking up their abode among us once more.

Mr. Marshall Forsyth, of Mason & Risch, Toronto, pianos, was a caller on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Glendinning of (The Herald) Dundalk, wheeled over on bicycles after four o'clock last Thursday evening, took tea with Principal Irwin and returned home before dark. They are both enthusiastic wheelers, and we hope they will make their visits among us more frequent. The Advance proffers them the freedom of its sanctum and exchanges whenever they condescend to honor it with their presence.

All About a Hen.

A friend of ours has a hen—a good, industrious hen—which has taken a whole summer's contract to supply chickens. She is a regular animated, befeathered incubator and requires no attention. She laid a generous supply of eggs for herself and then began to hatch. Some of her sister hens, too lazy and shiftless to make nests for themselves, undertook to supply a few more eggs for the industrious one to hatch, and they kept up the deposit until hen No. 1 was completely surrounded with embryonic chickens. Then the chickens began to make their appearance, and her owner deprived her of them as fast as they came out, while the lazy hens kept persisting in supplying her with more eggs. At present it is one of the greatest exhibitions of chicken hatching ever seen, and the hen's owner believes that she has a good solid summer's work ahead of her. She has risen to the importance of the occasion and "se's" away like grim death day in and day out. Should her constitution stand the strain her owner expects to make a small fortune out of broilers this coming fall.

Osprey Council.

Osprey Council met as a court of revision at Maxwell on Monday. There were only four appeals, and no changes were made except in one case, where Mr. John Winters' assessment was reduced by $100. The council had a very busy day of it and were kept busy until dark. This council has a habit of giving a good day's work for a good day's pay. They hold eight meetings in the year and do fully as much business as many councils do by twelve meetings, thereby saving somewhere in the neighborhood of fifty dollars to the township. The habits of thirty-four years are hard to overcome, and "father" Gamey has not overcome them. He was present as an interested visitor on this occasion to see how Mr. Preston graced the position which the ex-reeve rose above last Ontario election. Judging by the merry twinkle in his eye and general air of satisfaction everything was all right. Mr. Allan, the new member, gives evidence of making a good councilor. He has years in his favor, is good looking, has a general appearance of intelligence about him, and why shouldn't he make a good councilor? Councilor Speers is a weighty man in debate or anyway you have a mind to take him. We advised him last year to buy a bicycle but he does not ride one as yet, and consequently is not quite as willowy and supple as he would have been had he followed our advice. Still, we must confess that he looks hearty and his musical antique voice has not failed him, to which statement let all who have sales to conduct secure proof by engaging him. The minutes of the council will appear next week.

A Letter to the Public

Owing to a rush of business during the day the goods in our two large stores are thrown in heaps of confusion. Having a large staff of experienced salesmen in our store we are able to handle a large amount of business, yet owing to the tremendous trade from a distance many have to wait, and while doing so wonder how each in turn is waited upon in such a satisfactory manner. We sell our customers goods (quality taken into consideration) at prices that these goods cannot be procured at in other stores.

Many may claim to sell cheap and they may consider they are doing so, but it is only cheap in comparison to the price they once received for the same class of goods, not cheap when our prices for the same qualities are taken into account.

Some may think Patrons and Patron stores are things of the past but they have only to come to Calhoun's to be convinced that they are mistakes. Then they will see the largest number of people composed of our best and wealthiest class as well as many not so fortunate in worldly goods, but with just as much brain power, all mingling together saving dollars and cents by dealing in the PEOPLE'S PATRON STORE.

All are welcome. We invite you to call and know that we are classed with the foremost stores in the province. The highest prices paid for all kinds of produce.

CALHOUN'S, DUNDALK.
