Catarrhozone

Cures Permanently BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, CATARRH

Throw medicine to the dogs. At best they are unpleasant, often useless. You are suffering from some disease of the throat, nose, or lungs, Doctors call it Bronchitis, Asthma, or Catarrh, or it is a slight or severe cold. Germs cause these diseases—they have a common root.

Catarrhozone destroys disease germs, but it does more, it heals disease tissue.

CATARRHOZONE is little drops of healing carried by air to the exact place where Catarrh exists. Observe, Catarrhozone not only destroys the cause, but immediately repairs the result of diseased condition.

Catarrhozone means little drops of healing carried by air and placed over the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.

Catarrhozone is endorsed by doctors, druggists, and by thousands of Canadian people who have used it.

Catarrhozone

Yes, Sir, it is taken in air.
"Little drops of healing" carried by air to weak places in the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.
Three sizes: 25c, 50c, and $1.00, at druggists, or by mail postpaid from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y. and Kingston, Ont.

Hon. Mackenzie King has appointed Rev. C. W. Gordon of Winnipeg, Chairman of the Conciliation Board, appointed to deal with the coal miner's strike in the west.

Early Days in Osprey

Donald Blair of Duntroon in the Collingwood Bulletin gives the following interesting reminiscences regarding pioneer days in Osprey:

In The Bulletin of Dec 29th, 1910, there was published a story copied from the Christmas number of the Farmers' Advocate written by Mrs. McGowan of Ravenna, in which she claims that her father, John Weldrick, was the first settler of the township of Osprey. I do not believe this to be the fact. John McDonald, or better known as Prophet McDonald. because of his weather prognostications, settled there about 1840-41. He was one of the early pioneers of Nottawasaga and lived on one of the five acre lots near the Scotch Corners. I think it was about that time that those living on the five-acre lots were leaving for larger farms. McDonald chose Osprey which, by the way, I do not think was called Osprey then, as it was not surveyed for eight or nine years after. He was a squatter and was living there with his family about ten years before Mrs. McGowan's father left England. This is according to her own figures as she says he was born in 1882 and was maried when he was twenty-three, in 1851, and came to Osprey. There was a goodly number of settlers there at that time, but where her father settled might have been miles from neighbors. McDonald built his shanty close to the St. Vincent Road which traversed Osprey in a north-westly direction. The road was but a trail through the bush until it came to Collingwood township, in which it was cleared three or four rods wide. It was the same through the township of St. Vincent to Owen Sound. This road was the mail route between Barrie and Owen Sound till 1855 when it was changed to the railway between Toronto and Collingwood. McDonald settled near a large beaver meadow where his cattle would have plenty of pasture in summer and beaver hay in the winter. This was called McDonald's meadow, and I remember the settlers of the tenth concession of Nottawasaga, those who lived near the Duntroon sideroad, cutting beaver hay there before they grew their own hay. They stacked it in the meadow and drew it home in the winter. McDonald and his family lived a number of years without a near neighbor, the nearest being John or Jock McKay, who lived at the foot of the rock on the Duntroon sideroad. There was only a trail through the bush then and they were about two and a half miles apart. Some of McDonald's sons are yet living near the place where he settled. His first neighbor was, I think, Duncan McDougald, who squatted a short distance south of him.

Osprey was subject to summer frosts until it was cleared and these were a great drawback to the settlers for some years, but to day it is a flourishing township with splendid, farms and fine buildings. About fifty-eight years ago the north part of it, that along the St. Vincent road and the adjoining township of Collingwood, was sparsely settled. I was over it as far as Walters Corners, now Ravenna. A sketch of the road as I saw it may be interesting. From the mountain or McKay rock as it was called, there was a trail of over two miles and a half through the bush to McDonald's; to Holden's it was bush again. From Cripps' to Brock's I was told it was eight miles of thick forest with but a trail wide enough for a wagon to go through it in Osprey, while in Collingwood township the road was cleared three or four rods wide. The latter was growing thick with second growth of young trees nearly to the wagon track, evidence that it must have been cleared a good many years before I went over it. From Brock's to Walters Corners it was five or six miles of forest also, there not being a clearing between Cripps' and Walters' except Brock's. The St. Vincent road is not used at all in Osprey or Collingwood now and I doubt if it could be even traced in either except in odd places. It is a thing of the past. In Nottawasaga the only part of it that is travelled now is the Duntroon sideroad to the town line of Osprey.

Too Late for Last week

The weather is very cold and backward for this time of the year. Nothing much as yet has been done toward seeding operations.

Wood bees are at present the order of the day.

Mrs. J. Watson, Saugeen Junction, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Jos. Ferris.

Miss Ella Meads, O.D.R., visited her friend, Miss L. Dingwall, last week.

Miss Edith Dingwall, Owen Sound, spent Easter at her home here.

In the damage suit for $1500 brought by Elizabeth Doyle, of Nicholston, against Jos. McDermott, of Tottenham, the plaintiff was awarded $400 and costs. Her character, which has been grossly assailed by the defendant, the jury declared was unstained. Several letters were produced in which McDermott avowed his love for the young woman, and asking her to fix the date of their marriage. He changed his mind on meeting a Miss Hughes, of Toronto.

Principal Steele of the Orangeville high school has held that position for 32 years. Recently he was presented with an address and testimonial that took the form of a donation of 32 $20 gold coins—one coin to represent each year of his principalship. This was a very handsome acknowledgement of the faithful work done by Mr. Steele.

The statement of claim was made up of balance of rent $28.56, failure to work the place property and retain manure, $20, damages for tearing down petition, $10; total $58.56. Judgment for plaintiff for $30 and costs, to be paid within 14 days.

Collinson v. Ross—Attachment for $100. This is an echo of the late departure of the lamented Ross, who absconded between two suns. Judgment for full amount.

Ceylon

Farmers are all busy seeding.

Our new teacher, Miss Harris of Stratford, entered on her duties on Monday. Present indications are that she will prove successful. So may it be.

Mrs. and Miss R. Sproat are visiting their friends at Durham and Grand Valley.

Wm. S. Holdship, a pioneer of Collingwood township, died recently.

The Commons will start morning sessions in an effort to finish up business and prorogue in four weeks.

Lame Shoulder is nearly always due to rheumatism of the muscles, and quickly yields to the free application of Chamberlan's Liniment. For sale by W. E. Richardson & Son.

A number of prominent financiers, including Mr. Homer Reid, of town, Mr. C. W. Hartman, Clarksburg, Mr. Henry Pedwell, Thornbury, and about twenty others from different parts of Ontario, left on Tuesday in a private car for Alberta, where they have gone to inspect a block of land with a view to buying same. The party was organized by T. A. Neely, who is superintending the trip and who proposes running several such excursions throughout the summer. —Meaford Express.

The death occurred at Walkerton of Alexander Shaw, K.C., at the age of 78 years. Mr. Shaw had not been in very good health all winter. He was thrown from his buggy on Tuesday evening, and, while sustaining no serious injuries, was badly shaken up, and the shock to his system was great. Pneumonia developed, and death came. Mr. Shaw received his education in the town of Perth, but removed to Kincardine in 1858, and was there married to a daughter of Mr. Peter Robertson. He served in the Legislature and was the oldest practising lawyer in Bruce.

R. Carmichael, Collingwood, a young man of 20 years, employed as a watchman on the freighter Regina last summer lost his right leg at the knee by becoming entangled in a rope at Fort William. He sued the owners of the boat for $10,000 damages, and at the assizes the jury brought in a verdict for $1,100 and costs.

A rural mail delivery will be instituted between Meaford and Rocklyn.

When a medicine must be given to young children it should be pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from sugar, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by W. E. Richardson & Son.
