

DRIFTWOOD.
A miscount a conress?
A base sole is a lum tone.
A perpetual motion—scandal.
Noah sailed in the ark for re-creation.
An evil not calculated to soothe—turnout.
Has great healing properties—the male.
A faint pocket book never won a fair say.
Where the shoe always pinches—the foot.
A very expensive young lady—Em Broilery.
Bonds that are had to redeem—Vagabonda.
Motto for hair dressers: "Cut and comb again."
How does a stove feel when it is full? Grateful.
When is coffee like the carter? When it is ground.
Tramp's motto—"A little earning is a dangerous thing."
It is carious that a pig must be killed before he can be cured.

THE QUESTION SETTLED.
There's no use in arguing the question of the potency of some substances for special service in emergencies. They will do all they promise, and more, if judiciously used. The following from Mr. P. Murphy, of No. 1 Fire Station, Ottawa, bears upon the point stated above. Mr. Murphy says: I had occasion to use St. Jacob's Oil recently, and must say that it is the best Liniment I ever saw used. I caught cold from getting wet at a fire, and it settled in my shoulder and down my back to my hip. I suffered a great deal from the pain. I was advised to try St. Jacob's Oil. I did so, and after the fourth application I was entirely free from pain. I cannot speak too highly of it, and advise others to use it.

SUSPICIOUS SYMPTOMS.
A minister who was perhaps not too careful in his selection of his friends to take the teetotal pledge. His health appeared to suffer, and his doctor told him to take one glass of punch daily.
"Oh!" said he, "I dare not. Peggy, my housekeeper would tell the whole parish."
"When do you shave?" the doctor asked.
"In the morning,"
"Then," said the doctor, "shave at night, and when Peggy brings up your hot water, you can take your glass of punch just going to bed."
The minister afterwards appeared to improve in health and spirits. The doctor met Peggy soon after and said: "I'm glad to hear, Peggy, that your master is better."
"Indeed, sir, he's better, but his brain's affected; there's something wrong with his mind."
"How?"
"Why, doctor, he used to shave at night before going to bed, but now he shaves in the morning, he shaves before dinner, he shaves after dinner, he shaves at night—he's a shaver!"

OUR EXPERIENCE FROM MANY.—I had a neck and shoulder so long and sore that I could not do my work, and I had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely discouraged and despairing. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and marveled, but when I told them what had helped me, they said "Hop Bitters for Hop Bitters" long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy.—The Mother.—Home Journal.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.
Most people are aware of the famous advice given by the thrifty laird of Ballyshannon, who is reputed to be the richest man in his county. "Plant trees, Jack—they'll grow when you're sleeping!"
The same may be modernized into—"insert advertisements, you men of business—they will work while you are sleeping." They will not in a thousand ways—they will go where you can't go—they will say a good word for you in places you least suspected.

What phosphates are to soil advertisements are to business.
Moral notification, while indispensable in some cases, is a relic of ancient days, when the his-tickler and bell-man reigned supreme, and is at best but rough and ready compared to the most "wily" catching the public eye along with the pungent "leader," of the latest local news.
In short, the business man who doesn't advertise is like a fellow winking behind spectacles—he may know what he is doing, but nobody else does.

WHAT TO STUDY.
Pope, the poetical philosopher said, "The proper study of mankind is man, and yet, how little is the real science of man studied, if people understood and heeded the laws of health, and if when out of sorts would resort to a common sense like Burdock Blood Bitters, many of the "ills that flesh is heir to" might be effectually remedied. It investigates and regulates all the secretions to a healthy action.

GOOD MANNERS.
Mrs. D. H. Tjhill, a lady who wrote several charming books for the young women, once said in speaking of good manners, "That 'Human nature' resented the imperative mood." Think of this, girls. If you ask a child to wait on you, say "please." Be polite to servants and inferiors. Be courteous even to the cat. Why push her roughly aside, or invite her claws? If kind, generous, and gentle, you need never have a quarrel with anybody who enjoys you. A great deal depends upon the girls—like sisters, the daughters.

A RELIABLE FACT.
It is an established fact that Hagyard's Pectoral Balm is the best cure for coughs, colds, croup, asthma, croup, bronchitis, and all troubles arising from neglected colds. Price 25 cents.

HAGYARD'S YELLOW OIL.
Will be found invaluable for all purposes of a family medicine. Immediate relief will follow its use. It relieves pain, cures chilblains, frost bites, scalds, burns, corns, rheumatism, neuralgia, &c. For internal use it is none the less wonderful. One or two doses frequently cure sore throat. It will cure croup in a few minutes. A few bottles has often cured asthma. Cough has been cured by a teaspoonful dose. It cures with the utmost rapidity. It is really a wonderful medicine.
BEWARE OF THEM.—Shoddy peddlars are now travelling through the country swindling the farmers. The peddlars offer one or two articles cheap, and then change big prices for worthless goods. A farmer will save his pocket by refusing to look at the wares of these only-tongued agents. If you can not get rid of them any other way set the dog on them.—Echo.
