Death of H. E. Wright.

From the Ouzay (Col.) Plaindealer.

On the morning of the 5th word was passed around town in hushed tones that H. E. Wright, known and recognized as everybody's friend, was so low with that dread disease, pneumonia, that the physicians gave no hope for his recovery. The city was still in the midst of a grand celebration of national independence and evidences of gayety and good cheer, but as this announcement was made the celebration ceased, men threw down their decorations and gay bunting, and sadness settled down over them like a pall.

He had come down from his mine, the Grizzly Bear, on the 3rd, slightly ill, but no one supposed it was of a serious nature. From the 5th to the 7th, when he lingered between life and death, however, a constant stream of friends were coming and going all day and night to and from their homes and his, anxiously enquiring for tidings of his welfare.

On the night of the 7th his spirit took its flight, and strong men cried like little children. His wife and daughter were absent, visiting at Pueblo, but the former reached here on the 9th, in time to comfort her husband during his last hours on earth. The daughter came on the next train, but no father was here to greet her.

Mr. Wright came to Ouzay in the early 70s, participated in mining in the Sneffels district, and was a factor in the first upbuilding of Ouzay and its institutions. He, with his brother, George, has carried to successful termination many mining ventures of note, and at the time of his death was operating a large silver producer up Bear Creek. He erected Wright's opera house, a beautiful and commodious structure which will stand as a monument to his memory, and was always free with his money and counsel when anything for Ouzay's interest was uppermost.

The funeral services were in charge of Ouzay Lodge No. 37, A. O. U. W., and a more beautiful and impressive ceremony was never witnessed in our city. Over a hundred of the brothers marched to his home, placed the handsome casket in the grassy yard, gathered around it with bared heads and moistened eyes, covered it with choicest flowers and sang their anthems and burial ode.

Rev. Paul Brown, Presbyterian minister, spoke words of consolation in eloquent tones, and gave the promise of the ever-living God that the dead shall live again, and Dr. W. W. Rowan and Senator Carney, as lodge officers, did likewise, while hundreds of sorrowing friends bowed their heads in silent grief.

The march was then taken up to the depot, where the train took all that was mortal of Ed. Wright, and his bereaved family and brother, to Pueblo, the last resting place of the body.

On the morning of the funeral rain downpoured and the heavens were overcast with black and heavy clouds, symbolic, seemingly, of the feeling of our people, for tears fell from every eye, and a dark cloud hung over every heart, because the sunshine of a good man's life had gone out forever. Then, as the man of God with confidence and belief gave the solemn promise of another and better life, the clouds rolled away from over the town and mountains, and the warm, bright sunshine streamed down through the trees upon the assembled friends and brothers, who lifted up their voices and sang:

As bowed by sudden storms, the rose
Sinks on the garden's breast;
Down to the grave our brother goes,
In silence there to rest.
No more with us his welcome voice,
The music ode shall swell;
No more his cheerful heart rejoices,
When peels the Sabbath bell.
But far away in cloudless sphere,
Amid a spotless throng,
His joining, with celestial air,
The everlasting song.
No more we'll mourn our absent friend,
But lift our earnest prayer,
That when our work in life shall end,
We all may join him there.

[The subject of the above sketch was a native of this place and has many relatives still living here, including a brother, M. Thorp Wright, and Mrs. Wm. Wright, Flesherton, and Mrs. Pickell, Markdale, sisters.—ED. ADVANCE.]

Priceville.

From our own Correspondent.
Dot's suggestive and timely article in last week's issue on "State Funerals" is well worth careful perusal by all. The amount of money spent on State funerals of late is a disgrace to any civilized government.
"So your brother otem of the Herald is squandering his profits! Profits of what? Printing? Non omnia possumus omnes.

The carpenters and masons have made good progress with the new manse during the dry weather.

Mr. M. Henry is putting a stone foundation under Mr. D. McLean's house. If improvements go on for the next three months as they have done for the last three Priceville will be one of the most picturesque burgs north of Toronto.

Miss Gertrude McLeod will teach the young idea how to shoot in Stone's school after the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Butters have moved into their new residence which is one of the most handsome and commodious buildings in the village.

Miss Aggie Bull, of Durham and Miss Tillie Best, of Whitfield, are the guests of Mrs. W. J. Blakeston at present.

Miss Fanny Watson, of Georgetown, is renewing old acquaintances in this vicinity.

Miss Minnie McLoughry, of Markdale, is visiting Miss Fanny James at present. Miss Grace Johnston, teacher at Dyer's Bay, is the guest of Miss Gertrude McLeod.

Swinton Park.

From our own Correspondent.
The quarterly sacramental service will be administered in the Methodist church next Sabbath morning. Service to commence at half past 10 o'clock.

Mr. Snell, of Egremont, will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning at the usual hour. The Rev. Mr. Lake, Disciple minister, is holding revival services in Mr. Peter Ferguson's barn and is having good success.

Mrs. Wm. Horton and niece, of Owen Sound, have come to reside on the farm near here. We extend them a hearty welcome.

Miss Kate McMillan, is spending a few weeks with friends in Euphrasia.

Misses Mary and Rachael Glazier, of Warton, spent last week with old acquaintances in and around here.

Miss Annie Liversage, of Cedarville, spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Stowes, of Hamilton, are visiting with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald.

Mrs. Johnston is visiting with friends in Toronto.

Farmers' Binder Twine.

Having received 5,000 pounds of binder twine (my first consignment) from the Farmers' Binder Twine Co., of Brantford, and more following, I am prepared to supply the wants of all who use binder twine. Come along and patronize the firm that has been the means of you getting twine at a reasonable price. Respectfully yours, Thorpe Wright, agent.

Married.

BURNETT-HOOPER—On the 17th of July, 1895, at the Methodist parsonage, Flesherton, by the Rev. John Mahan, Wm. Arthur Burnett, of Glenelg, to Miss Mary Hooper, of the same Township.

Mrs. Graham of Clinton street, Buffalo, fell over the bank of the Niagara River at a point nearly in front of the Clifton House. She lodged on a pile of rubbish 150 feet below, and was rescued. Her injuries are painful but not fatal.

Catarrh Relieved in 10 to 60 Minutes.—One short puff of the breath through the blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, diffuses this powder over the surface of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use, it relieves instantly, and permanently cures Catarrh, Hay Fever, Colds, Headache, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis and Deafness. 60 cents. At W. E. Richardson's.

Almost a Hopeless Case.

A Terrible Cough. No Rest Night nor Day. Given up by Doctors.

A LIFE SAVED

BY TAKING

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctors, after working over me to the best of their ability, pronounced my case hopeless, and said they could do no more for me. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I began to take, and very soon I was greatly relieved. By the time I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured. I have never had much of a cough since that time, and I firmly believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—W. H. WARD, 3 Quimby Ave., Lowell, Mass.

M. R. & CO.

Our prices for the following are exactly the same as Simpson's of Toronto advertise them to-day at their clearing sale:

Scotch Zepheers for blouses or suits—ing 17 1/2 cents.

Tokio Pongees, small figures, clearing at 12 1/2 cents.

Dress Ducks in p'n't and blue spots and figures 10 cents.

SEE DAILY MAIL, JULY 30th.

They advertise the first line as regular value 25 cents, our price 22c.

If you want cheap goods look around you near home before you send away 100 miles or more for stuff that has been rejected by thousands of shoppers.

We buy from the same sources on as favorable terms, though often in less quantities as the big city stores.

All our imported goods have the cost marked on them in plain sterling figures; if it is any advantage to know cost you can see it every time to satisfy curiosity, but what you want is the

BIGGEST VALUE for YOUR MONEY

and that is just what we aim to give you, but in order to do that we must buy to best advantage, watch markets closely, anticipate by quick action the indications of rising and falling markets and get cash discounts on purchases.

Even with these advantages we often have to accept less than cost for goods getting out of season or when stock or assortment is much reduced, as for example, the lot of summer gloves now offering at half prices.

Children's Gloves 5c per pair
Ladies' Gloves 10c per pair
Gents' Summer Socks, 25c line, for 12c

Millinery at half prices
Mantles at half prices

Do we lose money on the lines—well, yes, but you see we made some on the early stock—these are remnants of the season and we are not desirous of packing them away. You can have some if you wish. Some lucky persons will get them and chuckle over bargains.

If you buy your tea from tea peddlars you should not grudge them the extra 5 or 10 cents per lb. you may have to pay for it. Keeping horses and rigs going is expensive and the cost has to come out of the profits on tea—don't you see it? We are importers of tea and have them packed to our order in packages to suit families of 10, 20 and 30 lbs. each, with our own name and brand put on in Japan. We challenge test comparison with the teas we offer. Get our samples, it costs nothing to try them.

Japan Teas 15, 20, 25, 30 & 35 per lb.
India Teas 30, 35, 40 & 50c per lb.
Finest brands choice Ceylon teas
Gunpowder Teas
Black Teas

We still give 25 lbs. Granulated Sugar for $1, or 6 lbs. for 25 cents.
