Severe Electric Storm Did Considerable Damage

Two severe electrical storms struck this district on Friday last. The storm in the morning was the most severe and did the most damage, but in the evening storm the rain came down in a torrent. Albert Williams of the 8th line lost two horses, being struck with lightning, while Cliff Hutchinson of Vandeleur lost 5 head of cattle. Leslie McMullen of Kimberley also lost five head. On the farm of Dunn Lee on the 9th line of Euphrasia, ten head of cattle were killed, owned by various men who were pasturing them on the farm.

The home of J. O. Dargavel, east of Flesherton was struck. The chimney was blown off, telephone and lighting system knocked out and the stove damaged. The house was filled with smoke and fumes and for a time the occupants were afraid the house had taken fire. The bolt of electricity followed the telephone ground wire and then dispersed. It was certainly a close call.

Centre Grey W. I. Met At Kimberley On Thursday

The annual meeting of the Centre Grey District Women's Institute was held in the Community Hall, Kimberley on Thursday of last week, when 150 members of the various branches were in attendance at the 49th gathering of the Institute.

The election of officers was presided over by Miss N. Creyke of the Department of Agriculture, and resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. E. Knott, Meaford. 1st vice-president, Mrs. H. B. McInnis, Dundalk; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Malcom McLean, Priceville; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. C. Siebert; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. Bowen, Markdale; delegate to area convention, Mrs. Bowen; Federation of Agriculture rep., Mrs. Les. McMullen, Kimberley; Centre Grey Hospital rep., Mrs. H. I. Graham, Vandeleur; Junior Branch rep., Mrs. Bertha Gilkes, Corbetton.

The following were appointed as conveners of standing committees: agriculture and Canadian industries, Miss Beatrice Watters, Priceville; citizenship and education, Mrs. Edna Ross, Dundalk; community activities and public relations, Mrs. G. Quinton, Meaford; historical research and current events, Mrs. Geo. Shaw, Markdale; home economics and health, Mrs. Les. Wright, Hopeville; resolutions, Mrs. Carmichael, Bognor.

Encouraging reports were given by the conveners of the standing committees. Addresses were given by T. Stewart Cooper of Markdale, and by Miss N. Creyke and Miss Flora Furnin, both of the Department of Agriculture, who spoke on the value of short courses and of the homemaking clubs for girls.

The following Institute branches were represented: Priceville, Proton, Flesherton, Vandeleur, Willow Run, Dundalk, Hopeville-Swinton, Kimberley, Walters Falls, Clarksburg, Mill Creek, New England, Goring, Heathcote, Ravenna, Rocklyn, Thornbury, Blantyre and Third Line.

Dinner was served by the Kimberley Women's Institute. At the morning session Mrs. Cecil Clugston of Clarksburg rendered a solo, and at the afternoon session Blantyre presented a comedy sketch and Miss Joy Ellis of Kimberley gave an instrumental solo.

World Cattle Herds Rise In Numbers

Cattle raisers in most parts of the world have expanded their herds during the past two years due to the improved feed situation and the strong demand for beef and veal. Cattle numbers in Asia, Europe and the Soviet Union are on the increase, though the figures are still below pre-war, with no increase reported from Africa and South America. Considering North America as a whole, there are more cattle than a year ago, United States accounting for the increase, as Mexico has been hard hit by foot-and-mouth disease, with Canada showing even fewer catte than pre-war, the result of cutting cattle population over a six-year period.

Annual Sunday School convention at Eugenia on Wed., June 21st, at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. Basket supper.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson, Springhill, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred Leone, to Charles Melville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, Flesherton, the marriage to take place quietly the end of June.

"Do you do your own work, or do you keep a maid?" asked one lady of another.

"Yes, I do," was the reply.

"Do which?" came the puzzled rejoinder.

"Keep a maid and do my own work," was the weary reply.

Flesherton Juniors Won From Walkerton 15 - 2

What a game! What a game! A good game of ball was played by your local junior entry Monday evening. They stole bases, pulled the old "squeeze," hit the ball for two baggers, in fact did everything that the managed asked of them. A well-drilled team was on display. A bouquet of orchids to the guys behind this bunch of kids. They're not playing like kids, but big league stuff. The hit and run sign is on and can those lads put ground under their feet. Come on over to the next game which will have Shallow Lake here next Tuesday night, June 27th.

In the game Monday night, Bruce Boettger, 14 years old, pitched seven innings and only allowed three hits, striking out eight. The two runs Walkerton counted in the first inning were unearned, two errors getting them where they were. Bob Falconer pitched the last two frames and gave two hits, and struck out three. Walkerton only had five hits the entire game, but made eight bad errors.

Shallow Lake, here next Tuesday night, is one of the best teams in the league and the boys will have to be on their toes to eke out a win, it could be a "squealer." We have a good club, one that deserves your support, so get behind the kids, the rootin' section is what makes them dig in and scoop the ball out of the dust or pick it off the sign board in centre field.. So come out and see a little ball team play big ball.

'What Went Ye Out to See?'

It sometimes is hard to retain the deeply-held conviction that freedom of speech—whatever the word spoken—is the essential of all freedom. It is difficult because this freedom is used to support such tawdry, such vicious, such insincere causes, promoted by such deluded if not designing men.

Can anyone believe that the Very Reverend Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, or his Canadian imitator, the Rev. James G. Endicott, are deeply concerned for the peace of the world than are the rest of us, or that such concern as they have is not touched by the meagre vanity of working for a peace of their own devising?

Can anyone believe that the thousands who attended the recent meeting at Massey Hall, Toronto, to hear the "Red Dean" speak, came with sincere and questioning and open minds, or can they doubt that they came otherwise than in the spirit in which the Very Reverend Dean and his less impressive countrpart set out on their various journeys, with a mind open to the sights it wanted to see, the words it wanted to hear, and the delusions it wanted to embrace?

Can anyone believe that when Dr. Johnson blandly states that "everything points to the Soviet Union wanting peace," that "they talk peace, think peace and work for peace," that "Stalin has repeatedly shown his willingness to talk peace but the western powers have scorned his offer," he is not parroting views that have been presented to a vain and gullible man ready, if not eager, to be confused and deluded,

On another occasion the Reverend Dean said: "Nothing strikes the visitor to the Soviet Union more forcibly than the absence of fear," a statement hard to square with the reports of those escaped from behind the Iron Curtain. Or again: "I know of no country where human life is regarded so highly as in the Soviet Union," and "The things done in Eastern Europe should be welcomed as they are things we have been preaching about for two thousand years."

With all the evidence of detached and dispassionate witnesses, with the tragic story of Cardinal Mindszenty, and the record of the Communist attitude to the Christion church before us, such treatments should be the measure of the heights and depths of the "Red Dean's" delusions, a commentary on the open-mindedness of those who eagerly listen to him and on the purposes of the Canadian Peace Congress who, in the name of peace, bring delusion, or worse, to be our inspiration and our guide.

Eunice: "Would you refuse to go out with a man who had made just one mistake?"

Clara: "Sure, who wants a man with as little experience as that!"

Old Time Resident Has Returned To West

Mr. and Mrs. Will Carr, who have been visiting here with the former's sister, Mrs. Geo. Lawler, have returned to their home at Calgary, Alta.

Mr. Carr visited the scenes of his boyhood at Eugenia and found many changes. It is 49 years since he left that picturesque little village and he missed the old saw mill where he tail-sawed for his father, of which not a remnant remains, and also of the Sloan planing mill. Those mills did a great deal of business while they had the water power, but hydro power, developed at Eugenia, did not leave water for other purposes. He met many of his old friends, but one was laid away while he was here, Jake Williams. He recalled the time when Jake and Wallie Williams and himself gave humorous dialogues at entertainments, which were greatly enjoyed, favorable comment being made by the pastor, Rev. Wells, who was the first Presbyterian minister at Eugenia. There are many who no doubt can recall those instances.

Markdale L.O.B.A. Presents Gavels To Local Lodge

The officers of Lady Sproule Lodge, L.O.B.A., conducted the initiation of a new member into Carnation Lodge, Flesherton, at the regular meeting of Carnation Lodge on Monday evening. During the course of the evening Worthy Mistress Sr. Turner presented a set of lovely gavels to Carnation Lodge, which were received by W. Mistress Sr. Lillian Thurston on behalf of the Lodge. The gift was greatly appreciated by the local Lodge. The ladies planned to celebrate the Twelfth of July at Dundalk, the celebration being conducted by Proton Lodge No. 244, which is observing its 100th anniversary this year.

JOHN McWILLIAM INJURED IN TORONTO CAR ACCIDENT

Mr. John McWilliam, manager of the O. & A. Co-operative, was injured in Toronto Thursday afternoon last when his car was struck head on by another car on a street in Toronto. Mr. McWilliam received cuts on the head and injured legs and was taken to hospital, where his injuries were dressed. His car was almost a total wreck. He was able to come home on Friday.

Orange Lodges Attend Divine Service Sunday

Flesherton Orange Lodge and L.O.B.A. attended divine service in St. John's United Church on Sunday morning, and were joined by members of Maxwell and Eugenia L.O.B.A. Lodges and from Proton Station, Orange Valley, 4th Line, Eugenia and Maxwell Orange Lodges. The members met at the Fraternal Hall and paraded to the church, headed by the Durham pipe band. After the service the members paraded to market square and returned to the Fraternal Hall.

Wor. Bro. J. W. Cook addressed the large congregation and outlined, in a splendid address, the aims and objectives of the Orange Order, and the fight for the open Bible from the time of William of Orange. Rev. A. G. Macpherson, pastor of the church, added a few remarks on the growth of Protestanism from the time of Wycliffe and Martin Luther and other staunch Protestants. As Sunday was Fathers Day, a men's choir led the service. Mr. Harvey Boettger rendered "The Stranger of Galilee."

Newspaper Mistakes

Every once in a while one hears the remark that newspapers make too many mistakes. Well, don't we all?

Can you imagine that,—— newspaper making errors. Yes, they certainly do make errors and heaps of them, and so do people who criticize the mistakes made by the newspapers.

Consider for a moment if you will . . . did you ever hear of the woman who forgot to put the tea in the teapot of hot water; the woman who forgot to salt the potatoes or meat; the lawyer who lost a case because he made some mistake; the clerk who never made an error putting up an order; the doctor who never made a wrong diagnosis; a postal employee who never put mail in the wrong box; a carpenter who never sawed a valuable board off at the wrong place or the druggist who never . . . Oh well, why bother?

That's the idea! Why bother to print the entire list? But further still, in what profession do any mistakes come more to the general public notice than in the case of the newspaper? It would also be enlightening if some of the critics who make the most of petty mistakes in newspapers had an opportunity to know about the hundreds of mistakes newspaper people correct for other persons each year.—Kitchener-Waterloo Record.

"Why so off-handed with him? Does he owe you something?"

"No, but he wants to."
