Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR. It is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are and strength, and renders it pliable. The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the that thou hast against fire, forhumors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or

THE TEN

Commandments. Insurance I. Thou shalt insure thy real and personal estate and all Thy happiness shall equal thy wisdom.

Defending thyself from misfortune until old age;

2. Thou shalt not insure more than thou dost possess, for nsurance is a business wherein thou canst not make money. This is simply thy duty in order to preserve what thou hast

3. Thou shalt not insure less than thou lost possess—for what thou dost not insure, will not be paid in case of loss. Though poverty is not a vice To lose all is not a pleasure. 4. Thou shalt not make excessive declarations of value respecting thy property in case of fire; but thou shall state truly that which belongs to thee, that

Preserve that which thou shalt acquire,

Whoso is prudent guardeth his goods.

Lou mayest not have a lawsuit or gain a bad reputation As we make our bed so must we lie. 5. Thou shalt also exhort thy neighbors, thy friends, and thy relations to insure themselves, that they may escape loss, and that poverty through a loss by fire be not laid to thy charge.

That which comes by the flute goes by the drum. 6. Thou shalt not backslide, nor hinder thy neighbor from making all these insurances, for those who are so improvident as not to insure are those who are most visited with losses; no one pities their condition. Those that are beaten pay the fine.

7. Thou shalt not search for evasion to get rid of the expense of insurance, for it is low in proportion to thy position; thou canst put by as much as the value of the bottles of wine thou drinkest, and then wilt then have sufficient for all thy insurance.

The pitcher that goes often to the well must in the end be filled. 8. Thou shalt regard the expense of insurance like the expense of thy meat and drink; and as thou canst not do without these, because thou hast hunger and thisrt thou shalt not more hesitate about instrance, because it will give thee security, repose, consolation, and aid. In thirst and misfortune A pear in reserve is a pleasure. 9. Thou shall be careful when thou insurest that thou selectest & reliable and safe company and that the agent is an honest one, because in so doing in case of a loss thy money shall not have been paid for nought, and if thou lose thy property and not get thy insurance thouwill be poorer than a church rat.

If thou fallest into poverty People will care but little for thet. 10. Theu shalt do all thy insurance with Hebert Davis, the Conveyancer and Land and Insurance Agent at Flesherton, for-
