Characteristics of the Past Week Carefully Culled for the Curious.

Business notices among locals will be charged at the rate of 10c per line for each insertion. A reduction will be made on contracts for 100 lines or over.

Parliament will prorogue on Saturday.

Mr. R. Cook, Flesherton Station, inserts his advertisement in this issue. Read it.

W. A. Armstrong, optician, will be at Faversham on fair day, Oct. 6, to fit glasses, also at Priceville Oct. 7, for the same purpose. Eyes tested free.

Miles Thistlewaite has purchased the farm belonging to Mr. Thorp Wright, 1 1/2 miles south of this village, 100 acres for $3000, and will take possession immediately.

Spectacles lost—Gold rim glasses in steel case, on Monday morning, between the village and Lezard's corners. Reward for return to this office or the post-office.

Mr. Thos. Blair, one of Glenelg's oldest settlers, was buried on Monday at Zion Cemetery. His age was about 86, and he lived in the township for the past 45 years.

East Grey fair people should not complain of the weather, now that they see the quality of that provided for the South Grey fair at Durham on Tuesday and Wednesday.

W. A. Armstrong, optician, will be at J. D. Brown's store, Priceville, on fair day, Oct. 7, to fit glasses, also at Faversham on fair day, 6th Oct., for the same purpose. Eyes tested free.

We understand that a young lad named Stinson, living about three miles south of the village, ran a bear cub into a hollow log. Getting an axe he chopped the log to pieces and bear junior shared the same fate.

L. G. Campbell, dentist of Markdale will visit Flesherton on the third and fifth Thursdays in October—5th and 29th—in place of second and fourth as advertised in his card. This arrangement is for October only.

The C. P. R. telegraph operators, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, are on strike for higher wages and shorter hours, going out on Monday night. The whole system is badly demoralized and no freight trains are running. It is hard to say what the outcome will be.

Markdale fall fair was held on Wednesday of last week. The attendance was small. Exhibits were about equal to last year, excepting in ladies' work, which was very scant. Secretary Haskett says there were more entries than last year but the stuff was not shown.

A team belonging to a Mr. Galloway of Osprey ran away with a load while coming into town Tuesday morning. The wagon came into contact with a sign post at the Medical Hall, snapping it off at the ground. The whiffletrees and tongue of the wagon were badly broken.

We would like to get reports now from those to whom we gave seed of the new "Advance" potato last spring. Some have already come in, and when we get a few more we will publish the result. Send in your reports and let us know whether the tuber is going to be a success.

Fifty dollars reward are offered by the town of Durham for the apprehension of a man who broke into the residence of Mrs. A. E. Hird, a widow woman, committing an indecent assault, choking the woman almost to the point of death, and stealing a small quantity of money. The offence occurred on Sunday night last. The individual is described as a dark complexioned man about 40 years of age 5 ft. 10 inches high, wore black rowdy hat, grey shirt and black clothes, and had dark moustache.

Engineer Weeks of Owen Sound had charge of the special train of six cars on Saturday which brought the 36th battalion home from camp at Niagara. The train arrived at this station at 3.50 p. m. The boys were looking and feeling good—"Out of sight" as the saying goes. They enjoyed the outing. No. 6 Co. was treated to luncheon at the drill shed on their return home. General Gascoigne paid No. 6 Co. a high compliment on their marching and major Mutton also said they were "a magnificent company."

A Pastor's Farewell

Rev. J. Wells, M. A., after a five year's faithful ministry before the Presbyterian congregation here, delivered his final sermon on Sunday evening from the text: "Sleep on now, and take your rest." St. Mark, 14th chapter and 41st verse. The sermon was a purely gospel sermon and did not partake of the nature of a farewell. The only allusion to a parting of pastor and people was just at the end of the service before pronouncing the benediction, when the preacher said: "I have to intimate that, by order of Presbytery, Rev. Mr. McLeod of Priceville will preach here and in Eugenia on Sunday next; and as, in all human probability, this is the last time I will stand before you on this platform, I shall bid you all good bye, and may God be with you."

T. Henderson, dentist, of Toronto, will be in town professionally on Wednesday, Oct. 7. Remember the date.
