

All persons who have an orchard should go over it carefully now, cutting all twigs of which have the eggs of the tent-caterpillars deposited on them.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune travelling in Texas writes: In some large districts of the State, through the soil is good quality, it is so scarce that it is almost impossible to find a single bush of the strawberry.

The following is from a writer in the London Garden: "In Covent Garden I heard a very good second (Canadian) apple, and was surprised to learn they were beating the American produce out of the field.

An additional inducement to see that trees are maintained in free-growing health exists in the fact, brought prominently forward at a Massachusetts farmers' meeting, that the fruit from diseased trees will not keep.

A NOTE OF WARNING.—The present winter has been remarkably adapted to the welfare of insects. Life, and it will not be strange if our common insect pests should be more than usually abundant during the coming summer.

A BURIED CITY IN ALGERIA.—French newspapers report the discovery in Algeria, by the archaeologist M. Tarry, of a city which had been entombed in the sand.

A Kentucky preacher rose to speak, and opened the Bible. The first verse that met his eyes happened to be, "The voice of the turtle shall be heard in the land."

A family table ought to be bright and cheerful, a sort of domestic altar, where every one casts down his or her offering, great or small, pleasant or pensive; where, for at least a brief space in the day, all annoyances are laid aside, all stormy tempers hushed, all general hostility every one being glad and content to sit down at the same board and the same bread and salt, making it, whether it were a repast or a dinner of herbs, equally a joyful, almost a sacramental meal.

The summary by Mrs. M. is generally well pronounced, and is a good illustration of the general principle of the story told of a parrot who was present on board ship during very bad weather, when the sailors had to look in a circle to pray for deliverance.

Winnipeg Times: "Wheat at Pembina, Dakota, is 73 cents; at West Lynn, Manitoba, it is 90 cents; but the international boundary line is between them. So that farmers north of the 49th parallel are in a far better position than their neighbors to the south, not only as regards prices but also in respect to the much larger average production per acre of Manitoba lands.

Does a man ever go into a grocery store and say, 'I'll give you five cents a pound for sugar, and I expect to be treated with respect? Not at all. He asks the price of sugar and pays what is asked or goes without.
