His penknife, sharp and bright. And while the sparks were flying wild

The cellar floor upon, Quoth he unto himself, "I will Dispatch my Uncle John. "His property is large, and, if He dies and leaves a will,

His loving nephew (that's myself) Won't get a dollar bill. "I'll hie unto my uncle's bed, His chamber well I know.

And there I'll find his pocketbook Safe under his pillow. "With this bright steel I'll slay him first Because that is the way

They do such things, I understard,

In Loucicault's new play." By this the anxious moon retired (For all the stars were in): "Tis very dark, the nephew cried,

"But I can find my kin. "Come forth, my trusty weapon, now (Or words to that effect) He shouted to his little blade.

Whose power he did suspect. Then out he starts. His uncle's door Is thirteen doors from his : He gains the latch, which upward flies And straight inside he is!

One pause upon the entry stair And one upon the mat-How still the house at such an hour ! How mewless lies the cat!

"O nephew! nephew! be not raah Turn back, and then 'turn in ; Your uncle still is sound askep, And you devoid of sin ;

"The gallows tree was never built

For handsome lads l.ke you-Get thee to bed ! (as kind Macbeth Wished his young man to do).' He will not be advised-be stands Beside the sleeping form-The hall begins to beat outside A tattco for the storm.

"Tis not too late-repent, repent, And all may yet be well. "Repent yourself," the nephcw sneer And as it goes pellmell.

To right and left he carves his way,-At least, thus did it seem : And, after he had done the deed. Woke up from his bad dream.

And swift to Uncle John he ran. When daylight climbed the hill, And told him all-and Uncle John' Put nephew in his will.

AT THE TWELFTH

HOUR.

BY R. F. FRANCILLON.

CHAPTER II- CONTINUED.

should say. I hope he is well?" a little girl? Well, he was just the man to age, had she been happy for an hour. She get married before he died. and confidence in your prudence and honour, and far away; and now --- Well, if she whelming dread lest his little girl should would be better than the garden of the ever Time may bring," said he, "This grow up a prev to fortune-hunters, or he world; even the wayside. contaminated by the companionship of other hermit-like mode of living, he leaves you a over the soil of a bed of roses and laid open that you will, as joint guardian with myself. We, with our sensible bringing up, our welleducation of the child (she living here with hearts, may think her view of such every day you) until she attains the age of twenty-four. trifles a little overstrained. But then we at which age Mr. Derwent believed that a have seen such things with cur eves : she girl, properly brought up according to his had never so much as heard of one of them views, ought to be able to run alone. She till now. Such a world was not to be lived is now in the charge of an aunt, Mrs. Joy. in; there was nothing to be done but spread "What, 1? No. No. Mr. Dimond.

Without hesitation, and most decidedly, No. Few years bring, and shall bring, no new things to me. What should I, a student who live alone with my books, do with a girl-a child "--"The orphan of your friend-"

"Whom I to need, and who does not No. I closed my door last night and I close it still. I will have nothing new "Not-ten thousand pounds"-

"No. No, once for all." He bowed Mr. Dimend out, and went back to his work without giving another thought of the New-Year's evening but vain attempt to creep within his doors in the shape of a child.

It was all very well for the lawyer of fifty Equally reasonable was it for Rupert to argue that, since Dick Derwent was unmarried some six years ago, his orphan daughter could hardly be five years old. But there had been left a tather and a widower within worked on till his brain was heartily tired. willing to deprive himself as he was anxious was turning into a machine; and so he that his daughter should not share it, he had | willed discovery of her existence till she was fully lows with no money to spend, who would guarded her was suddenly dismissed; she ham without stopping, and, every hour, the tle, and her father was always kind-kind | twelve. of the world must have been before he set- door tled down at Combe Bassett with the soul of a girl in his hands. Perhaps not the less because he had made obscured, and when the senses, cut off from had related this ancedote he asked M. Ferher life so dull and empty. But presently real sights and sounds, are compelled to find dinand de Lesseps to a low Prince Said, his a party of six guns, killed 7,800 head of she had to mourn for her living self, even their own food. He had almost forgotten she was left in charge of another guardian : angrily. If it happened again it would wake grew fondly attached to the inte ligent and a hard, stern man, named Hildreth, so she the servants, threw the house into a tumult heard; a recluse, who had been chosen by and rob him of a whole night's work-and her father for the office because of his being that must never be. If only to say No the only man in the world who could be somebody, he must go down himself and trusted to carry out, consistently and thor- stop the ringing, otherwise nothing would oughly, her father's views. Hitherto, her have moved him from his deak had all Ra:nlite had been slavery, but love therewith. ham been on fire. Henceforth it must be double slavery, and therewith what must needs become hate, at least on her side.

she heard from Mr. Dimond of Mr. Hil- hand upon the bell. dreth's decisive, almost scornful and angry, "What does this mean?" asked Rupert, him. She had somehow expected that he want here?" accept a duty, if they were inconvenient to far?"

Miss Derwent," said the lawyer, such a trifle as a lost way. when his holiday was over and he came in | "But-is it very far?"

thing about that fellow Hildreth that I like heiress of Combe Basset, you may be sure. Me?' Your honoured father did know men." "But there is something else to be said it seems to me! How if I retuse?"

"Then he is to have Combe Bassett with trained O'd Year gone crazed? out you. You are to have enough to live in alive and dead, to keep her from a world all" been married and widowed long ago, she have absolutely nothing to do. to her lands and her gold. Let him who bidden to make my wife in my old age?" had refused to be paid for the care of her ask her for herself with her lands a hundred times-she would refuse bim a hundred and come, so long as he left her free. all these magical signs of love that cannot lie. What had become of him? Where was he now? Had he forgotten her all in these fuse"-years? Had he sold himself to some other woman, for gold? Like enough, being a man: and men being what she had been taught they were. But, had they never been part ed, he would have loved her well enough.

she knew. shall have everything but Me: I will not make my No less full and whole." After "He is dead, Mr. Hildreth. He died last where she might-she fancied in her heart an Old. November, in town. And his little girl" go back, and live alone with her dream and But be Free. Never, since she left her hermithad been, as it were, a wild flower trans-"She has no mother. She died, you planted into a garden, where it can only feel itself a weed, and dread the scents and hues Hildreth, to make a long story short, Mr. around that others find beautiful. She had Derwent had two ideas - perhaps more, but once longed for the world, as the wild flowers certainly two. One was an unbounded trust may for the gardens while they are unknown

She could not think or feel as those can and Good, let all come : they all come He believed that every girl ought to who have grown up in the garden all their the same place by the same road. communication with, the world. He had ed that, when she heard such an everyday with you . . . had experiences of the other sort of thing, thing merely named and spoken as the sale, new, and God speed the old! by a woman, of her hand and heart for the Rainham clock took a long time to strike Mr. Hildreth, knowing your prudence, your sake of keeping her land, she was as struck all this, and more had been told, when friendship for him, and your with unspeakable horror as if she had turued boomed-Twelve! legacy of ten thousand pounds on condition the entrance of a charnel, black and foul. undertake the sole and entire charge and regulated minds, and still better regulated one's wings, and fly from it with all speed.

CHAPTER III.

It was the 12th of January, and Ruger Hildreth had not yet heard another word worth mentioning concerning his friend's orphan and her affairs. It is true he had received a letter from Mr. Dimond containing some rubbish or other about something that was to happen if he married the child when she became of age; but, as that could not happen for nearly twenty years, and as way, he had naturally thrown the letter, half read, into his waste-basket, and, being torgotten to send a word of answer. He him and his labour, or between his caper and

So far, therefore, he had made himself thought his client's intimate hand, increasing satisfaction with himself and indifference to all the rest of mankind.

as usual, and I was even more than usually Her eldest sister became Mrs. Kirkpatrick, grown. His friends were mostly good fel- absorbed. It was a lonely old house in which he lived, near the town, but yet with who was drawn by her De Lesseps kindred swoop down on an heiress after the genial no close neighbours. These dark winter to winter in Paris when her daughters had nights were as long and as noiseless as the heart of a student could desire, even though, scream of the night mail that passed Rainchiming of the church tower. It was more thar Rupert Hildreth had double windows to all his rooms, and kept them close even in unlettered Turkish officer, Mehemet Ali, a now, even in keeping her to himself; for she He made his servants go to bed punctually to feel absolutely alone. And never, since Turk to his house, and showed himself in by winners in her pedigree- Lord Lyon, gestures, more expressive than words, be something that will get out of order, and their official visits would become odious and fortune-hunters whom he now, as if turbed after that hour. At first, therefore, ruled by a craze, spent his whole time in he could hardly believe his own ears when, avoiding. He need not even have made that late in the evening, and long after his servants were out of the way, he heard a bell ring through the house—no sound of a church to think what my reason was for keeping clock, but within the house itself, as if such happen to minds so absorbed in thought that pass in his eyes for being to e thief, and never less than the control of the cont She mourned, honestly, when he died, outward things often become confused and dared after to return.' Soon after Mehemet than a battue of hares. One might as well was an heiress-she had learned the matter, when the bell rang once more. very sound of the word. And It must be real, then, thought Rupert

He opened the door just in time to save And yet it was with a strange feeling, light of the moon, then at her full, he saw a of the tides can be utilized.

him, even for ten thousand pounds. If "No. It is straight along the road," said vice for utilizing mechanically the free tides, dramatic composition. They find his storm there were to be refusals and rebellions, Rupert, rather roughly. It was something as they sweep along our shores, would come dramatic composition. They find his story they ought to have come from her.

Rupert, rather roughly. It was something as they sweep along our shores, would come dramatic composition. They find his story next to that, since it would enable us, old, and protest that the monotone of mis-"It seems to me you have had a lucky work, and to be rung up at such an hour for through converters and carriers of electrici- fortune running through the piece grows at person to bring her news. "There is some | "There were limits to even his cultivate neither like nor understand; he's not like thing strange about the girl, he thought, as other people at all. He refused a legacy of the spake thus doubtfully and wearily. She timent a month carlier than the date to did not look like one to be rambling about which it had been prorequed is undoubtedly could of an utter misconception of the children and the childr "At any rate, he is no fortune-hunter," thing to him, he had not as yet wholly aid she. "Perhaps my poor father knew ceased to be a man. "I suppose," he said, business will be entered upon as noon as Magnier which survised even Paris. that, and that was why —. And what am "you have triends at Ramnam and are on I to do now?"

I to do now?"

Ceased to be a man, I suppose, no take, they assemble. The session promises to be your way to them? It is not very far, but I the most momentum one since that which in Paris is the Marquis of San Malato, the "That's just the point, you see. The sm afraid it is both very far and very late— saw the repeal of the corn laws. The Gov- Sicilian poblemen, who, after ranging terms of the will are perfectly clear. In the event of Mr. Hildreth's refusal to undertake the charge of you—why, then, as you say, he will have proved himself very much of a "You have business, then? Nobody ever the contribution of the contribution of the contribution of the will at once grapple with the Irish question, and will unavoidably get into stormy waters. It is certain that nothing it can do will place the Land League, and best fencing master in Europe, and the most

" You are Mr. Hildreth?" All be forced upon the attention of the Govern-"That is my name. And yours?" his sterness had returned. Had his well ment. There can be no doubt that "You will know who I am," said she, comfort while you are single; but under no sadly and proudly, "when I tell you why I The hard times have forced farmers to sericircumstances will you have anything more am here. It is to tell you with my own ously consider their position, and their ideas if you marry anybody but him. It is a cruel lips, before I leave such a world as this, on this subject have been freely expressed marry! Why, if her heart and soul had not me," said he, "but this is a matter which I the recent meeting of the Farmers' Alliance, would return with joy to her old prison in mean to tell me, whoever you are, that you principles of the Land Leigue. There seems man as an uncomfortable condition attaching into my house and life the child whom I am

"What else? Are you playing me some one. Let him take Combe Bassett and wel- lamp: partly to think, partly to see. "I have at length finished their work. That opera at Her Majesty's. remember-only eleven days aco some law. this has been no light task is shown by the And then the pittance that was to be yer fellow wanted me to let in the New Year fact that it was begun in 1870, and that for in the shape of a child. I refused him at four days in every month since that time the ing to what she had been taught of the the right time: it's too late now! What committee have met to proceed with their world, would be all too much; even that have I to do with Dick Derwent's child? duties. This makes one year and seven might be enough to attract some man who There is an early train to-morrow : take it, weeks of actual working days of seven hours was poorer still. Was she to be a slave to and go back again. And tell those who sent each. The private study that the members the world's meanness all her days? Her you here that if wealth, and power, and have performed to prepare themselves for heart went back to him who had loved her glory, and wisdom, and love, came knocking the monthly me tings cannot be estimated. wholly for herself, if there was any truth in altogether at my door, I would say, as I say The movement for the revision of the New to you-I want none of you : Go !' "I tell you that I, Bertha Derwent, re-

The lamp was lighted. One! struck tion to the whole scheme was raised by Rainbam clock. And never since Rupert had lived there had he heard so loud a Thompson; he didn't like the idea of the stroke. For it made no muffled thud through Bible "being laid on the table of the anadouble windows, but a fuil, heavy boom tomist and subjected to this rude process : through the open door, which Rupert had and he "begged for breathing time before even than Love, was Liberty, for that had thrown open at the second ring and had they sent their beloved Bible to the crucible become her all. l'assignately she felt. "He neglected to close-on Old New Year's Eve! to be melted down and recast." The lamplight was on both their faces : in ing was largely shared by the older lav the ears of both boomed the bell. No chimes | members of the Episcopal Church, who couheralded the birth of this New-Year of sidered that what had beed good enough for theirs, though that twelfth day of January them was good enough for their children. is as surely New Year's Eve for those who It was explained to them that, although will as Twelfth-Day is Old Christmas Day, the New Testament might have been origin-For those who will? well, maybe any day ally inspired, its translators clearly were in the year will so as well. Only it did so not, and that numerous and important adhappen that, when Rupert lett the door ajar ditions and errors had crept into the text : for a young girl to enter, he had forgotten that the faults, in the light of modern schothat, where evil is to be let out, and good larship, were easily eradicable : that mil-

"And I refused you?" the New Years-but how could I tell? And having the Bible "diluted and Frenchified." what else have I barred out? Harm, vesng-how many more?"

as his will testifies. The other was an over- could not find her field again, any place round the world. "Neither you, nor what New Year's Eve for me. Good and grow up alone, with no knowledge of, or days. So little, or so much, nad she learn- all come together, so they come, at last,

De Lesseps' Luck.

The empress was the Isabella the Catho of the Suez scheme. But for the Spanis ardor wi h which she sustained it, the Isth mus would still divide the Red from the Mediterranean sea. "Your head." she said speaking of a course in figure) to Count in helping my co.. sin to cut his canal." le Lesseps' father, who was descende the architect of the Cathedral of Edinburgh was sent with Lucien Bonaparte to Madrie because he had been brought up a: Bay nne and could talk Spanish as well Louisiania, which Louis XV. Lad allowed deep in an all-absorbing investigation, had slip from his hands. M. de Lesseps the elder went about always with him, and was the worked on, without giving a real thought to soul of his diplomacy. The New Orleans affair trought him into relations with the Un.ted States consuls, the most of whom was Mr. Kirkpatrick, who, was in his pen, he had become used to that ghost, business at Malaga. M. de Lesseps proceedand would even have missed it if it ever ed to that town, and, assisted by Kirkpatrick, who, like himself, was of Scotel he likes, as your bluff, frank, hearty, talka- which had so consistently proved good to tion of the south of Spain. They were drawn Grevigny, had two very pretty dang ters.

a year: nor only so, but that, surrounded Every night he insured himself a long sleep. youngest, and as Lucien Bonaparte was in The French diplomat became enamored of the too deep for dreams. The man, day by day, high favour at the court of Ma rid her On this night of the 12 h he was working, where, in 1804, she gave birth to Ferdinand and the mother of the comtesse de Montil grown up. "Thus, you see," observed M. de Lessens, "what a number of great events upon my fathers early knowledge of the foreigners, Australia, the Cape of Good plosions" or in other words talking a great her sister, asked, "What was the chaos

She was doci'e and genof church clocks, especially when they struck French diplomat reported in this sense to Freuchman, for Czariua, a King Tom mare. those sacred walls on Front st. No more were both to fire at the same time. officer withdrew from his company, and kept out of the way. When Mehemet was a great man he said to M. Ferdinand de Les- having a good season. At Duppiin, seps : "Your father must have been puzzled A WERK'S BAG OF HARES ALONE WEIGHED aloof from him after I had accepted so much an impossible thing were happening as that kindness. It was this: A silver knife and There must have been a great many times upon his like again," et hine ille lachryme. that the Squire's own experiences somebody was pulling the beil of his front tork I heard the servants say, had been st len from his table at a dinner to which I damage done by them to the crops in the It could not be fancy—such things often went. I was so poor that I fancied I would neighbourhood must have been enormous. son, to pass his afternoons at the French game in five days, and in Kent, the Duke of

The Utilizing of the Tides.

A Philadelphia engineer has invented, himself from another ring. By the bright is claimed, a machine by which the power very far indeed from pleasare or relief, that young girl well wrapped in a cloak with her plans have been proposed for the accomplishment of this most desirable end, but only under exceptional conditions have they refusal of the charge that had been left to sternly. "Who are you? What do you been practical or economical. If the new nate. At the Gymnase, device can harness the tide in an open chanwould have received her for money's sake, "I-I'm afraid," said the girl, looking nel, so as to convert any considerable por and then, for duty's, have made her life round her doubtfully, "I'm afraid I've lost tion of the vast power into working force, by Edmund Gondinet and M. Koning, faile hardly to be borne. But here was clearly a my way-I saw a light here, and no other the inventor will rank among the great bene- unmistakably on its first production. The man who would neither do a kindness nor house near-I came by the train-is it very lactors of humanity. Enerson says some- critice, with every desire to extenuate the where : Hitch your wayon to a star. A de- disaster, accuse M. Gundinet of writing obimprudent to have the charge of a young alone at midnight; and though nothing con-best fencing master in Europe, and the most Another and not less difficult problem wil permission to try an assault of arms on him shut up? Allright. Happy New Year. is twice that amount. Tito Mattei's new opera, by its sale. It was their subvention of £500

PARNELLISM IS SPREADING IN ENGLAND. "MARIA DE GAND," will, Miss Derwent; but it is a clever one where men buy love, and let hearts starve, at the agricultural meetings, which take produced at Her Majesty's, is a contemptifor its purpose, I must say. Whatever hap- that Combe Bassett is yours, every blade of place all over the country early in Decem- ble melange of old ideas. It is easentially HER LIFE, HER WORKS, AND HER STATUS pens, the man who marries you must marry grass, every stick and stone, without your ber. It is plain that both landlord and conventional and commonplace; coming after you for love and for fortune, you see; having to be put to the shame of asking for tenent are in a quantary. In the midland, such a masterpiece of originality as Boito's the hand of one whom you refused even to western, and southern counties there are "Mefistofele," it was received by the Lou-The hand of one whom you refused even to she heard no more. No wonder, thought look at when she could be nothing more to large the novelists of her sex. In guise with her daughter, a child, and found hight at a court ball to send by bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant look at when she could be nothing more to ly bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant look at when she could be nothing more to ly bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant look at when she could be nothing more to ly bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant look at when she could be nothing more to ly bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant look at when she could be nothing more to ly bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant look at when she could be nothing more to ly bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant look at when she could be nothing more to ly bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant look at when she could be nothing more to ly bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant look at when she could be nothing more to ly bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at when she could be nothing more to look at she, that her father had done his utmost, you than the orphan of your friend. That is on any terms. In the country of Easex alone ly bordered on disgust. Matter is a flippant and tinselly composer who has written a lett profiled the land tinselly composer who has written a le fifty thousand acres are lett untilled; the and tinselly composer who has written a whose novels have gained a place in English quently married Mr. De Breuil, a rich mer- statue of Peter the Great. where men, as a matter of course, assumed "He looked, almost in amaze, certainly farmers have gone to London and hired out number of songs of a sort sure to be popular only the meanest and most cordid motives bewildered, from her into the dark entrance as helpers in the stables of London horse- in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance as helpers in the stables of London horse- in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in the stables of London horse- in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in the stables of London horse- in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in the stables of London horse- in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in the stables of London horse- in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in the stables of London horse- in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated bewildered, from her into the dark entrance in the stables of London horse- in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated below to the dark entrance in the stables of London horse- in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated below to the dark entrance in the stables of London horse- in drawing-rooms, but who is utterly incapated by the longon horse- in drawing-rooms and the stables of London horse- in drawingin one another-judging, no doubt, from through which the night wind had followed owners at $5 a week. In view of these ble of operacic composition. The melody to their own experience of their own. She her, as little welcome as she. "Pardon facts, it is not surprising to hear that, at which he owes his fictitious fame is the "Non e ver," which so long d.vided the Do you a delegate was for adopting some of the affections of amateur singers with "Ma den's Prayer" and other sentimental the wood rather than give herself to any are in league with those who seek to bring to be no probability of any "let up" for nonsens. Matter wrote it at Hombourg after he had been cleaned out at the gaming table, and sold it for 200 france. His pub The committee who have been revising the English version of the lishers have already made £6,000 to £8,000

the only practicable remedy.

which induced Mr. Armilt to produce his Around Our Streets. (From the Toronto Truth.) Ere you see another line of my views of things in print, a new Mayor will be elected Sc. tt. for the "Queen City of the West." and a Testament was initiated by the Convocation of Canterbury, Bishops Ellicott and Thirlwall and Deans Alford and Stanley being its chief justigators. An extraordinary opposition Convocation of York, headed by Archbishop man to rule the City Council for 1881 the wildest cheering by Ald. Close.

MR. M MURRICH let in. Time is good enough to give us at lions of copies of the B.ble are being scatter- I have but little to say, and that little is least Two New-Year's Days-and Old as ed yearly through the world, and that it like the lusiness end of a bec-very much where she had had the dream of her life, and well as a New: or rather a New as well as into whose hands these erroneous books are the had had the dream of her life, and was an absolute sin to mislead the people to the point. This gentleman poses before has been thus lavish of power. The teeming which were held by young ladies, who were put. These arguments were of no avail with | candidate, and why? Because he knows to the Exeter Hall class of religionists, and a dot how many chances a Grit has in Toron. their "boss," Lord Shaftsbury, avowed an to as a Guit pure and simple. Because And I barred out you when I barred out unconquerable hostinty to the notion of he knows that as 1:100:: a Grits Scott lavished his best efforts on a few cen chance against a Tory-even if- that The Convocation of Canterbury, however, Tory is as fossilized as the Onoudaga. but what else? Heaven knows. One bless- was not to be deterred by his lordship's Giant and so poor that he can't stand alone fears, and a working committee was chosen So what does this charmingly ingenuous with power to appoint the members of the Ward politician of the Grit persuasion do? Revising Committe, who were to be "emi-He comes out as an Independent nent for scholarship, no matter to whatever sooth never dreaming of carrying his own nation or religious body they might belong." party vote straight. Oh, no. He we The men selected were Dr. Augus, Arch- never be guilty of such a wicked thought as bishop Trench, Dr. Eadie, Prof. Hort, the that. No more would be dream of carrying Rev. W. G. Humphry, Prof. Kennedy (ot the "loose fish" by denouncing Tory con-Cambridge), Archdescon Lee, Dr. Lightfoot | ventions and party candidature, or would be Bishop of Durham), Prot. Milligan, think that the said loose fish held the bal-Moulton, Dr. J. H. Newman (now ance of power between the parties! I Cardinai), Prof. Newth, Dr. A. Roperts, should say not. But these are tick tax, mean tactics, and I suppose that in the dirty Rochestor), Lr. Scrivener, Dr. Tregelles, Dr. J. C. Vaughan (now Dean of Liandaff), "scores one" for you and pu's a nail in the and Prof. Westcott. A little later some other man's political ceffin. The third in additions were made to the number, includ- the field is ing Bishop Wordsworth (of St. Andrew's). MR. JAMES BRITTON. Dr. D. Brown of the Free Caurch College Aberdeen, and Dean Merivale. Churchman and Dissenter, Prelatist and Presbyterian Inderdent and Methodist, B.p.ist an Pedobaptist, the Auglican, the Lutheran and the Reformed, they who emphasize di vine sovereignty and they who put the purality as well as unity, appear alike if lists of the men employed. Cardinal Newman declined to assist, an death and other causes brought down the average attendance during the ten years sixteen. The proceedings of this committee have been kept as secret as possible, but ink-

he would make.

THE ALDERMANIC

NEW YEAR'S DAY

occasions and with their bewitching smiles,

take a drink. Bat girls, don's do it. Banish

DO YOU FEEL ABOUT IT?

broad, and it is whispered that the verse is founded the inea of the good old-fash, one fire-and-brimstone hell, are to be omitted as spurious, and that the last twelv verses os the same gospel are also to be om John A. and the Conservative party, but mitted or materially aitered. he is too liberal a man, not only in politics Probably the alteration that will cause least regard for creed. That a good work is very bad. will at once give new life to think, however, that it will be very unfair to encourage the devil in his depredations on torment his captives.

THE FAMOUS MIDDLE PARK STUD.

founded by Mr. Blenkiron, is now cispersgive up their business. When Mr. Blenplace, at which 105 yearings brought about | Aidermen offering, and among them are some | ware of imitations. $111.000; 129 mares and foals and 70 mares | who ought to go in with "whooping" without toals brought about $340,000, and | majorities, among them 12 sires were disposed or for about $175,000. The first day of the present sale showed Hope, France, Germany, Spain, and Denmark being represented. Oue of the mares put up was the dam of the unfortunate Blue Gown-Bas Bleu, by Stockwell out of

Some of the Euglish sportsmen have been to see him. I feel that I am breaking down that weight of hares left on the estate ; the | So Christmas is gone and year revived, and everybody announces his been sent to grass by a foul. She reached look beautiful as they always do on such Eniuburgh and his party Lagged 2,700 head To the great delight of Paris, Victorien Sardou has given up his attempts to convert the stage into a lecture platform, and gone back to the composition of comedies.

which he wrote in collaboration with M. Najac, has been welcomed with an effusion that must more than make amends for the dismal failure of "Daniel Rochat," play is genuinely witty, intensely amusing and altogether free from even a suspicion the didactic vein in which Sardou has con ceived most of his later pieces Another new play has not been so fortn. " LES BRAVES GENS."

are sketched with a good deal of distinct. No my dear, don't do it, you if you put your foot down on it and to give him every chance. To learn the ex- table. Who is she? But what an quisite art of fencing of this great master parson I have become, preaching away on We, blind olded, shall cho costs fifty france a lesson, and the fee for the temperance question. Did I hear you say and fire." George Eliot.

> literature, but "Evelina" and "Pride and Chant. broad and masterly canvas of "Middle- godmother the Countess de St. Leon. march." George Eliot is not only recegnized universally as the first among female

A BOVELIST.

ters of English fiction, and is held by many to be the peer of Thackeray and even of new Council likewise. With regard to the Geor e Eliot that her genius was essentially mayoralty I have a few words to offer. In masculine, and it is said that her first publisher, to whom she was personally unknown of my heart for two or three very good rea- firmly believed that the "Scenes of Clerical I don't like his connection with the Life" was written by a man. In the attr oodside property at all-no more than I bute of strength George Elict's novels may ike his evidence before the Railway Com- be loosely said to be masculine, though this mi sion. In the second place, he is guilty of implies, and without sufficient reason, that an attempt to bull-dez; the Conservative strength is exclusively a characteristic of electors of Toronto, by first getting up a masculine genius. Unquestionably she had convention for the purpose of openly intro- this quality. She was not confined, as are ducing party p. litics into our 'municipal many novelists, men as well as women, to a elections, and in the second place manipula- canvas large though only for three or four ting the Ward "bosses" and wire pullers, figures, and her creative power was not exin such a way as to give himself the nomina. hausted in drawing those. In her more imtion. If he is elected the case will stand portant works she introduced us to a grand thus :- Nomination for Mayor. Ald. Close | sallery of portraits, every one of which had nominated by-Ald. Close - seconded by its own and striking merits. In "Middle-Ald. Close-A convention consisting of Ald. march," which in some respects is her any one of whom is a distinct creation, Ald. Close, Carried unanimously, amidst and all of whom are painted with a power and fidelity which only a master of fiction could display. To pass from such a book to even so finished a study as Hawthorne's canvases of Tintoretto with the cabinet work brain of D ckens gave us countless caricatures ; but even in "David Copperfield," the self-sustained life, are very few. Sir Walter tral figures in each one of his novel . and figures, of little more individuality than be lungs to the "First" and "Second Citizens historical dramas. George Eliot nothing feebly. She gave as much care the supernumeraries as to the leading actors of her novels, and the result is a sustained and uniform strength that sets them apart from all other works conceived on anything There was, however, one characteristic George Eliot which was distinctively masculine. There is no lack of wit and sarcasm among women writers, but George Eliot is the only woman in whose novels we find the purest type of humour. The humour displayed, perhaps consciously, by Mrs. Poyser, and, certainly unconsciously, by the delightful Mr. Brooks, is utterly unlike anything that any other woman writer has given spite of two or three previous defeats, he might have excused a careless critic in mis- intending purchaser or tenant a certificate partizan spirit which is sapping ail the vist visible on every page of her boooks. In especially, sufficient pertinent facts coul from the health of our civic institutions, and nothing was it more evident than in her in- not be obtained to justify such certificates. the city's money on useless water works, Deronda-are distinctively women's men, and outrageous if they were not scientific and whose only dreams are of champagne They are as good and as impossible as the cally accurate. And that it is not possib integrity as a private individual is well genius is typically feminine. While George majority of cases. Sauitary inquiry was to be done has always been enough for An editor who was told that his las him, no matter whether the hungry one was article was as clear as mud, said : "Well Catholic or Protestant. He is not a brilli- that covers the ground, anyhow." ant speaker, but Le is a good business man.

CHAFF.

"I'm a man of few words," said Prender and Toronto has had far worse Mayors than gast. "True enough," replied Fogg, "true enough; but you never tire of repeating nominations have given the best exhibit of Jones thinks a man is fortune who has his sicians would agree on the subject. the right class of men we have had will contested after death only. He says his out for some years, and if the people will has been contested ever since be married American Public Health Association, Dr. J. accompanied by his secretary, and wall operations required upon the mou ed, the founder's sons having determined to he useless ones (and I could name them if A Hamilton man with an ingrowing nail, would, but wouldn't) I for one will be chopped his toe off. This remedy never would have the health officer of a place kiron ded nine years ago, a grand sale took awfully disgust d. There are some ex- tails. For sale at all hardware stores. Be-

A Dutchman says that his neighbours are te verst neighbours peeple dot never vas Mice little Ligs und mine hens come home the brewer, who in the council is the right mit dere cars split, und toder day two of those who are very subject to "labial ex. A little girl, a few days since, addressing deal, but when he was there before he | rov- papa was reading about to-day?" To which ed himself to be a great worker, both in the latter replied, "'Twas a great pile nothing, and no piace to put it iu." An Irishman who was near-sighted, and might have a decided effect on the value Vexation—but, on account of her great age, will be a great loss to the community ment. who was about to fight a duel, insisted that the property. she did not find a purchaser. The highest ally speaking, in his mind; no more will that he should stand six paces nearer his antagotricities was a morbid antipathy to the sound down the power of the Mamelukes. The price, $7,500; was paid by Mr. Malapert, a massive intellect make itself felt within nist than the other did to him, and they theory, would involve so much minute de-

> Thormanby, and Plenipotentiary—and she used to signal a friend, that the min with will only last leng enough to be carried to the people. Moreover, the number of the dog has arrived and is out side waiting home, will supply a long-felt want. A public appeal has lately been made for as I think over it, and reader I have cause donations and subscription in aid of the for my regrets, I never loved him as I ought "Destitute Children's Dinner Society." diseases of which they die, and an evil to have, and now he is retiring from the Here, certainly, is an innocent and praisecouncil, I feel that we "may never look worthy dine a mite plot, which all may safely conspire to help and encourage. A base-ball boy tripped, fell, and tore his > > into a combined walking coffee-pot and cake strike, Lowling for the old man to act as basket. The young lauies will of course referee. An argument once arose in which Sidney will be almost enough to tempt a hermit to men of the world had been diminutive in Smith observed how many of the most eminent wine from your tables entirely, for all young ancients, he added: "Why, look there at men are not strong, all young men are not Jeffrey; and there is my little friend sensible, and above all most young men in who has not body enough to cover his mind 000 guilders (about $10,000) for the discov. for the most part, who make a hobby of all I know about it." you have ory of that north west passage which Prof.

Nurdenskjoid has at last, in our day, accomfully fledged science against which there

pondent to the Cologne Gasette, a Supress pondent to the Cologne home to you, with unsteady step and flushed face? And mind you, my dear, this may be entirely accidental on h.s part. I have known a good many young fellows to get under the weather, without having had even though he drawmed of the possibility of the crotchets of these fanatics; but such a constitute as his is libely to the control of the constitute as his is libely to the control of the constitute as his is libely to the control of the constitute as his is libely to the control of the constitute as his is libely to the control of the constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of constitute as his is libely to the control of contr the slightest intention of taking more than they should have. You would feel awfully such compensation when he started on his ground by them.

you give some other girl's lover or brother a YOUR FIRST GLASS STARTED RIM, AND HOW

An Ancient Belle. AMONG THE DIGNITARIES OF THE COURT teenth contary, says the New Orleans Pices Of his montal habits and the which two youthful payers Wate engaged wards one of his Colonch stood an elderly, hauds me man, a marquis the officer had taken his rel of France, Ava e rtain stage of the game a Car ordered a review, and pistols; one shall be loaded, the other empty.

The pistols were sent for, the fateful ure of the Emperor. He had composite made, and the loaded weapon fell to her good news of her son, who to the lot of the aoble. That day the lifeless and had been ill. He was not body of the young gambler was borne from however, of intentional disrespent the dicer's table. Such was the Chevalier but a modified appreciation of a life was not been ill. He was not bee de Savre, a marquis of France, one of the General who was Police-master richest nobles in the Island of San Domingo. Petersburg for a short time, found In those terrible days of the massacre the to his cost. The General was one No one will dispute the rank of George ated blacks. The marquise escaped in distinct butt, so his Majesty was plant best work of George Eliot. Years ago it young girl. At that time there were many felt mortified at the laugh raise was the fashion to speak of George Eliot as French officers in America. One of them, him, and determined to be revene the worthy rival of Georges Sand, but time Col. David, became enamored of the beautihas modified the estimation in which the ful young creole, married her and took her announced to his imperial master clever and audacions Frenchwoman was to France, where he introduced her at the the theatre, that the Wilter Pales once held, and though the charm of her court of Josephine. Of this union were born fire. The Czar rose hastily to style can never be underrated, it is evident two daughters, Cocelia Agues Gertrude conflagration, and on finding that the that her reputation as a novelist I as greatly David and Marie Pauline. The first was master had presumed to retalist declined during the past twenty years, and born at Tours in 1804, and christened in the august self, sent him to reflect on his no cool critic would now think of comparing great cathedral of that city. Her god- cretton in Siberia. Finally, he the the cruce colouring of "Indiana" with the father was the Baron de Vaublau, and her faithful husband, but he was fond Gen. David served in the Italian campaign aware of this, and unfortunately to under Napoleon as an adjutant commandant. chievous. Whenever, therefore, and novelists, but she is ranked with the mas- He was a favorite of the Corsican, who, dur- to get rid of an officer who displays ing the Egyptian campaign, presented him she commanded him to dance with be with a magniticent sword. After his death, so sure as she did so he was sent in 1816, Miss David returned to Pulladel- Caucasus. The Czar's personal habit. phis, married a wealthy American and came soldierly and simple. He ate and

A few days ago the writer had the plea- his uniform on a tent bed in his study sure of visiting this lady on Jackson street, only a military clock to cover him in New Orleans. Though 76 years of age, allowed his son, the present Emperor f she looks scarcely 60, and retains still the 000 a month while traveling abroad : traces of that beauty which attracted the Empress spent money so larubly that admiration of all who beheld her in her expenses for one night that the halt. wouth. When asked to describe some of Hanover exceeded £1,600. He iste D the scenes she had witnessed, the lady said: largely, but his personal wants much needs "Yes, I saw Napoleon J. once. I went | cost little indeed." with my father, Gen. David, to the Tuilerwalking in the garden. I was quite a child great man, and to cry, 'Vive l'empereur! When I aid so, he slapped me and said: 'I am not mad with you, but I wish this to four kings up an opponent's sleeve at a

"On another occasion, when I was going Close, comes to the conclusion that the best greatest work, there are a dozen people, to Versailles, I saw Louis XVIII. I was in of the Swiss confederation, shot himself. a nunnery at Versailles, and afterward went on the street at Berne, last evening. to live at Bordeaux. There I saw the daughter of Marie Antoinette, the Duchess of Angouleme, who had just returned to interest in M. de Lesseps's Panama France. All I can rememoer of the scene is scheme, and was one of the first to subse for the stock. "Money placed in it that there was a great crowd, and that the horses were taken from the carciage, which reap fortunes," she tells her friends was pulled by men. The reins were ribbons, corered w.th fleurs de lis.

"One day when I was girl of fifteen, a along the coast in a canoe or small boat beautiful lady came in a carriage to visit my friends believe that he will live ten grandmother, Madame De Breuil, who re cogniz.d the visitors, whom she had not seen for years. It was Madame Jerome Bouaparte. The marquise said : 'I hear that you are married to au Italian Prince.' 'No.' she replied haughtily, 'I am Madame Bonaparte. and I will die Madame Bonaparte. The woman married to my husband is not Lis wite.

I saw Joseph B natarte many times he often came to visit the marquise. often heard my grandmother say he was one of the most unassuming men she ever met, and Jerome was just like a boy. It was aifficult for him to become dignified when Sanitary Reform.

The London Society of Arts recently dis cussed the feasibilty of keeping a sanitary Britons never shall be slaves," and Mr. us. This is one trait of George Eliot which record of every house, so that the Health B. evidently acts on that principle, for in tully justified her masculine name, and Board of a town should be able to give an comes up smiling again, and announces his taking its wearer for a mar. The femininity of its healthworthiness. The debate made determination to str.ke another blow at the of George Eliot was, on the other hand, it apparent that, in the case of old houses is leaving his fellow citizens at the mercy of ability to draw a hero who was at once It is easy to see how greatly they might a band of brigands (metaphorically speak noble and manly and real. Her pet heroes affect the value of property; and therefore her other sisters, were wedded to Duke ble ing), whose only thought is of Equandering -Adam bede and Felix Holt and Daniel they would prove exceedingly mischievous gyle and Leinster, and her eldest sister Lord Blantyre, whose daughter is married lunches at the public expense. Mr. Britton's heroes of Mr. George Macdonald, whose to make them in every case, nor even in the known and his probity as a public man Elliot's women are irresistible—for no paint- certainly not yet reached a stage where it stands untarnished. As the Chairman of er has ever excelled the long list of female can point out with confidence the exact and the Markets' Committee he was the projec- portraits beginning with Dinah and Hetty immediate causes of disease, and fix the tor of the Cattle Market Scheme, which and ending with Gwendoline-her men are blame for them with absolute precision. scheme he carried to a successful termina- unreal just in proportion as she strives to We call it a science, just as we call political tion, with credit to himself, and profit to commend them to our admiration, and her sconomy a science; but strictly, the term is his tellow-citizens. As a party man he has greatest literary failure is that intolerable of course misused. It may become a sci- consisting of a lady companion; a maitre and ing Bridges, furnished on applica-

When municipal authorities assume to geon, a valet de chambre, two running for the letter, or left with G. J. BLYTH. pass judgment on the healthfulners, and men, an enormous mastiff, a Luge ourang-out will be promptly attended to. consequently the value, of the premises ang, two valuable parrots, and several cage 7, 1880. Actors have to face the music-that is, owned by individuals, tuey should be very fuls of singing birds. One favorite member the music of the orchestra-and some of it sure of their facts, and that they have of his household, a Ben al tiger, he had been enough of them to form an opinion on. They compelled to leave behind at Hamburg, can now point out remediable nuisances, and steamboat author ties positively declined palpable defects in san.tary engineering; convey that retainer across the seas. Probut if they undertook to give medical cer- Sulkowski's personal habi s are somewitt tificates as to the comparative healthful- | the common. He rises at 1 P. M., breskin. ness of the different houses throughout a an hour later, and listens to musical se town, they would be certifying to matters | tions, performed by the members of his hous about which they are plainly incompetent hold until 7. From 7 to 8 takes a nap, will to Dr. Cameron, Owen Sound, to form an opinion of value. No dozen phy. is followed by more chamber music until BE AT THE REVERE HOUSE,

But, in his recent address before the jug dined sumptuously, he sallies out on int month, when he will be prepared to per-S. Billings, its President, advocated modifi- about the town until 5, when he return to most satisfactory manner, and upon cation of the plan suggested in London. He his hotel and goes to bed. obtain and keep a brief description of all its houses from a sanitary point of view. This would be mere y a record of facts, to which could have access on the payment of a fee. The Health Board would express no opinion but simply give a sanitary history of the property, its connection with sewers, the it was situated, and other information of that sort. It would be a sanitary supple

Rosette, the cheapest mare, but by no will that musical voice, be raised in ardent There are so many inventions that "can- nicipal government on a large scale. To tail that it would not be feasible in any mu- body can positively save you. I'll tell, it his gevernment and was instructed to be means the lowest priced, was bought for the guided by his own judgment in bring ng the Cane of Good Hope. She boasts three Der- John's. No more will those elequent time." that anybody who shall discover multiplication of sanitary inspectors, and certain indication of its condition as to healthfulness. People may take there the fours, and, and when he had recovered is $1.00 per day. name be given a dwelling which it does not deserve. Property owners would justly cry out against a system of registration which you see how right I was, after all? pat the value of their buildings in peril by man for himself!" and, turning his back of clothes while chasing a stray chicken in a which are not yet firmly established. which are not yet firmly established. man for himself!" and, turning his back of the origin of disease his infuriated companion, cooly walked sway.

munities. It has already demonstrated its value both here and abroad, for its tendency is obviously in the right direction—that of dants of Lord Granville's grandf. her. edly helped essentially to bring about the increase in the average of life which this cen- day school teacher of a boy in class in tury is showing ; and it is not too much to Sunday. "A shirt with a button expect that it will in the future obtain a ma'am," replied the boy, "Exp the presence of a pretty girl, (like yourself for decently with; his intellect is improperly exnow baffle its efforts to discover and remove "Well, I heard my pa say to my ms the now baffle its efforts to discover and remove "Well, I heard my pa say to my ms the In 1611 Holland effered a reward of 25,. ber of men, laymen rather than physicians, a back button off, 'Well, this is hell.' That's their causes. But there is a growing num- other morning, when he put on a shirt with

There is, however, a sensible effort now Dolgorouki will be proclaimed as a leg-A Sr. Louis young man promised his making to effect in part the end he would marriage, without her becoming, howevel, g ass of wine at noon. Suppose it is his sweetheart a scalekin sacque as a Christmas attain. It is to secure the passage of a law Empress. She is to receive the title of first, and before night he has get into a present, but had no money to buy it. In by the Legislature requiring that when Duchess of Rolstein-Gottorp, and her chill the that ditemms he slipped into a dark alley, specifications for building are filed, there

The Oper M NEW ORLEANS LADY WHO WAS REARED SOME PERSONAL PECULIARISM E. C. Grenville Murray 1

aber of lines to be reckoned by ecupied measured by a scale of a scale of the coupied measured by a scale of the coupied

SSIONAL & BUSINESS DIRECTORY. wife and very jealous. Her Majesta

DR. PURDY, Legal. at Law, - Owen Sound -Millers's building, over Roll Frost & Frost.

EMINENT POLKS

Ex-QUEEN Isabella of Spain takes at

GEN. GARIBALDI'S health has been entire

American people for her sterling quality towards he r for a breech of convention !

Family outside of the lamenter Alice bus we can't bear to see so nice a famile man Chancellor was only plain Otto von Bist

which his companion, a stout, heavy man struggling to extricate himself, the gent

marck approach him very slowly and cautio

some stray enipe, pit ously appealed to his!

but in his moute !" " My dear friend," "

isters are descendants or husbands of description

"WHAT is hell?" asked a Lut: sran

so far as Russian circumstances permit transferring the cares of business to his son.

n search of more game.

Buffalo Paper.

He frequently visits the ville

J. W. FROST, LL. ames Masson, Among the royal people Forkes me ter in Chancery, Owen Sonna

James Lamon. neery, Notary Public, &c. loaned at lowest rates on 1 estate. Lands bought and d seller introduced free of com

TERS. AND ATTORNEY

Owen Sound, have resumed

Office open every Thursday, as d of the year. No painued until all arrearages are held responsible for the successible for the s

under, first macr. ion . .

bs quent insertion

ten lines, first insertion . .

ubsequent insertion

ines, first insertion per line

rier. Advertisements

tier. Advertisements

ctions will be published till forections will be published till forents must be in the offi e of pubents must be in the offi e of pubents must be in the offi e of pubents must be publication.

Proprietor

The Best REN

70,000 AGES

Thus Syrup P

It stimulates t

which converts

food into glucos

stomach. If th

ately offer entir

It note upon th

t Regulates t

It Porifies the

It Quiets the

t Promotes D

L Nourishes.

It carries off t

It opens the p

Healthy Perspit

tention to direction

PRICE OF SMAZ

Read the VOL

of Persons who

Dear Sir-

doctors' hand

eight years,

that I have I

After using

W. RUTLEDGE, Proprietor.

Medical.

DUNDALK. nancers & Land Agents.

Wm. Brown, Ir Queen Victoria only knew the bell has caused herself to be regarded Money to Lend on Real Estate

W. L. Smith, GNERAL AGENT AND DEABER IN brains, a good heart, spirit and pluk I Hersey Stock, Williamsford Station.

the Queen only makes herself ridiculos #17, 1890, treating berself as it she was still but about Alexander Brown, ER of Marriage Licenses, Fire and Insurance Agent. Commissioner split up without saying a friendly we. B. &c. Conveyancer and Licensed coneer for the County of Grey. Farmers

THE Duchess of Westminster, whose wants, and Land Sales, Punctually at is announced by cable, but who was not and charges made very moderate. It the cable states, Mistress of the Robes ceville, Sept. 17, 1880. Duchess of bedford is Mistress of the Robwas the youngest daughter of the late George Corbet, Jr., tinguished Duchess of Sutherland, whanD. LOAN AND GENERAL AGENT name is hell in such honored rememara Sound. Money to Loan at low by many Americans, and inherited all interest. Principal payable at the beauty, grac ousness of manner, and kinds term of years, and interest half year of heart. She has teen for some year wearly, or principal and interest repay leader of Longon fashion, as far as such an instalments, tentate is recognized of late years. Two thaumber of desirable Improved Farr Mr. Gladstone's eldest son. Her last robb MINION AND PROVINCIAL LAN appearance was at Epsom, when her he burveyor, Draughtsman and Valuator band s horse, Bend Or, won the Derby. and Markdale. Having purchased Land Surveyor Charles Rankin's ONE of the wealthiest and most eccent cock of original Field Notes, Plans, noblemen in Europe. Prince Joseph Sull Instructions, &c., of all his Surveys entire owski Duke of Bielitz, recently arrived thin the last fifty-five years, I am Copenhagen on his way to Norway, where to make Surveys in strict accordproposes to spend the winter in bear hun in the rewith. Profiles and Estimates chapelle, a reader, a se retary, a body se money to Loan at 8 per cent interest. Dentistry.

o'clock A. M., his regular dinner hour. Her Markdale, on the last Wednesday in

Dykes; he went out one day snipe shoot ANSIONHOUSE

ly, apparently looking out for the risingly the best of liquors and cigars kept. he had sunk so deeply that its stime was ines and Liquors and the best your valuable med to and from all trains.

sooms, &c. The Bar and larder ed with the best the market af-

THOS. ATKINSON, Proprietor

lence-Queen Stre Markdale, Sept.

PEAR SIK :

only a short time ed, and now my l

TRES DYSPE

DEAR SIE:-Dyspepsia for Stabling and attentive Hostler's. trial " Sole General A

> Healing Syrup, an is well known as Blood Purifier thro

Plain & Ornat Estimates for sto plication. Satisfac