Settlers in the Nipissing district appear to be respecting the game laws fairly well, if the story told by some of our returned hunters is any criterion. We are informed that last winter, owing to the snow being very deep, many young deer perished through inability to get a living. One settler in Pringle township captured alive six feeble young deer, and another four, which they placed in their barns and fed until the little animals were able to forage for themselves, after which they were allowed their liberty. Such instances of humane treatment of wild animals is very rare and is worthy of being heralded to the world. Many men are not so humane even with their domestic animals.

A writer in the Collingwood Enterprise advocates the purchase of stone breaking machines by municipalities, with a view to having stones removed from farm lands and crushed for use on the roads. This would answer the double purpose of cleaning farms and making good roads. The writer goes on to say: "The stones could be crushed in the winter, and hauled by the farmers and placed in heaps along the roads while the sleighing was good, and they had no other employment. The money expended would benefit all those engaged, besides removing from their farms great ugly heaps of stones which occupy valuable space and destroy the handsome appearance of their fields. And further, by doing the work in the winter, it would be done very much cheaper than in the summer, when all are busy with their own work".

Sport Near Parry Sound

DEAR SIR,—To while away an idle hour I will, with your permission, sir, give a synopsis of my recent trip and the village of Waubanick, my destination, while in the Parry Sound district, which may give a slight idea of what part of Ontario to those of your readers who may not have had the opportunity of visiting it in person. We left Collingwood on the 8th on board the neat little steamer, the City of Parry Sound. After a stop over of about two hours in the town of Midland we arrived without accident in Parry Harbor. Parry Sound is a town of about 3,500 inhabitants and is at present the terminus of a branch of the Grand Trunk Railway, and is supplied with a splendid water-works, also the electric light system. The chief industry of the place is lumbering, which is carried on on a large scale. Pushing on I arrived at Waubanick, a thriving little village ten miles from the Sound, up the north road which runs to Duchurch Waubanick is noted for its mines which are expected to turn out very handsomely for their owners. There are four mines being worked at present, two gold and two mica mines. The gold average thus far is $7 per ton. Of the mica there are three classes—1st, 2nd and 3rd. The first is rated at $7 per ton, dressed; second, $2.75; third, 75c. These mines have just been opened during the past summer and the government inspector was in gathering his report while we were there and delighted the owners of the mines by assuring them that the mica quartz which was supposed to be valueless, was worth $10 per ton at the pit. One mine has over 1000 tons of the said quartz, which is to be shipped to Toronto, where it is to be manufactured into China ware. The road has also been surveyed for an electric railway which is located to run through the village. The work of laying the track is to commence two years from next spring.

However, it was neither railroad prospecting nor mining which brought me here, which fact could be detected by the rifle and a hunting bag over my shoulder, and my lucky star was in its zenith, we having about four inches of snow, which made excellent tracking. In company with Dan Bottherell and Will Land, two sports and dead shots, we started on Monday morning for a day's sport, returning in the evening after bagging four fine bucks—two antlers and two spike horn—and on Tuesday after a five hour run we secured three more. On Wednesday we had the pleasure of beholding a moose of majestic proportions, which I was informed would turn the scales at 1500 lbs. The temptation was very nearly too great for us to resist, as we had about 75 yards between us. However, when we discovered that we had not the required $50 to spare we forebore trying the target. This, with the exception of a few brace of partridge, ended our hunting and at present we are waiting for the boat to carry us "over the river, Charlie."

ABE SHEPSON.
 Waubanick, Parry Sound District, Nov. 14th, 1895.

Priceville.

From our own Correspondent.
 United services will be held in the Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving Day commencing at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Mathewson of Toronto is expected to deliver an address for the occasion.

A large number of cattle were offered for sale last Monday at the fair, but few animals exchanged hands.

"It never rains but it pours" A week or so ago there were no butchers in our burg; now there are three, all in a row.

Kindly insert the following correction: Miss Fanny James' salary for next year is $375 instead of $275 as reported in last week's issue.

Miss McGowan of Oakville arrived in town last week to keep house for her father, who has rented Mr. William Conkey's residence.

Mr. Ginn, who has been ill, is somewhat better again.

Revival services are being conducted in the Methodist church this week.

Death has again entered our village, taking with him this time one of its oldest and most respected residents in the person of Mr. Alexander Brown, postmaster, at the age of 63. Although the deceased has been ailing for some time the announcement of his death last Saturday about noon was a shock to the community. The funeral took place on Monday to the Rocky Saugeen cemetery, a large number following the remains to their last resting place. The sympathy of the neighborhood is extended to the bereaved family who have been so sorely afflicted of late, having lost their mother a few months ago.

Mr. J. D. Brown returned from the peninsula on Friday. His party got the legal number of deer.

Cheese Factory Meeting

The annual meeting of the patrons of the Flesherton cheese factory was held in Flesherton on the 9th inst. for the purpose of winding up the past season's business and the election of officers for the coming year. The auditors' report showed the total receipts of the season's output to be as follows: Milk received, 631,823 lbs.; cheese made, 57,438 lbs., which were sold for $4,452.86; expenses of manufacturing milk, etc., $1197.30, leaving $3,255.56 to be divided among the patrons. On account of the extreme dry summer and the factory being closed on the last of September, the total output was below the average of former years. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year, viz.: Geo. Stewart, pres.; A. Johnston, vice pres.; J. Brodie, sec.; G. Warling and J. I. Graham, auditors; A. Muir, A. McPherson, G. Warling, W. Buchanan, W. Wright, J. McNichol, R. Waller, R. Stewart, M. G. Orr, J. Breen, S. Phillips, J. Hargrave, P. Teeter and G. Swanton, directors. The next meeting, for the purpose of letting milk routes and other general business, will be held on the first Tuesday in March, 1896.—Com.
