KEEPING UP A GOOD WORK

In these days when employment is none too plentiful, it is interesting to note that in Toronto alone the Salvation Army report that, during last year, they found employment for 700 unfortunate men and women on their being liberated, after serving sentences for various misdemeanours. The Army members have from its start in Canada co-operated most cheerfully with the authorities in aidng less hardened wrong doers, on their release on ticket of leave or otherwise, to get a new start in life, and their labour, though not always successful, has achieved marvelous results. But a comparitive short time has elapsed since Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, then Minister of Justice discovered the late W. P. Archibald doing splendid work as prison gate secretary of the army in Toronto, and finding him so enthusiastic in his work of helping the discharged prisoners to begin a new life of honest service in the community, prevailed upon him to enter Government Service as parole officer. It was a most fitting appointment as Archibald, member of a noted family in Nova Scotia, had forsaken a good position in commerce to devote his life to this special service for the down but not out needy ones. This faithful officer died in the service, having witnessed its phenomenal success, through the enlistment, not only of his old associates in the Salvation Army, but of very many employers of labor, to whom he imparted his faith in and enthusiasm for the unfortunates who, in the overwhelming majority of cases, needed but a helping hand and cheering counsel to prove that they were capable of giving honest service under kind and considerate treatment. The good work is still in progress every supporter of law, order and ill directed sympathy must be glad to know.

INCREASE OF INSANITY

From a report made to the Ontario Legislature recently, it appears that insanity continues to increase in the Province, there beng now under detention in the various hospitals over 9,700 patients. Last year the government directed the return from the hospitals of 151 patients, to be maintained by the muncipalities in private homes or local institutions. There were also released, as cured, 424, and 741 died. It is difficult to ascertain the causes leading to the impairment of the mental faculties, but experts tell us that the hectic life of many modern men and women is a leading contributory. Very many of the youth of the land are constantly on the run. They do not know where they are going but they are frantic to get there before some one else.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is easy to see that there is to be a general election in Canada soon. Many of the M.P.'s are showing unmistakeable temper in the discussions.

IN MEMORIAM

WARD—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Hazzard Ward, who departed this life March 9th, 1927.

God is good, He gives us strength
To bear our heavy cross.
He is the only one who knows
How bitter is our loss
We miss him at a thousand turns
Along lifes weary way
For life is not the same to us
Since he was called away.
It is not the time that tears are shed
That tells the heart is torn
But the passionate tears in after years,
And remembrance silently borne.

Sadly missed by his loving wife and daughters.

A Serious Operation

WHY BE VACCINATED?

No one denies that smallpox is a disease to which the adjective "loathsome" may be fairly applied. It is a disease which not only destroys a number of those whom it attacks, but which also permanently scars and disfigures, to a greater or less extent, those who survive the attacks. Before vaccination was introduced, smallpox was a disease of childhood; it was then as common as measles is to-day. There were very few persons at that time who were not pockmarked, and about one death in ten was due to smallpox.

Since the year 1798, when vaccination was given to the world by Jenner, a great change has been gradually efected. In those centres where vaccination has been consistently carried out, smallpox has practically disappeared; in other places where it has not ben thoroughly used, outbreaks occur from time to time. These outbreaks, as in the case of the other communicable diseases, vary greatly in severity Sometimes the cases are mild and few deaths take place; at other times the cases are severe and a number of deaths occur.

Recent successful vaccination is the only known method by which smallpox can be prevented. Not to be vaccinated is to gamble with a disease to which anyone is apt to be exposed. There are those who say that they will defer having it done until there is an epidemic, but such persons have no assurance that they will not be among the first victims of the epidemic and that they will not, therefore, have any time in which to procure the protection which vaccination offers. These same pesons are also rather selfish, because they are relying upon their neighbors, being vaccinated, thus indirectly protecting them from the chance of exposure to the disease.

We repeat that recent successful vaccination is the only known method for the prevention of smallpox. Smallpox can be conquered through vaccination.

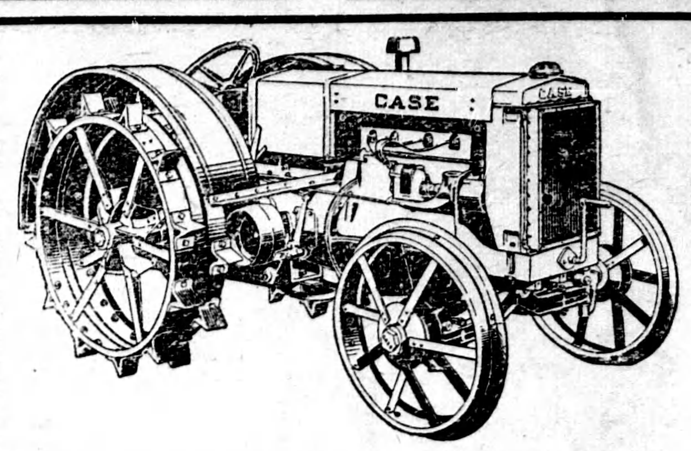
SALE AT 2:00 P.M.



The new Case Tractors Offer you many new advantages which will enable you to do your work better, faster and at less cost.

One of the two popular sizes will exactly fill your power needs. The larger size, the Model "L," weighs but little more than three draft horses. Yet it pulls a 3 to 4 bottom 14 inch plow, depending on the soil, runs a 28x46 thresher with all attachments or handles any other load requiring a similar amount of power.

The smaller size, the Model "C," weighs only a little more than two draft horses. It handles such loads as a 2 or 3 bottom 14 inch plow, depending on soil conditions, or a 22x36 thresher with all attachments. Unusual power for their size and weight places these tractors in a class by themselves, ar in advance of ordinary machines. There is less weight to be carried over the fields, more power is available for useful work.

ROYALTIES

Dominion Royalty Corporation

Now is the time to invest in what has been proven to be one of the soundest propositions ever offered to the public as an investment, namely: Producing Oil Royalties.

Preferred shares of this corporation will yield you 12% annually, and dividend cheques will be sent to shareholders for 1% monhtly.

We are proud to remind you that the Royalties which I have sold in the past, were among the very few securities that the recent slump in the stock markets did not affect at all, only to increae the confidence of clients holding our issues of Oil Royalties.

This confidence is emphasized by the fact that ALL our clients are satisfied with their investments with us in Royalties and practically all are increasing their holdings from time to time.
