PORTLAW

A sad gloom has been cast over this community by the death of Mrs Nelson Tempest, who passed away on Sunday last after a week's illness. She was a woman in the prime of life and previous to her last illness appeared to enjoy vigorous health, and it is hard to realize that her life has been so abruptly terminated.

The little son of Mr and Mrs Thomas Blair met with a painful accident some days ago. He was opening a gate for his father to drive through when his hand was caught between the wagon tongue and the gate, with the result that the middle finger was burst open. The little fellow was hurried to a doctor, and the injured member appears to be healing.

Mrs Lewis Sheardown was called last week to Bolton to help wait on her father, who is ill following an operation.

Mrs George McDonald of McIntyre spent some days at the parental home here.

FEVERSHAM

The Jameson Bros. of the 3rd line have for the third time had their sawmill burned on Tuesday night, Sept 7th, with a loss of about four or five thousand dollars, with no insurance. These enterprising young men have for the third time to start over again and rebuild their mill, which they had recently put into first class shape, and we were told it was one of the best mills in the country. The young men are sympathized with in their great loss. We are told that they intend to rebuild, and now would be a good time for the people of this vicinity to put their hands down into their pockets and help the boys out. Only the efforts of the men who saw the fire and made their tin lizzies travel fast saved the stock of lumber and shingles in the mill yard. If this had gone up in smoke the loss would have been $50,000, besides the mill.

Those interested in hydro electric light and power should come to a public meeting in the Orange hall, Feversham, on Monday evening, October 10, 7.30 One of the hydro engineers will address the meeting, give estimates and any information asked for Mr Ferguson and Miss Stewart of Dunedin spent Sunday with Mr and Mrs Fred Spofford and family.

Mr and Mrs James Henderson of Meaford spent the week end with Mrs R Henderson in this village.

Ensign Holloway, commanding the Collingwood corps of the S A, visited our mountain village and held meetings in the S A barracks here on Saturday evening and on Sunday evening spoke to a crowded house which listened to his earnest discourse with wrapt attention. Come again, Ensign, is the wish of all who heard him.

Killed At Markdale

Wednesday morning of last week about 8 o'clock Mr. James Staples, a former resident of Glenelg, was killed instantly at Markdale, where he has resided for the past number of years. He was engaged loading ties on a C.P.R. car, and as the load reached considerable height the ties slipped and several of them fell from the car and pinned the unfortunate man to the ground. When the timbers were removed his head was found to be badly smashed and his hip and leg broken. He was 69 years of age. He served many years in the Glenelg Council, holding the Reeveship and Dep. Reeveship a number of terms. Besides his widow he leaves two brothers, Dr. Staples in Hanover and George in the West; two sisters, Mrs Jas Whitmore in Glenelg and Mrs Crowe at Allandale. He also leaves three sons, Fred on the homestead, George in Vancouver and Clarence in Smith's Falls; and two daughters, Mrs Cecil Alton and Mrs. Burnside in Markdale.—Durham Chronicle. Interment took place at Markdale. The Coroner's inquest will be held this Wednesday morning at 10.45.

Stewart-Moore

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Moore, Flesherton, on Wednesday, Sept. 28th, when their elder daughter, Madeline, became the bride of Mr. George J. Stewart, also of Flesherton. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a suit of brown broadcloth with a hat to match. She entered the drawing room while the wedding march was being played by Miss Amanda Stewart, and was conducted by her father to the beautiful arch of autumn leaves banked by flowers. Little Miss Nancy Fowler acted as ring-bearer. Rev. F. G. Fowler officiated. During the signing of the register Mrs. Fowler sang very beautifully, "I Love You Truly" After the ceremony a dainty three course dinner was served, after which the happy couple left for Toronto amid showers of confetti. On their return they will reside on their farm near Flesherton, and will be at home after October 15th. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome wrist watch, to his sister a beautiful bar pin and to the ring bearer a dainty ring.

A runaway horse at Stayner jumped over the lights and through the windshield of a car and nobody was seriously injured.

Mr and Mrs Andrew Wallace of Orangeville visited recently at Alex Fawcett's.

(Intended for Last Week)

Mr C H Quaife of Heathcote occupied the pulpit here last Sunday in the Methodist church and gave us an excellent discourse.

Sorry were we indeed when we heard Friday afternoon that James Lawrence was not expected to live. As had been mentioned in a previous correspondence he had gone to the hospital for an operation and entertained fair hopes that he would come all right, but such it seems was not to be, as he passed away shortly after nine o'clock. When the word came that he was not expected to live, his family, with the exception of his wife and daughter, Mrs John Taylor, who were already with him, hastened to his bedside and arrived in time to see him before he passed away. D L Weber took them in his car. Mr Lawrence was a good neighbor, kind father and a loving husband. He will be much missed in this community.

DUNDALK

Jamieson's sawmill on the third line, Osprey, was burned early Wednesday morning. Origin of fire unknown.

On Monday morning the fruit and general merchandise business conducted in Dundalk by Joe Surace was taken possession of on behalf of the creditors by Major G D Fleming, of Owen Sound. The firm of Surace, in operation here a year, did not have smooth going for some time, and had to make an assignment. The store is closed and the assets will be sold en bloc.

A pioneer in this district in the person of Thomas Talbot, an old resident of Inistioge, passed away on Wednesday of last week at the home of his nephew, R. J. Talbot, South Line, Osprey. The deceased had been ill since June. He was 81 years old and was born in the township of Cartwright. With his parentshe, as a very young lad, came to this district when all was wilderness. He knew all the hardships of pioneer life He was a carpenter and farmer. Some years ago he and his wife retired from the farm and settled in Dundalk. Mrs. Talbot passed away in April, 1920, and latterly Mr Talbot has been living with his nephew in Osprey. He is survived by one sister, Mrs Robert Irwin, Proton.

Fall Fair Postponed

Monday of Next Week is the Day

Owing to a continued downpour of rain on Friday last the second day's judging and horse racing had of necessity to be postponed and Monday of next week, Oct. 10, has been chosen for a completion of these events. There were fifteen horses here on Friday last and the day gave promise of being the best racing competition ever pulled off here. All the owners of these horses have promised to return on Monday next. Cattle, sheep, horses, poultry, etc., will be judged.

We were not alone in our sorrow as Meaford, Chesley, Durham, Harriston and Caledon also had to postpone their exhibitions.

The judging in the hall was done on Thursday and the exhibition was one of the best we have ever had. Grain, roots and ladies' work were well filled. Fruit alone was a little short of former years, although some fine samples were shown.

The concert at night was a record breaker, receipts amounting to $260. The talent was the best procurable—real artists. Cameron and Fax are the best entertainers we have and have lost none of their old time charm. Miss Buschlen, who has been here before, is also a wonderfully gifted artist on the violin.

There will be another concert on Monday evening next.

Dim Your Auto Lights

It comes rather late in the season and not before it is needed. From the Ontario Department of Highways comes a warning to motorists to regulate their headlights so as not to have them constitute a nuisance to other motorists on the highways. Prosecution for violation of the law in this respect it is pointed out at the department, comes under the jurisdiction of the municipalities. Frequency of complaints and the blinding effects of some of the headlights on the public highways may make necessary a series of prosecutions in order to eliminate the nuisance.

When the Ontario Legislature last session passed its anti glare headlight legislation it was hoped that motorists would conform to the light range and strength specifications as set forth therein. By no means all of them, however, have done so. Even some of the new anti glare reflectors do not eradicate the blinding effect of some of the headlights, and it is pointed out that the fact that a man has purchased a supposedly effective device does not condone an offense in the eyes of the law.
