From our own correspondent.
With your permission, Mr. Editor, we will again endeavor to collect a few items for insertion. Also we trust, sir, that you will pardon our short comings, or rather long comings, of the past. As our very busy time is almost past, will at least report once or twice each month during the coming winter.

The boom which has sprung up in this burg lately is a problem which has puzzled our wise and great thinkers. Some are of the opinion that it is owing to the change recently made at Ottawa. Be that as it may, we have another new general store whose proprietor is Mr. J. C. Clark, recently of Peterboro, also our respected carriage builder, D. Blair, has erected a large and comfortable carriage shop. Then comes the chopping mill erected and owned by our worthy and pushing landlord, Mr. Neil McLean. And that the wearer of leather may never want boots, a gentleman by the name of Paine is prepared to make the right article if you bring your feet with you. Also your reporter is informed that the tannery is about to change hands.

Then the suburbs are making considerable progress. First, Mr. Thos. Lockhart has veneered his residence with brick, which has added considerably to its appearance, also Mr. A. Sherson has erected a new house and barn with other additions to follow.

Mr. Thos. Wyville has moved into the addition, which he has erected to his store. This is in the village.

Mr. Freeman has returned home from Detroit, where he has been some time for the good of his health.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton, of Churchillville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howell last week.

Mr. Johnston Little, of Maxwell, master of the forge, has opened up another shop in town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Howell removed to Wareham last week, where Mr. Howell is continuing the blacksmithing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons, of Wareham, were the guests of Mr. Wm. Lockhart on Sabbath.

Mr. James Middaugh and family have removed to Inistioige.

Miss Ray Bannon, of Dundalk, has been visiting with Miss A. Neilson.

The open season for deer passed off very successfully for the deer, only two having been killed in this place.

for a fine brick house which he intends building next year.

Miss Gerty Wilson of Proton is spending a few weeks with her cousin, Miss Eva Booth.

Mr. Wm. J. Wilson is very ill at present. Dr. Hutton, Priceville, is in attendance.

Mr. S. Lawrence, Jr., and his mother spent Sunday at W. J. Wilson's.

On Wednesday No. 11th a quiet wedding took place at Mr. John Stephenson's, father of the bride, when his eldest daughter, Annie, was bound in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. Sandy McEachern, of South Line, Glenelg. Miss Ida Kinsman acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Joseph Stephenson as groomsmen. R. J. Wilson is recovering from an attack of quinsy.

Maxwell
From our own Correspondent.
M. S. Thos. Pallister and daughter from Flesherton made a brief call lately. Mr. and Mrs. Burk from Emsdale passed through our town last week. Miss Crossley from near Singhampton has been visiting friends here. Mr. Thos. Hamblin and family moved last week to Durham. Mr. Wm. Scutt, from this vicinity, spent a couple of days in Aurora lately. Mr. Wm. Bemrose returned home from up the lakes recently. Inspector Campbell visited our school a week ago last Friday.

Priceville
From our own Correspondent.
Last Monday night about 11 o'clock the barns and contents of Mr. Hugh McFayden in the vicinity of the Stone settlement were destroyed by fire. The upsetting of a lantern was the cause of the conflagration. About one o'clock on the same night a barn belonging to Mr. A. Marshall of this village was destroyed by the same destructive element. Besides the building a pig, a number of hens and a quantity of oats and wood were consumed. Two head of cattle were in the stable underneath and how they got out is a mystery as both were tied up. Quite a ripple of excitement was caused in this burg when it was learned that the popular principal of Flesherton public school had purchased the Durham Chronicle. We wish him success in his new undertaking.

Last week one of our west end citizens imprisoned a horse in the east end pound. But the poundkeeper demanded security for the charge that might be incurred. This the complainant refused to give hence the mischievous quadruped was allowed to go "scott" free.

Our ex-mayor will have to make a more diligent study of the bylaws in the future.

Mr. Duncan McRae came home last week from the old settlement where he has been working during the summer. Mr. William Parker, of Hepworth,

Boothville
From Our Own Correspondent
Mr. D. McCannel wound up threshing for this year last Thursday at his own barn. Mr. D. Runciman is digging the cellar was the guest of Squire Ferguson last week.

W. E. RICHARDSON
DRUGGIST

Our tax collector is on the war path. The cattle fair last Monday was well attended. Business was brisk owing to the presence of a buyer who was purchasing for a Northwest drover. Prices however were not much in advance of last month's quotations.

Inistioige
From our own Correspondent.
A number of our farmers went sleigh riding Friday last, but the snow has again disappeared.

Mr. J. Galbraith has leased Mrs. H. Hunter's farm for the coming year.

Friday evening a large number of the young people of this vicinity congregated at the home of Mr. J. Johnson and enjoyed themselves with the social games of the day. The party broke up some time after twelve, all going away satisfied that the time was well spent.

Miss E. Norval left last week for Georgetown, where she purposes visiting for a time.

Mr. McLean and Miss Edith Armstrong spent last Sabbath at the home of the latter's parents.

Mr. Will. Richardson, Flesherton, visited his sister, Mrs. Redmond, last week. He spent part of the time hunting in the woods and was successful in getting quite a few partridges and a large cross fox. Had the fox been all as black as its legs and head, Will would have got a handsome sum for its fur, but as it was a halfbred only a meagre price was realized.

We understand that a Miss Richardson has been engaged as teacher in No. 4, Artemesia, for the coming year, at a salary of $235. Miss Meenagh, our present teacher, has scoured a school near Hopeville.

Mr. and Miss Bell spent Sabbath last with their sister, Mrs. Herb. Nicholls.
